It took the vision of Boston native Robert Kraft, not to mention his investment of over $325 million, to give the Patriots and their fans the type of world-class football and entertainment facility New England deserves. The opening of CMGI Field in 2002 was not only the culmination of a 14-year quest that began in 1988, it also signified the dawning of a new era in the history of the franchise. Since 1960, when the Patriots began play in Boston, stadium uncertainty had always clouded the horizons for the Patriots and their fans. Finally, after 42 long years, the future has never looked brighter.

The Patriots celebrate 2002 as the NFL's first defending Super Bowl Champion to christen a new state-of-the-art stadium and, as Patriots fans are quickly finding out, CMGI Field is fit for a king.

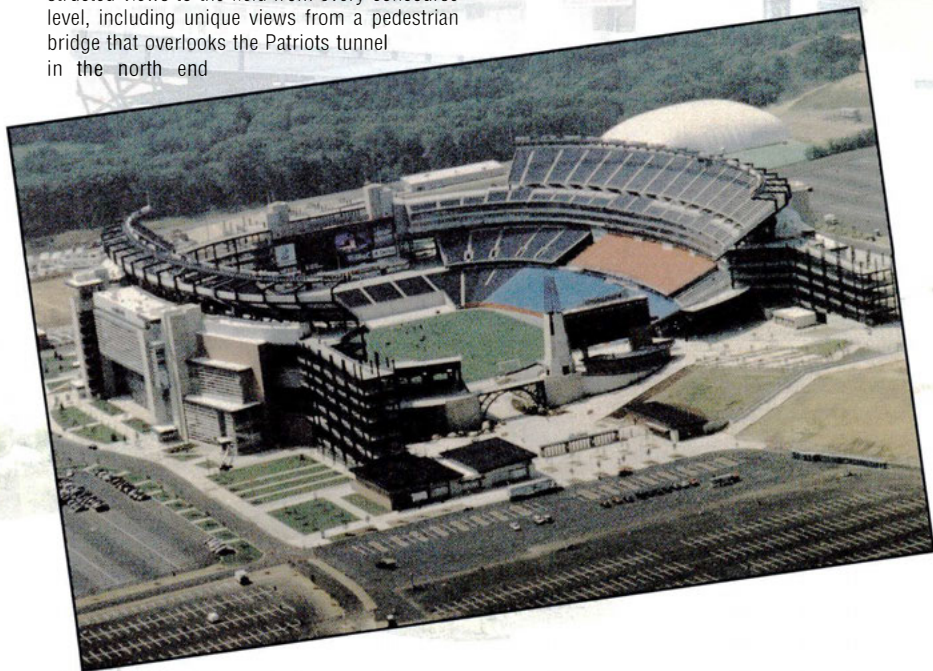

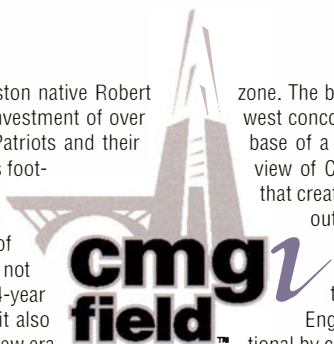

Palatial by comparison to Foxboro Stadium, CMGI Field offers fans three times the space (1.9 million square feet) with all the comforts of today's modern stadiums, including wider concourses, wider aisles and most importantly, wider seats. Designed to be the most fan-friendly of all its contemporaries, CMGI Field boasts unobstructed views to the field from every concourse level, including unique views from a pedestrian bridge that overlooks the Patriots tunnel in the north end zone. The bridge, which connects the east and west concourses on the main level, sits at the base of a lighthouse to create the signature view of CMGI Field. Below it is an opening that creates a field-level view, providing fans outside the stadium an unprecedented glimpse inside. The seafaring theme is designed to represent the coastal heritage of New England. The lighthouse will be functional by casting beams of light into the night sky, serving as a beacon for approaching guests. The Fleet Gate entrance and each concourse level features plazas that will become natural gathering areas for fans to socialize before, during and after games.

As for places to gather, there is no better way to enjoy the game than from the comfort of the Fidelity Investment Clubhouse or from a private luxury suite. Approximately 6,000 Club Members will enjoy having 120,000 square feet of space to move about on game days and enough room to gather up to 2,000 friends on non-event days. With just 80 suites ranging in size from 800 to 1,800 square feet, CMGI Field also boasts the largest, most luxurious suites in the NFL and provides their members with access year-round.

MEDIA ACCESS TO CMGI FIELD

The New England Patriots media relations department would like to welcome all accredited media who are assigned to cover the team this year. All arriving media should enter Gate P1 off Route 1 in Foxborough. Please park in the Thunderbird Lot, located on the Route 1 side of the Patriots Pro Shop near the Fleet Gate entrance. All media will be required to show photo identification for access to the media work room, located through the Fleet Gate and under the concourse bridge in the north end zone (second door on the left under the bridge). Visiting media who are not regularly assigned to covering the team should notify the Patriots media relations department in advance of arrival to make arrangements for a visitors pass. Driving directions to CMGI Field from the two nearest airports are located below:

From downtown Boston/Logan Airport:

Follow signs through the Sumner Tunnel (toll) to I-93 South. Take I-93 South/Rte. 128 to Exit 1 (to Providence) approximately 18 miles. Exit 1 puts you on I-95 South. Follow I-95 South for 7.4 miles to Exit 9 (Wrentham), which exits onto Route 1 South. Continue on Route 1 South for four miles. CMGI Field is on the left. Enter lot P1.

From downtown Providence/T.F. Green Airport:

Exit T.F. Green airport following signs to I-95 North. Take I-95 North 26 miles to I-495 North (Exit 6B off I-95). Take I-495 North 2.6 miles to Route 1 North (Exit 14). Take Route 1 North 4.4 miles. CMGI Field is on the right. Enter Gate P1.

EXECUTIVE BIOS

"My objective in buying the Patriots is to help bring a championship to New England." — Robert Kraft, Jan. 21, 1994

On Feb. 3, 2002, just over eight years after Robert Kraft pledged to bring a championship to New England, he stood atop a platform on the field of the Superdome, raising New England's first Lombardi Trophy. The Patriots had just claimed a 20-17 victory over the St. Louis Rams on a last-second field goal in Super Bowl XXXVI, staking claim to one of the greatest games in Super Bowl history. While red, white and blue confetti showered the field, Kraft eloquently delivered a celebratory speech that concluded, "We are all Patriots ... and tonight, the Patriots are world champions!" It was a memorable ending to an unforgettable season, capping one of the most dramatic playoff runs in NFL history. With the victory, Patriots fans celebrated their first championship title in 42 years. While the 2001 season will always be remembered for its exciting conclusion, Kraft and the entire Patriots organization have turned their focus and energy to ensure that Super Bowl XXXVI is remembered as a franchise commencement rather than its culmination. With the off-season move from Foxboro Stadium into the modern facilities of CMGI Field, it really is the beginning of a new era for the New England Patriots and their fans. It is the first time in NFL history that the defending World Champions christened a new facility the following year.

In just his eighth season of ownership, Kraft not only brought New England its first Super Bowl title, but more importantly, he also brought long-needed stability to the franchise. As a 31-year season ticket holder and a 14-year stadium operator, Kraft was uniquely qualified to help make the privately-financed CMGI Field the most fan-friendly, state-of-the-art football facility of its kind. His $325 million private investment, the largest ever made by a sports owner, will allow future generations of Patriots fans to celebrate many more championship seasons.

Kraft, who is now in his ninth season as owner of the Patriots, has become one of the NFL's most influential and respected owners. It took just four seasons before Kraft was appointed the chairman of the league's finance committee in 1998. He also played a leading role as a member of the television and broadcast committee that negotiated the most lucrative broadcast contract in the history of sports. Most recently, he was instrumental in putting together a deal that made New England headquartered Reebok International, Ltd. the official and exclusive apparel manufacturer for the NFL, helping to create a new model for the sports license apparel industry. In addition to the broadcast and finance committees, he also serves on the NFL business ventures committee. While Kraft's goals for bringing a championship to New England were realized in his eighth season as owner of the team, his pursuit toward that goal really began in 1988 when he purchased Foxboro Stadium out of bankruptcy court. With a binding lease through 2001, the acquisition proved to be an invaluable asset.

In January of 1994, that asset proved to be one of the determining factors in Kraft's ability to keep the team from moving out of New England unconditionally. As a Patriots fan since the team's early AFL days in Boston and a season ticket holder since 1971, Kraft faced a difficult business decision. He could commit nearly $200 million of family resources to purchase the Patriots, or accept a $75 million buyout offer to void the final years of the team's stadium lease and allow the team to move out of New England.

On Jan. 21, 1994, Kraft passed on the buyout offer, choosing instead to make an 11th-hour bid to buy the team by offering the highest purchase price in the history of the NFL. The sale met league approval on Feb. 25, 1994. The following day, season tickets for the 1994 season went on sale and Patriots fans showed their support of Kraft's decision in record numbers. By the end of that first business day, amidst a winter nor'easter, 5,958 season ticket orders had been made, shattering the previous single-day sales record of 979. That show of support validated Kraft's decision to buy the team and gave him the confidence to focus on another long-term project: the construction of a state-of-the-art football facility.

Kraft first became a fan of the Boston Patriots in their AFL days during the early 1960s. He attended games at each of the team's Boston venues, which included Boston University Field, Fenway Park, B.C. Alumni Stadium and Harvard Stadium. When the team moved to Foxborough, he invested in season tickets for his family. It is the memories and experiences shared with other Patriots fans over the last 42 years that gives Kraft such satisfaction in building a new stadium that the players and fans will be proud to call home.

In 1994, Kraft inherited a team whose payroll in 1993 was the lowest in the NFL. Upon taking ownership, Kraft immediately provided the financial resources needed to build a championship-contending team. As a result, the Patriots fielded four playoff teams in Kraft's first five seasons of ownership and won two division titles and a conference title. His personal investment in the team restored the faith of Patriots fans and rejuvenated interest throughout New England. In 1994, season ticket sales soared to new heights, eclipsing 40,000 for the first time in franchise history. By the start of his first season, every game was sold out, a feat that had not been accomplished in the franchise's previous 34 seasons. That meant that the local broadcast blackouts would be lifted and every Patriots game, home and away, would be televised throughout New England for the first time in team history.

In his first year of ownership, Patriots fans were rewarded with a dramatic playoff race when the team put together a season-ending, seven-game win streak that propelled them into the playoffs for the first time in eight years. In just one year, the Patriots had taken a quantum leap.

In 1996, the Patriots won their first division title in 10 years and hosted just their second playoff game in franchise history, scoring a resounding 28-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers. The following week, the Patriots hosted the franchise's first conference championship game and advanced to Super Bowl XXXI with a 20-6 victory over Jacksonville.

In 1997, the Patriots repeated as division champions for the first time in franchise history and hosted Miami in the first round of the playoffs. The Patriots improved to 3-0 in home playoff games during Kraft's ownership with a 17-3 victory. A one-point loss in the divisional playoff game at Pittsburgh the following week kept the Patriots from hosting their second consecutive AFC Championship Game and from defending their conference title. In 1998, the Patriots returned to the playoffs for a third consecutive year, another franchise first.

After missing the playoffs in 1999, Kraft sought a new direction for his team and identified Bill Belichick as the person who was best qualified to rebuild the Patriots into a championship-contending team. Kraft met the Jets' asking price of a first-round draft choice in exchange and it proved to be one of the best investments in franchise history. Belichick, who had earned a reputation as one of the premier defensive coaches in football, quickly established himself as one of the best overall strategists in the game. After leading the Patriots to not only a division title, but to systematically defeat three heavily favored playoff opponents en route to the franchise's first Super Bowl title, brought Belichick worldwide adulation for completing one of the greatest coaching efforts of all-time.

Since winning the Super Bowl, Kraft has seen the popularity and support for the Patriots grow to unprecedented levels, both locally and nationally. Once again, every Patriots game sold out prior to the start of the season. By the end of the 2002 regular season, the Patriots will have extended their consecutive sellout streak to 92 games, including preseason and postseason games. For purposes of comparison, consider that the Patriots have approximately 50,000 fans on their season ticket waiting list, nearing twice the number of season ticket holders (28,954) in 1993.

A native of Brookline, Mass., Kraft attended local public schools before entering Columbia University on an academic scholarship. Upon graduation, he received a fellowship to attend the Harvard School of Business, where he earned a master's degree in business administration.

Prior to 1994, the Patriots qualified for the playoffs just five times during their first 24 years in the NFL (1970-93). In the eight seasons since Robert Kraft has taken ownership, the Patriots have equaled that total (5), having won three division titles, two conference titles and one Super Bowl Championship. A Kraft era comparison is listed below:

	1970-93	1994-01

Kraft began his business career with the Rand-Whitney Group, Inc. of Worcester, Mass., a company he later acquired. In 1972, he founded International Forest Products, a trader of paper commodities that now does business in over 80 countries around the world. Together, Rand-Whitney and International Forest Products comprise one of the largest privately owned paper and packaging companies in the United States. In 1998, he founded the Kraft Group to serve as the holding company for the family's varied business interests, whose holdings include the Rand-Whitney Group, Rand-Whitney Containerboard, International Forest Products, the New England Revolution and a portfolio of more than 30 private equity investments.

Over the past three decades, the Krafts have been among Boston's most philanthropic families, donating millions of dollars in support of local charities and civic affairs. Robert serves on the Executive Committee of the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and established the Robert K. Kraft Family Blood Donor Center. He also serves on the Board of Overseers of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, is a trustee of his alma mater at Columbia University and serves on the Board of Directors of many other philanthropic institutions.

“We are all Patriots ... and tonight, the Patriots are world champions.”

—Robert Kraft, Feb. 3, 2002

Jonathan A. Kraft celebrates his ninth season with the New England Patriots. As Vice Chairman, he oversees the overall development of each department within the organization and assists in their strategic planning. He also works closely with his father to represent the Patriots in all league matters.

This year, Kraft will be among the hundreds of thousands of Patriots fans who will enjoy watching the defending world champions from the comfort of a world class facility, thanks in large part to the contributions Kraft has made in recent years. In 1994, he played an integral role in the negotiations that led to the family's purchase of the Patriots, saving the team from an inevitable move out of New England. Since then, he has worked tirelessly to fortify the franchise's foundation in New England and led the team's efforts to build a new, privately-financed $325 million stadium that was designed to be the most fan-friendly facility of its kind. On Dec. 6, 1999, the team received final approval to begin construction on the new stadium and broke ground just four months later. It is safe to say that over the past nine years, no one has contributed more time or energy exploring long-term stadium solutions for the Patriots. Now Patriots fans will finally enjoy games in a state-of-the-art facility for generations to come, ending over 40 years of Patriots instability and uncertainty.

Over the last few years, Kraft has worked diligently with stadium designers to create the model for one of the most fan-friendly football facilities ever built and is credited with developing a creative financing plan that allowed the stadium to be built without the need for personal seat licenses to finance the project. The construction project has also drawn praise for its innovative environmental practices, including the "daylighting" of the Neponset River, a new wastewater treatment facility, the recycling of water use and the recycling of on-site resources and materials during construction. In June of 2001, the Kraft Group was presented the Environmental Business Council Corporate Leadership Award by the E.P.A. for the development and construction of CMGI Field.

Also to the benefit of Patriots fans locally, nationally and internationally, Kraft initiated multi-media outlets designed to give Patriots fans unprecedented access to follow their favorite team. In March of 1995, the team's official web site, www.patriots.com debuted. It was the first web site launched by a professional sports team. The site continues to be among the most innovative in introducing new technologies. In 1997, the site launched the first nightly streaming video by a sports team. This year, Patriots Video News will continue to broadcast a nightly Patriots report at 7:00 p.m. ET. The shows are cataloged and are available to view throughout the season. In addition, fans can tune in to watch Patriots Live!, featuring live feeds of every major press conference. In April of 1995, the team began publishing the franchise's first full-color team newspaper, Patriots Football Weekly. It remains the only full-color weekly publication offered by an NFL team and is the first of its kind in professional sports. It appears on newsstands throughout New England and is distributed to Patriots fans internationally. In just seven years, the publication's circulation has grown exponentially and now ranks among the league's top three team newspapers.

In addition to his role with the Patriots, Kraft also plays a leading role in each of the family's other business pursuits as the President and Chief Operating Officer of the Kraft Group. The Kraft Group is the holding company of Rand-Whitney Containerboard, the Rand-Whitney Group, International Forest Products, the New England Revolution and a portfolio of more than 30 private-equity investments.

He helped bring world class events to Foxboro Stadium, including international soccer events and the following major concerts: The Rolling Stones, Aerosmith, Elton John, Billy Joel, Pink Floyd and The Dave Matthews Band. For his efforts, the Greater Boston Convention and Visitors Bureau, Inc. presented Kraft with the "Spirit of Tourism" Award for promoting tourism and economic activity in the Commonwealth.

A Williams College graduate, Kraft received his MBA from the Harvard School of Business. He is on the Board of Directors for several organizations, including the US Soccer Federation, Children's Hospital Trust, and Massachusetts Sports Partnership. He is also on the Board of Trustees for the Belmont Hill School and Park School.

Jonathan and his wife, Patti, have three children.

Andy Wasynczuk, now in his ninth season with the New England Patriots, has been instrumental in building a championship atmosphere for the organization, both on and off the field. As Senior Vice President and COO, he oversees the daily business operations of each department in the organization as well as the team's salary cap.

He is actively involved in all stages of day-to-day decision making, and through his guidance, the organization has evolved into an incredibly productive operation, improving its stature publicly and privately on all fronts. His scope of oversight extends from the very visible marketing strategies, to media and community relations efforts, to stadium and football operations.

Wasynczuk also played a critical role in the construction and planning of CMGI Field through his tireless supervision of every stage of the project. He worked with stadium designer HOK to ensure the majestic, state-of-the-art facility would feature fan amenities unique to CMGI Field. As the organization's primary representative, he also worked with public officials to ensure that all concerns and requirements were addressed appropriately throughout the planning and construction process in order to make the new stadium a reality.

He is committed to making the Patriots organization one of the most effective and efficient operations in all of sports. This year, the organization will celebrate being the NFL's first defending Super Bowl Champion to christen a new, state-of-the-art stadium. After 42 years, the Patriots and their fans will finally enjoy a first-class football stadium designed with fan amenities that will make the facility the most fan-friendly of its kind.

Since the 1993 Collective Bargaining Agreement was approved, salary cap management has become critical to a team's success. Wasynczuk's negotiating savvy, understanding of the CBA and financial prowess helped the Patriots maneuver into position to not only win a Super Bowl Championship, but also to defend it in the future. He works closely with Head Coach Bill Belichick and Personnel Director Scott Pioli to ensure the team's stability and competitiveness. With the assistance of Jack Mula and Richard Miller, Wasynczuk also continues to oversee all contract negotiations.

Prior to joining the Krafts' organization, Wasynczuk was a consultant at Bain and Company in Boston, an internationally recognized consulting firm. At Bain, he developed market strategies and business plans for international corporations in the packaging and financial service industries. In January 1989, he joined Foxboro Stadium Associates as the Chief Operating Officer. Over the last 14 years, his responsibilities in that capacity have included the overall management of the stadium and the long-term development of the stadium complex. During that time, Foxboro Stadium was among the busiest outdoor stadium entertainment venues in the world. As home to the New England Patriots and New England Revolution, the stadium hosted hundreds of sporting events, as well as some of the largest touring concerts in the nation. In 1994, Wasynczuk played an important role in attracting the World Cup to Foxborough.

Wasynczuk earned a bachelor's and a master's degree in electrical engineering from Case Western Reserve University. In 1983, he added a second master's degree in business administration from the Harvard Business School.

He is active in a variety of community activities, including the Board of Directors for the Marketplace Network. He is a frequent guest speaker at local community service organizations and various academic institutions.

Andy and his wife, Rebecca, have three children and reside in Westwood, Mass.

Scott Pioli, an 11-year NFL personnel veteran, joined the Patriots on Feb. 10, 2000 and quickly implemented a common football philosophy shared with Coach Bill Belichick, a model that proved to be successful in rebuilding teams both in Cleveland and with the Jets in New York. Since arriving in New England, Pioli has concentrated his efforts to fortify the team's foundation through the integration of veteran leadership, complemented by the drafting of young talent. His responsibilities include overseeing the college draft and free agency, as well as negotiating many of the Patriots free agent contracts.

Pioli has shown a propensity for finding veteran free agents who can contribute and play important roles in building playoff-contending teams. Since 2000, the Patriots have signed dozens of veteran free agents, including 21 who helped form the nucleus of the Patriots' first Super Bowl Championship team in franchise history. Just last year, the team's class of 17 free agent signees produced two team captains, seven full-time starters, three special teams specialists and two veteran nickel backs. The veteran leadership was critical to the Patriots' success in 2001, as the team completed its worst-to-first turnaround to claim New England's first Super Bowl title.

To understand the impact Pioli and his personnel staff have made, consider the personnel breakdown of the Patriots' Super Bowl team. Of the 53 players on their Super Bowl XXXVI roster, 40 were acquired in his first two years, including 25 new acquisitions in 2001 alone. Twenty-one of those 40 players were veteran free agents and produced 10 of the Super Bowl team's 22 starters. Four other starters, Tom Brady, Greg Robinson-Randall, Richard Seymour and Matt Light, were products of his first two draft classes.

His personnel prosperity has earned him league-wide recognition as one of the best young personnel evaluators in the game, as recognized by the Dallas Morning News' Rick Gosselin, who selected Pioli as the Executive of the Year in 2001.

Pioli began his NFL career when Belichick hired him as the pro personnel assistant of the Cleveland Browns in 1992. In Cleveland, he was responsible for the evaluation of college prospects, veteran free agents and the negotiation of various player contracts. He also coordinated all player tryouts. In 1994, the Browns improved to 11-5, the second-best record in the AFC that year, and defeated the Patriots in a wild-card playoff game.

He was promoted to director of pro personnel after the Cleveland franchise moved to Baltimore in 1996. He spent one season with the Baltimore Ravens, where he oversaw all aspects of pro personnel and negotiated the contracts of free agents and several draft choices.

In 1997, as head coach of the Jets, Belichick hired Pioli as the director of pro personnel. His responsibilities included the department's coordination of free agency, advance scouting of the upcoming opponent, the scouting of prospects at every level of professional football and tracking all personnel player transactions, which he made more efficient through his own implementation of a new player personnel database. The Jets signed a number of veteran free agents who played critical roles in rebuilding the Jets. In just two seasons, the Jets completed a worst-to-first turnaround, rebounding from 1-15 in 1996 to 12-4 in 1998. The 12 wins were the most in franchise history, claiming their first division title since 1968 and propelling the Jets into the playoffs for the first time in eight years.

Pioli played defensive tackle at Central Connecticut State (1983-87), where he was a three-time, Division II All-New England selection. After graduating with a degree in communications, he accepted a two-year graduate assistant position at Syracuse University beginning in 1988.

He accepted a full-time coaching opportunity at Murray State, where he spent one season as the offensive line coach (1990) and one season as the defensive line coach (1991). He left the coaching ranks to join the Browns personnel department in 1992.

Scott Pioli was born on March 31, 1965 in Washingtonville, N.Y. He is an avid baseball fan and was honored when invited by the Cleveland Indians to speak to their team at spring training about the Patriots' recent success. Pioli currently serves on the board of directors for various non-profit foundations and was actively involved with the Bowery Mission, located in the lower east side of Manhattan, while with the Jets. He remains actively involved fund raising for several organizations in his hometown (Washingtonville, N.Y.), and recently established the Rose Pioli Scholarship in the name of his grandmother to benefit children of professional firefighters, police and other emergency medical service providers. He and his wife, Dallas, reside in Wrentham, Mass.

Jim Hausmann

VICE PRESIDENT OF FINANCE

Jim Hausmann originally joined the Patriots on May 17, 1992 when he was named the team's Vice President and Chief Financial Officer. The following year, he was named the Executive Vice President of Business Operations. For the past nine seasons, he has served as the Vice President of Finance, where his primary responsibilities have included overseeing all financial activities involving the organization's football and stadium operations. In 1996, his role was expanded to include the financial operations for Major League Soccer's New England Revolution. Hausmann reports directly to both Robert and Jonathan Kraft on all matters involving the financial aspects of the Patriots, the Revolution and CMGI Field.

Before joining the Patriots, Hausmann was employed as a senior audit manager with the international accounting firm of Deloitte, Haskins & Sells (now Deloitte & Touche). He worked in their St. Louis, Mo. office from 1970-84 and again from 1990-92. He took a brief hiatus from the accounting firm from 1985-89 when he was named the chief financial officer of a regional stock brokerage firm in St. Louis.

Hausmann graduated from Southern Illinois University in 1970 with a bachelor's degree in business administration and accounting. In 1973, he earned his CPA certificate while working at Deloitte.

Jim and his wife, Terri, have three children and reside in Foxborough, Mass.

Lou Imbriano

VICE PRESIDENT OF MARKETING
& SPECIAL EVENTS

Lou Imbriano is the Vice President of Marketing and Special Events and is enjoying his sixth season with the New England Patriots. In his current role, he oversees all aspects of sports marketing and special events for the Patriots and Revolution, as well as the entertainment venue CMGI Field.

He is the principal negotiator for corporate sponsorships, including each of the naming rights sponsorships associated with CMGI Field. He also oversees the marketing, sales and special events staffs that handle the marketing efforts for all of the Kraft family's sports and entertainment ventures. His staff's responsibilities include all sales initiatives, Club Membership sales, marketing programs, advertising, promotions, event planning and implementation, as well as game entertainment. Since he joined the Patriots in 1997, he has expanded the scope and re-defined the role of the Patriots' marketing efforts. He now oversees a marketing department that annually ranks among the highest revenue-generating staffs in all of sports.

Imbriano has implemented a number of successful on-going events for the Patriots, including the creation of the Patriots Experience, an interactive football theme park that is enjoyed by families in the festival area before each Patriots game and during the summer at the team's training camp. He is also credited with the initiation of the Patriots Charitable Foundation Annual Golf Tournament, a tournament that has raised over $1.2 million in the past five years to support charitable causes throughout New England.

Prior to joining the Patriots, he played an integral role in the development of Sports Radio WEEI in Boston. As the marketing director and program coordinator, he was responsible for implementing all marketing campaigns, station promotions, events and programming concepts. While at WEEI, he created the highly acclaimed Sports Jam, a sports interactive fan festival in which all five Boston professional sports teams participated as a joint event.

Imbriano graduated from Boston College in 1987 and began working as a sports producer for WHDH radio in Boston. He produced all of the station's sports talk shows and sports specials, including the broadcasting of the New England Patriots football games. After four years at WHDH, he joined WEEI as the executive producer for Boston's only all-sports radio station. In 1994, he was promoted to station management as the marketing director and program coordinator.

From 1992-96, he co-created "The Phantom Gourmet," a food and dining television program, and served as the executive producer for Tuesday Night Football. His role for these two television programs included the creation of programming content, promotions, marketing and sales of the programs. He also negotiated placement of the shows on television and cable outlets.

Over the years, Imbriano has also played an important role in creating and/or producing the following events: the Dee Brown Slam Dunk Tour, An Evening with Boston Super Stars, WEEI Madness, Jambalaya Crusade, Patriots Kickoff Gala, New England Revolution Soccer Celebration, Team 850 Racing, WEEI Celebrity Golf Tournament, Ciao-Chow Bambino and a multitude of charitable events that have cumulatively raised over $4 million for deserving charities and foundations. He also serves on the advisory board at Children's Hospital.

Lou and his wife, Patricia, have two children, Victoria and Antonio.

On May 1, 2002, Meg Vaillancourt was appointed the Vice President of Corporate and Community Affairs for The Kraft Group, which includes the New England Patriots, the New England Revolution and the family-owned paper and packaging businesses.

Underscoring the Kraft family's strong commitment to philanthropy and community, Vaillancourt is responsible for directing the team's community outreach programs, including player appearances, charitable donations, and managing the work of the New England Patriots Charitable Foundation.

She also oversees state and federal government relations for the Kraft Group and helps coordinate the team's public affairs projects.

Working with the Patriots coaching staff, she will help guide the team's player development programs, including continuing education, financial and career planning and family assistance.

Prior to joining the Patriots, Vaillancourt was a television and print journalist. On staff at The Boston Globe for nearly a decade, she was a State House reporter and Business Section reporter, covering politics, public policy and sports business.

Before joining the Globe, she was an on-air reporter for The Ten O'Clock News on WGBH-TV and served as a contributing reporter for other television and radio programs. She also worked at Frontline, public television's national award-winning series, as an associate producer on a documentary examining the effects of the end of the Cold War on America's defense industry.

She is a graduate of Harvard College and studied politics at Oxford University as a Rhodes Scholar. A native of New Hampshire, Vaillancourt is a resident of the Boston area.

Coaching

Bill Belichick is now in his 28th season in the NFL and has enjoyed tremendous success, having contributed to the staffs of 12 playoff teams, including eight division champions, four conference champions and three Super Bowl champions.

When the Patriots announced his hiring as the franchise's 14th head coach on Jan. 27, 2000, many regarded him as one of the premier defensive strategists in the game. That reputation was earned over a 25-year NFL coaching career that included Super Bowl titles as the defensive architect of the New York Giants in 1986 and 1990 and a conference championship as the assistant head coach and defensive assistant for the Patriots in 1996. When he returned to the Patriots in 2000, he followed a sound architectural plan, fortifying the foundation of the roster with team-oriented free agents who would support his overall team philosophy. After directing the Patriots from a worst-to-first turnaround in 2001 and claiming a Super Bowl title in just his second year as head coach of the Patriots, many are now recognizing Belichick as one of the premier head coaches in the game.

After 29 years of studying NFL game tapes, NFL analyst Ron Jaworski stated emphatically that Belichick's coaching performance was "the best coaching job I have seen in 29 years - period."

After an unspectacular 1-3 start in 2001, the Patriots rebounded to win 10 of their last 12 games to claim the division title for the first time in four years. Belichick's team-themed philosophy proved to bond a team that was forced to overcome adversity early in the season. The evidence came with each season-ending victory, as the Patriots won each of their last six regular season games to propel them into the playoffs. Nowhere was their formula for success more obvious than in the playoffs, where offense, defense and special teams each played critical roles, enabling the Patriots to systematically defeat three favored opponents with victories over the Oakland Raiders, Pittsburgh Steelers and St. Louis Rams. They ended the season with a nine-game win streak, the longest in franchise history, and claimed New England's first Lombardi Trophy. It was the franchise's first championship title of any kind and New England's first football title since the 1928 Providence Steam Roller.

In 2001, the Patriots averaged 23.2 points per game, which was the team's best point production since 1996. Defensively, the team surrendered an average of just 17 points per game, the third lowest average in franchise history and the lowest since the 1977 squad set the franchise record by limiting their opponents to just 15.5 points per game.

In his first two seasons with the Patriots, Belichick acquired 40 new players who contributed to the team's Super Bowl success, including 17 veteran free agent signings in 2001.

During the 2000 season, Belichick started the rebuilding process with the acquisition of 30 new players. That year, the Patriots set a team record by having 13 of their 16 games played decided by eight points or less. Never had so many Patriots games been decided by such a small margin during the course of a season, but the Patriots were only 4-9 in those games. One marked area of improvement was the team's overall reduction in turnovers, dropping from 33 in 1999 to just 25 in 2000 (fourth-best in franchise history).

Now in his 28th season in the NFL, Belichick has earned a reputation for being one of the league's elite

BELICHICK'S SPOTLIGHTS

★ Coach Belichick attended high school at Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass.

★ He played football and lacrosse while attending Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn. and recently returned to accept the prestigious Baldwin Medal during the school's 2002 commencement.

★ As a child, his favorite athletes were Joe Bellino and Roger Staubach.

★ He recorded his first playoff victory as a head coach when the Browns defeated the Patriots 20-13 on New Year's Day 1995.

★ Belichick's defensive game plan from the Giants Super Bowl XXV win over the Buffalo Bills is permanently on display at the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

game strategists whose defensive game plans have consistently been credited for defusing some of the league's most potent offenses. Since 1981, 10 of his teams have qualified for the playoffs, claiming three Super Bowl titles, four conference titles, and six division titles.

He returned to the Patriots as head coach after three seasons with the New York Jets, where his defenses were widely credited for New York's intra-division success against the high-octane offenses of the Patriots, Dolphins, Bills and Colts. He was also credited for successfully defusing the Indianapolis Colts' offensive arsenal, limiting the conference's most prolific offense to an average of just 14.5 points in their two matchups. That year, the Colts averaged over 28 points per game in their other 14 games.

In 1998, the Jets surrendered just 266 points, one point shy of Miami's league-leading 265. The 16.6 points allowed per game was the third lowest season average in Jets history and propelled the team to their first division title with a franchise-best 12-4 overall record. The Jets advanced to the AFC Championship game, but were defeated by the defending Super Bowl Champion Denver Broncos, who went on to repeat as champions.

Following the season, Belichick filled in for Bill Parcells as the head coach of the AFC's squad in the 1999 Pro Bowl. The AFC won the game, a game in which Ty Law was named co-MVP.

Belichick was named head coach of the New York Jets on Feb. 3, 1997, an interim position he held until Parcells was formally announced as head coach a week later. During that week, Belichick hired Scott Pioli as his director of pro personnel. After Parcells was named head coach, Belichick became the assistant head coach/secondary coach responsible for calling the team's defensive signals. In his first season with the Jets, his defense surrendered just 287 points, an average of 17.9 points per game. That marked a significant 10.5-point improvement per game from 1996. The 287 points allowed ranked second in the AFC and sixth overall, and was an essential factor in the Jets rise from 1-15 in 1996 to 9-7 in 1997. In three seasons in New York, his defenses were credited with 90 takeaways, improving each season from 25 in 1997 to 30 in 1998 to 35 in 1999.

Patriots fans witnessed his impact on a team firsthand in 1996 when Belichick joined the Patriots after five seasons as the head coach of the Cleveland Browns. That year, the Patriots claimed their first division title in 10 years with an 11-5 record and won their first two playoff games at Foxboro Stadium en route to Super Bowl XXXI. Characteristically, Belichick's defensive influence was widely credited for the team's overall success down the stretch and through the playoffs. That year, the Patriots defense was among the stingiest units in the league, allowing just 19.6 points per game, and forcing 34 turnovers - second in the AFC. The defense was at its best in the "red zone," finishing second in the AFC by allowing touchdowns just 42.3 percent of the time. In two playoff games, the defense allowed just nine combined points, propelling the Patriots to victories over Pittsburgh (28-3) and Jacksonville (20-6). Their victory over Jacksonville gave the Patriots their second AFC Championship and a return to New Orleans for Super Bowl XXXI vs. Green Bay.

Prior to joining the Patriots, he spent five seasons (1991-95) rebuilding the Cleveland Browns, whose 3-13 finish in 1990 was the worst in the history of the franchise. By 1994, the Browns were again one of the elite teams in the NFL, boasting the second-best finish in the AFC with an 11-5 regular season record. That head coaching opportunity came following the 1990 season, after Belichick's defensive efforts with the New York Giants helped claim a second Super Bowl title in five years. Cleveland wasted no time in hiring the talented young defensive coordinator, naming him the franchise's 10th head coach on Feb. 5, 1991. At the age of 38, he became the NFL's youngest head coach. In his first season, he began the rebuilding process by restoring the foundation of the aging squad he inherited. In 1991, the Browns improved to 6-10 and played in 11 games that were decided by a touchdown or less. The most dramatic improvement came in the category of turnovers. In 1990, the Browns surrendered 46 turnovers. In Belichick's first season as head coach, the team established a franchise record by turning the ball over just 18 times - four shy of the NFL record set by the Super Bowl Champion New York Giants the previous season. The Browns led the AFC with a plus-15 turnover ratio, a remarkable 39-turnover improvement from their NFL-low minus-24 ratio the year before.

Following back-to-back 7-9 campaigns in 1992 and 1993, the Browns improved to 11-5 in 1994. It was the second-best record in the AFC that year. Only Pittsburgh, who won the division with a 12-4 record, won more games. In their return to the playoffs, the Browns eliminated Parcells' Patriots, 20-13, in a first-round wild-card playoff game on New Year's Day 1995. They advanced to the divisional playoff round before being bumped by the Steelers. The 1994 squad was defined by its defense, which allowed a league-low 204 points (12.8 ppg) and just 301.6 yards per game, second in the AFC.

The 1995 season was disrupted by the mid-season announcement that the franchise would be moved to Baltimore at the conclusion of the season. The announcement caused an undeniable mid-season distraction resulting in a 5-11 finish. Belichick did not accompany the franchise's move to Baltimore after the 1995 season, completing his five-year tenure with the Browns with a 37-45 career record, including a 1-1 record in the playoffs.

Belichick began his pursuit of a career in the NFL after graduating from Wesleyan. His first coaching opportunity came with the Baltimore Colts in 1975. At the age of 23, he was named special assistant to Colts head coach Ted Marchibroda.

In 1976, he joined Rick Forzano's staff with the Detroit Lions as an assistant special teams coach. The following year, he was given his first positional coaching assignment as the Lions' tight ends and receivers coach. In 1978, he was hired by Red Miller of the Denver Broncos as the assistant special teams coach and assistant to defensive coordinator Joe Collier.

In 1979, he joined Ray Perkins' staff with the New York Giants as a defensive assistant and special teams coach, launching a 12-year tenure with the Giants. After the 1980 campaign, he drew the added responsibility of coaching the Giants linebackers. In 1983, he began coordinating the defense on Bill Parcells' staff and continued coaching a linebacking unit that would become known as one of the most dominant units of all-time. He was officially appointed defensive coordinator in 1985, a position he held for the next six seasons. During his time as the defensive signal caller, his units were never ranked lower than 11th in the NFL and finished as high as second in the league three times, including the Super Bowl seasons of 1986 and 1990. His contributions toward the Giants success in the late 1980s brought him national recognition as one of the best young assistant coaches in the NFL. His reward came just nine days after Super Bowl XXV when the Cleveland Browns hired him as their head coach.

Playing

Belichick lettered in football, lacrosse and squash while attending college at Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn. He earned three letters in football while competing at two positions - center and tight end. As a senior, he was named captain of his lacrosse team.

Personal

Bill Belichick was born April 16, 1952 in Nashville, Tenn. and raised in Annapolis, Md. His father, Steve, played fullback for the Detroit Lions in 1941 and coached for 33 years at the Naval Academy. Bill was a standout prep athlete at Annapolis High, where he has since been inducted into the school's Hall of Fame. He attended Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass., before enrolling at Wesleyan, where he earned his bachelor's degree in economics in 1975.

At Wesleyan's commencement in 2002, he received the prestigious Baldwin Medal, awarded annually by the Wesleyan University Alumni Association. It recognizes the outstanding contributions to public interest and to Wesleyan. He was also honored at Phillips Academy who declared a day at the school in his honor. He and his wife, Debby, have been long-time advocates and contributors to local charities. The two recently established the Bill and Debby Belichick Scholarship, an annual stipend awarded to an Annapolis High School senior for academic and athletic achievement. While in Cleveland, the two launched a charity foundation in their names. In just three years, the foundation raised over $125,000 for the Zelma George Home, a shelter for the homeless women and children in Cleveland. Since returning to New England, Bill has participated in various community functions, including the March of Dimes Walk America, the Rodman Ride for Kids, the Roxbury Comprehensive Community Center's Reading is the Best Medicine Program, and as a participant in a panel discussion at the Fenn School's Alumni Dinner. He has also been a regular supporter of the Pawtucket Police Athletic League. The Belichicks have three children: Amanda, Stephen and Brian.

2001 HONORS AND AWARDS

Many publications waited until after the Super Bowl to announce their annual awards and Head Coach Bill Belichick was a clear choice after helping the Patriots complete a worst-to-first turnaround that culminated with a 20-17 victory over the St. Louis Rams in Super Bowl XXXVI. Some of his honors and awards for 2001 are listed below:

- ★ ESPY Award Coach of the Year Finalist
- ★ Sports Illustrated's Dr. Z's Coach of the Year
- ★ College & Pro Football Newsweekly's Coach of the Year
- ★ Dallas Morning News's Coach of the Year
- ★ ESPN's Dan Patrick's Coach of the Year
- ★ Kansas City's 101 Football Awards Banquet, AFC Coach of the Year
- ★ CNNSI's Peter King's Co-Head Coach of the Year
- ★ USA Today's All-Joe Team
- ★ Associated Press Coach of the Year runner up (Announced 1/19/02)

THEY SAID IT

Following the Patriots Super Bowl XXXVI victory over the Rams, praise for Coach Belichick and his staff was easily found. A sampling of comments pulled from press clippings are listed below ...

"Let me say this about the Patriots: They are the most well-coached football team I have come up against since I've been coaching in this league. All three areas of the game: offense, defense, special teams."

— Mike Martz, St. Louis Rams head coach (Will McDonough, Boston Globe, 3/17/02)

"You can say they made more plays and, from a physical standpoint, that's true, but they beat us mentally, too, and that's a tribute to their head coach."

— Kurt Warner, St. Louis Rams quarterback (Len Pasquarelli, ESPN.com, 2/3/02)

"It's pretty frustrating. We're so used to moving the ball and doing what we like to do. You have to credit Coach (Bill) Belichick and his defensive staff and the players for going out there and executing their game plan, slowing us down, and not allowing us to do what it is that we like to do. It's just one of those deals. You have to credit them."

— Tory Holt, St. Louis Rams wide receiver (Postgame Quotes, 2/3/02)

"The job he did this year was phenomenal. He was my pick (for coach of the year) because I felt that this guy, with everything that he had to deal with this year, I thought he did a phenomenal job."

— Bill Cowher, Pittsburgh Steelers Head Coach (Sam Ross Jr., Pittsburgh Tribune-Review, 1/23/02)

"Belichick did his defensive magic."

— Don Shula, retired head coach and veteran of six Super Bowl teams (Edwin Pope, Miami Herald, 2/4/02)

"... the MVP for us was Belichick, because we all knew he'd come up with something to stump them. When you've seen him do it time and time again, like we have, you come to believe in the man. A lot of people have the 'genius' label in this league, but he's one of the guys who really deserves it. We were all confident we could stop them."

— Lawyer Milloy, Patriots defensive captain (Len Pasquarelli, ESPN.com, 2/3/02)

"If you think about the history of the Super Bowl, this would have to rank right up there as the best coaching job ever. No. 1. They won the Super Bowl with a waiver wire team. No one has ever done anything like that before."

— Ron Wolf, retired general manager of the Green Bay Packers (Will McDonough, Boston Globe, 3/17/02)

"The best coaching job I have seen in 29 years – period."

— Ron Jaworski, ESPN Analyst and former NFL quarterback (Gerry Callahan, Boston Herald, 2/8/02)

"This was no fluke. As far as designing defenses, Bill Belichick is the best in the game today, and maybe the best ever."

— Ron Jaworski, ESPN Analyst and former NFL quarterback (Gerry Callahan, Boston Herald, 2/8/02)

"What they did on defense in the Super Bowl was not at all like what they did the first game (Nov. 18, 2001). The first game, their scheme was very complicated. The second game, it was very simple. They didn't try to do a lot of things. They stayed basic and played solid. And they played better than we did."

— Mike Martz, St. Louis Rams Head Coach (Will McDonough, Boston Globe, 3/17/02)

"In the first game, the Patriots sent five or more guys after (Kurt) Warner 38 times – or 56 percent of the plays. You know how many times they went after Warner in the Super Bowl? Four. They went into what I call cautious coverage, and you know what they did instead of pressuring Warner? They pressured (Marshall) Faulk. I've never seen anything like it."

— Ron Jaworski (Gerry Callahan, Boston Herald, 2/8/02)

"They came out as a team and now all of America knows that ... I thought that was a pretty good signal to America that teamwork is important; that the individual matters to the team, but the team is bigger than the individual."

— President George W. Bush (4/2/02)

"Choosing to be introduced before the game as a team, not as individuals, the Patriots set the tone for their victory. Coach Bill Belichick stressed teamwork, saying that only by working together could the Patriots overcome their opponent, the best team in the NFL's regular season, the St. Louis Rams."

— Senator Edward M. Kennedy, (staff press release, 2/4/02)

"That was a coaching miracle. My hat is off to him and those coaches he's got with him. You couldn't do it any better than those guys did it this year."

— Dick MacPherson (Will McDonough, Boston Globe, 3/17/02)

"He has a great defensive mind, obviously, but the help he gave me as a receiver was incredible. He always told me things about the defense and what the other teams were doing that helped me get open."

— Keyshawn Johnson, Tampa Bay Buccaneers wide receiver (Michael Felger, Boston Herald, 1/20/02)

"I remember watching all the experts talk about the Super Bowl; no one thought they'd win. They learned what I learned – that in politics and sports, the experts are often wrong."

— President George W. Bush (4/2/02)

Coaching

Romeo Crennel, now in his 22nd year in the NFL, was named the New England Patriots defensive coordinator on Bill Belichick's staff on Feb. 1, 2001. The hire reunited the two coaches, who began coaching together as assistants on Ray Perkins' staff for the New York Giants in 1981. This year will be their 16th season together, during which time they have earned three Super Bowl titles, four conference titles and six division titles. This year, Crennel also re-claims the responsibilities of coaching the defensive linemen, a position he has coached for 11 of his past 12 NFL seasons.

In 2001, the Patriots defense played an integral role in the Patriots success. The team surrendered just 272 points all season, the sixth-ranked scoring defense in the NFL. The 17 points allowed per game was the third lowest in franchise history and the fewest since the Patriots set a team record in 1977 by allowing their opponents just 15.5 points per game. By the end of the season, the defense was in a zone, especially in the "Red Zone." In their last five regular season games, the defense surrendered just two touchdowns and limited their opponents to just 10 drives inside the 20-yard line, which resulted in seven field goals, one touchdown and two turnovers. The Patriots won all five of those games and qualified for the playoffs for the first time in three years.

The Patriots defense created a lot more opportunities for the offense in 2001 by recording 22 interceptions (second in the AFC, sixth in the NFL), 12 more than they had in 2000. Five of those interceptions were returned for touchdowns, setting a single-season franchise record. In the playoffs, Ty Law added another interception, which he returned 47 yards for a touchdown in a 20-17 victory over the St. Louis Rams in the Super Bowl.

Crennel re-joined the Patriots after a season as the defensive coordinator with the Cleveland Browns, where he spent the 2000 season developing a unit that featured rookie defensive end Courtney Brown. The team finished the season with 42 sacks, a 17-sack improvement from the 1999 season.

Prior to joining the Browns, Crennel spent three seasons (1997-99) as the defensive line coach for the New York Jets. In three seasons with the Jets, the defense was among the stingiest in the NFL, never allowing more than 20 points per game for a season. In 1997, he successfully incorporated a rotation of six new defensive linemen on a unit that allowed just 287 total points (17.9 points per game), second in the AFC and sixth overall. The following season, he added four new linemen to his rotation, a rotation that included Anthony Pleasant and Bobby Hamilton. The formula contributed to a 21-point improvement from the year before, as the defense allowed just 266 points all season (16.6 ppg.), second only to Miami's 265. In 1999, the Jets defense forced 35 turnovers and held opponents to just 19.3 points per game.

His first tenure in New England was a four-year assignment as Bill Parcells' defensive line coach beginning in 1993 and ending with an AFC Championship and Super Bowl XXXI appearance in January of 1997. In 1993, the Patriots won their final four games of the regular season, including a 38-0 shutout vs. Indianapolis. It was the first Patriots shutout in seven seasons. In 1994, the Patriots qualified for the playoffs for the first time in eight seasons after winning their last seven games of the regular season. In 1996, the Patriots defense allowed just 12.8 points per game in the final five contests of the regular season to propel the team into the playoffs, and just nine total points in two playoff victories secured their route to the Super Bowl.

Crennel began his professional coaching career in 1981 as a special assignments, special teams and defensive assistant coach with the New York Giants. He became the special teams coach in 1983 and was assigned the defensive line position in 1990, a position he coached for the next 11 seasons. In 12 seasons in New York (1981-92), the Giants qualified for the playoffs six times, won three division titles and two Super Bowl championships. In his first season in New York, the Giants qualified for the playoffs for the first time since 1963 with a 9-7 record. It was their first winning record in nine seasons.

He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Western Kentucky, in 1970. He was retained by the school as a full-time assistant when he was named defensive line coach in 1971. In 1975, he started a three-year tenure at Texas Tech as a defensive assistant on Parcells' staff. In 1978, he was named the defensive ends coach at Mississippi. After two seasons at Ole Miss, he accepted a position at Georgia Tech in 1980, his final season in the collegiate ranks before being hired by the Giants in 1981.

Playing

Crennel was a four-year starter (1966-69) as a defensive lineman at Western Kentucky. After three seasons as one of the Hilltoppers top tacklers, he was elected team captain as a senior. When the Western Kentucky offense struggled early in the season, Crennel willingly gave up what would have been a sure shot at all-conference honors as a defensive lineman to fill in at offensive tackle. The move helped solidify the offensive line and earned Crennel team MVP honors.

Personal

Romeo Crennel is a native of Lynchburg, Va. He was a high school standout at both Fort Knox (Ky.) High and Central High (Amherst, Va.). He earned his bachelor's degree in physical education while serving as a graduate assistant at Western Kentucky in 1970. His brother, Carl, played linebacker for the CFL's Hamilton Tiger Cats. Romeo and his wife, Rosemary, have three daughters, Lisa, Tiffany and Kristin.

6th COACHING SEASON
3rd NFL SEASON
3rd PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching

Brian Daboll is now in his third NFL season, his first as a position coach on Bill Belichick's staff. He originally joined the New England Patriots in February of 2000 when he was named a defensive coaching assistant. This year, he will instruct the team's wide receivers.

In 2000, he was primarily responsible for preparing film breakdowns for each upcoming opponent, including comprehensive opponent scouting charts and game tendencies.

Prior to joining the Patriots, he worked as a graduate assistant for Nick Saban at Michigan State. He started as an administrative G.A. in 1998, but spent the entire 1999 season assisting the defensive coaches, working primarily with the defensive backs. He began his coaching career as a restricted earnings coach, assisting the defensive coaches at William & Mary in 1997.

Playing

He attended the University of Rochester, where he was a two-year starter at free safety. Daboll recorded three interceptions in one game during his senior year.

Personal

Brian Daboll was born in Welland, Ontario. He attended St. Francis High in Buffalo where he lettered in football. Brian and his wife, Onalee, have one son, Christian.

Coaching

Jeff Davidson is an eighth-year NFL coaching veteran, including the last six seasons with the New England Patriots, where he has helped them qualify for the playoffs three of the last five seasons, twice as division champions. Last year, he earned the first Super Bowl title of his career. He originally joined the Patriots as the tight ends coach in 1997. In 1998, he accepted the responsibilities as an assistant offensive line coach, a position he played professionally for four seasons before entering the coaching ranks. He was retained in that role when he joined Bill Belichick's coaching staff in 2000.

Davidson began his NFL coaching career in 1995 with the New Orleans Saints as a volunteer assistant. He gained valuable coaching experience under the guidance of offensive line coach Jon Matsko on Jim Mora's staff. In 1996, he was named offensive assistant, responsible for a multitude of functions, including the break down of game tapes, opponent scouting and self-scouting. He also maintained a number of on-field coaching responsibilities.

Playing

Davidson earned All-Big Ten honors as a senior and was a four-year letterman as an offensive lineman at Ohio State. He was drafted in the fifth round of the 1990 NFL draft by the Denver Broncos and moved into the starting lineup in just his second season. He started 16 games, including both playoff games, at left tackle. In 1992, he started every game at left guard. He was released by the Broncos in 1993 and signed by the New Orleans Saints as a free agent in 1994. He was on the active roster for the first seven games of the season, but suffered a shoulder injury that sidelined him for the remainder of the year and ultimately brought an end to his playing career.

Personal

Jeffrey John Davidson was born Oct. 3, 1967 in Akron, Ohio. He attended Westerville (Ohio) North High School where he earned Parade All-American honors as a senior. He was a three-sport prep letterman, starring in football (3 letters), track (4) and baseball (1). Jeff and his wife, Judi, have two sons, Nicholas and Alexander.

HOT WHEN IT'S COLD

When the game-time temperatures have cooled down in recent years, the Patriots have heated up. New England has a 13-4 record since 1993 in games when the temperature was 36 degrees or lower. Last season they tallied a 4-0 record, including their 16-13 overtime victory over the Raiders in the playoffs.

Coaching

Ivan Fears, a 26-year coaching veteran who is now enjoying his 12th season in the NFL, will coach the running backs for the Patriots this season. He earned his first Super Bowl Championship title as the receivers coach on Bill Belichick's staff last year. During the 2001 season, both Troy Brown and David Patten, his starting receivers, produced career years. Brown established a franchise record with 101 receptions for a career-high 1,199 yards and earned his first trip to the NFL's Pro Bowl after the season. It was Brown's first 1,000-yard season of his eight-year career. Patten, who entered the season with just 71 receptions in four seasons, claimed the starting role opposite Brown and was credited with 51 receptions for 749 yards and four touchdowns. He also provided touchdowns in both the AFC Championship Game victory over Pittsburgh (24-17) and the Super Bowl triumph over the Rams (20-17), scoring two of the Patriots' three offensive touchdowns during the playoffs.

Fears originally joined the professional coaching ranks as the receivers coach on Dick MacPherson's staff with the Patriots in 1991. After two seasons in New England, he accepted a position with the Bears in Chicago, where he coached the receivers for six seasons (1993-98) before returning to New England in 1999.

In 1991, his receiving corps featured Irving Fryar, Greg McMurtry and Michael Timpson. That year, Fryar turned in his first 1,000-yard season of his eight-year career, finishing with 1,014 yards on 68 receptions (14.9).

In 1993, he joined the Chicago Bears and inherited the team's first-round selection, Curtis Conway. In 1994, the Bears added Jeff Graham, a reserve receiver from the Steelers and Fears helped develop the two into one of the premier receiving tandems in the league. In his first year with the Bears, Graham started 15 games and led the team with 68 receptions for 944 yards. In 1995, he led the team with 1,301 yards on 82 receptions while Conway produced 62 receptions for 1,037 yards and 12 touchdowns. The pair became the first receiving tandem in franchise history to each record over 1,000 yards receiving in a single season. Graham was lost to free agency in 1996, but Conway filled the void with a career-high 81 receptions for 1,049 yards and became the first Bear in franchise history to record back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons. Injuries in 1997 limited Conway's production that year. In 1998, Bobby Engram emerged as the team leader, nearly eclipsing the 1,000-yard plateau with 987 yards on 64 receptions.

Fears began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at William & Mary in 1976. In 1977, he drew his first positional responsibilities coaching receivers. His next two seasons (1978-79), he coached quarterbacks before accepting the role as receivers coach at Syracuse in 1980, a position he held for the next 12 seasons.

Playing

A three-year letterman as a running back at William & Mary (1973-75), his playing career was cut short after undergoing three knee operations during his collegiate career.

Personal

Ivan Fears was born Nov. 15, 1954 in Portsmouth, Va. He grew up in Suffolk, Va., where he starred at John Yates High and was twice named the school's Outstanding Player of the Year. He also earned all-state honors as a senior. Ivan and his wife, Beverly, have three children, Joshua, Aaron and Kimberly.

Pepper Johnson, a third-year NFL assistant, celebrated his third Super Bowl championship in 2001, his first as an assistant coach. During his illustrious playing career, he earned Super Bowl titles with the New York Giants in 1986 and 1990 as an inside linebacker on one of the league's most dominant defenses.

He originally joined Bill Belichick's coaching staff with the New England Patriots as part of the NFL's minority coaching fellowship in the summer of 2000. On Feb. 1, 2001, he joined the staff as the inside linebackers coach, a position he excelled at for 13 seasons in the NFL. After injuries sidelined Ted Johnson and Bryan Cox, Tedy Bruschi made the transition from outside to inside linebacker and helped fuel the Patriots defense through a season-ending win streak that culminated with a 20-17 victory over the St. Louis Rams in Super Bowl XXXVI. The 2001 squad was the stingiest Patriots unit since 1977, allowing just 17 points per game (sixth in the NFL).

Playing

Johnson started 158 of 193 regular season games and played for four different teams during his 13-year NFL career. The two-time Pro Bowl performer won two Super Bowl titles as a member of the New York Giants in 1986 and again in 1990. His presence helped form one of the most dominant defensive units in the history of the game. In 13 seasons, he totaled over 1,200 tackles, including 25.5 sacks. He also forced 12 fumbles, recovering eight, and intercepted 14 passes, including two that he returned for touchdowns. In a game against the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1991, he set a franchise record with 4.5 sacks. He played seven seasons with the Giants (1986-92) before joining the Cleveland Browns in 1993. In 1994, he recorded a career-high with 207 tackles for the Browns. He signed with the Detroit Lions for one season in 1996 before being reunited with Bill Belichick in New York when he signed with the Jets in 1997. He played two seasons with the Jets before retiring in 1999. In his first season with the Jets, he was voted team captain before the start of the regular season. An injury vs. New England (10/19/97) mid-season sidelined him for the remainder of the season, but he returned as team captain and started every game for the Jets in 1998.

A two-time co-captain and defensive MVP at Ohio State, Johnson was drafted by the New York Giants in the second round of the 1986 NFL draft after an All-American campaign as a senior in 1985.

Personal

Thomas "Pepper" Johnson was born July 29, 1964 in Detroit, Mich. He was nicknamed "Pepper" by an aunt who observed his ritual of sprinkling pepper on his breakfast cereal as a youngster. After an all-star prep career at MacKenzie High in Detroit, Johnson became a scholar-athlete at Ohio State, where he majored in counseling and physical education. In 1999, his alma mater named him to the school's all-century team. In 2001, he was inducted into the Ohio State Hall of Fame. He formed Pepper Johnson Enterprises, a non-profit community organization that operates in Detroit to support youth and anti-crime programs. Johnson's many philanthropic endeavors have earned him honors for his work with Special Olympics, the March of Dimes, the Make-a-Wish Foundation, Children's Leukemia Foundation and Pepper Johnson's Youth Foundation. He is also a supporter of the Michael Landon Foundation, the Carol M. Baldwin Breast Cancer Research Foundation, Dylan MalaMala Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and the Trey Whitfield Foundation. While in New York, he sponsored a charity golf tournament on Long Island to benefit a home for babies born to drug-addicted mothers. Pepper has a son, Dionte, and resides in Providence, R.I.

Coaching

Eric Mangini, a coaching veteran of 10 seasons, including eight in the NFL, joined the Patriots when he was named defensive backs coach on Bill Belichick's staff on Feb. 1, 2000.

In 2001, the Patriots defense was among the stingiest in franchise history and one of the most opportunistic in the NFL. As a unit, the defense allowed just 17 points per game, the lowest by a Patriots defense since 1977. The potential for many opponent scoring drives ended in turnovers, as the Patriots recorded 35 takeaways, including 22 interceptions (12 more than in 2000). An NFL leading five of those 22 interceptions were returned for touchdowns, all by defensive backs. Ty Law added another interception in the Super Bowl that he returned 47 yards for a touchdown to help secure the 20-17 victory and give New England its first Super Bowl Championship.

Mangini joined the Patriots after three seasons (1997-99) as the defensive assistant/quality control coach for the New York Jets. During that time, he worked closely with Belichick, who was the Jets defensive backs coach. Mangini was also responsible for advance opponent film breakdowns and analysis. In 1999, the Jets defense ranked third in the AFC with 24 interceptions, the team's highest total since 1969 (29). The defensive backs recorded 18 of those 24 interceptions. In 1998, the Jets defense surrendered just 266 points, one point shy of Miami's league-leading 265 points allowed. The 16.6 points per game ranked third in franchise history and helped the Jets to a 12-4 overall record and their first division title ever.

Mangini's first coaching opportunity came in 1995 as an assistant on Belichick's staff in Cleveland. He was retained by Ted Marchibroda when the franchise moved to Baltimore in 1996, working as a quality control/offensive assistant. The Ravens averaged 357.7 yards per game during the 1996 season - third in the NFL.

Playing

Mangini played nose tackle and earned four letters (1989-90, 92-93) at Wesleyan University in Connecticut. He set a school record with 36.5 sacks, including 22 during his final two seasons. When he graduated in 1993, he ranked second in school history in total tackles. He was voted a first-team all-star by NESCAC and ECAC-New England Division III and won third-team All-American honors and All-East Coast in 1992-93. He graduated from Wesleyan in 1994 with a degree in political science.

Personal

Eric Mangini was born Jan. 19, 1971 in Hartford, Conn. He attended Bulkeley (Conn.) High, where he received the Brian Piccolo Award for outstanding athletic and academic achievement and was named the Scholar Athlete of the Year as a senior. As an undergraduate at Wesleyan, he spent the second semester of his junior and senior years studying abroad in Melbourne, Australia, where he was the head coach/defensive coordinator for the Kew Colts, a semi-professional football team. He also worked as an intern for the New England Crusaders, a minor league football team in his hometown of Hartford, Conn. In 1998, he received the scholar-athlete award from the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame (Northern Connecticut Chapter). In 2002, he teamed up with fellow Connecticut native Tebucky Jones to host a football camp for athletes in eighth through 12th grade. A staff of over 30 NFL coaches and players taught hundreds of students during the one-day session. Eric and his wife, Julie, were married in June of 2001.

Coaching

Markus Paul is a fifth-year coaching veteran, now in his third season with the Patriots. He joined the Patriots on Feb. 16, 2000 when he was named the assistant strength and conditioning coach on Bill Belichick's staff. He assists strength and conditioning coach Mike Woicik, a position he held for two seasons in New Orleans prior to joining the Patriots. Paul is responsible for assisting in player conditioning and development, both on and off the field. In 2001, He celebrated his first Super Bowl Championship, as the Patriots completed a 14-5 record. The 14 wins were the most in franchise history.

Woicik gave Paul his first coaching opportunity at the NFL level while on Mike Ditka's staff with the Saints in 1998. From 1998-99, he assisted Woicik in the implementation of the Saints conditioning program. His responsibilities included the monitoring of each player's workout routines throughout the year.

Paul's first association with Woicik was as a student-athlete at Syracuse, where he participated in Woicik's conditioning program.

Playing

Paul was originally a fourth-round draft choice of the Chicago Bears in 1989. He played five seasons in Chicago before playing his final game as a member of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1993. He started 30 of 71 games in Chicago, including 15 at each safety position. He intercepted seven passes during his career, which he returned for 100 yards. A four-year starter at Syracuse (1985-88), Paul set a school record with 19 career interceptions. As a senior in 1988, he earned first-team All-American honors from The Sporting News and Football News.

Personal

Markus Paul was born on April 1, 1966, in Orlando, Fla. He was an all-state quarterback and defensive back at Osceola (Fla.) High and led his team to the high school Citrus Bowl in 1983. Paul and his wife, Patricia, have a son, Jairus, and a daughter, Tabitha.

Rob Ryan
OUTSIDE LINEBACKERS
 16th COACHING SEASON
 5th NFL SEASON
 3rd PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching

Rob Ryan, now enjoying his 16th coaching season, including his fifth in the NFL, joined the Patriots when he was named linebackers coach on Bill Belichick's staff on Feb. 18, 2000. For the past two years, he has worked more specifically with the outside linebackers.

Last year, he contributed to one of the best scoring defenses in franchise history, as the Patriots allowed just 17 points per game. It was the lowest point production allowed by the Patriots in 24 years when the 1977 squad held their opponents to just 15.5 points per game. The defense was one of the league's most opportunistic as well, forcing 35 turnovers and capitalizing on five interceptions that were returned for touchdowns. Roman Phifer, Mike Vrabel and Tedy Bruschi all had stellar seasons and were critical to the team's Super Bowl success in 2001. Vrabel had a career-year, totaling more tackles with the Patriots (60) than he had in four seasons with Pittsburgh.

Ryan received his first NFL coaching experience in 1994 and 1995 as the defensive backs coach of the Arizona Cardinals. In 1994, Cardinals cornerback Aeneas Williams recorded a career-high nine interceptions and earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl. Williams returned to the Pro Bowl in 1995. In two seasons, he contributed 15 of the secondary's 32 interceptions. The Cardinals 32 interceptions and 42 total takeaways led the NFL in 1995.

Ryan joined the Patriots following a three-year assignment (1997-99) as the defensive coordinator at Oklahoma State. During his tenure, the Cowboys defense was continually ranked among the best in the nation. In 1999, they were ranked 10th in the nation in total defense and ninth in passing yards allowed. In 1998, they were second in the nation with 41 sacks. In his first season at Oklahoma State, the Cowboys defense finished among the nation's top 20 in turnover margin, rushing defense, scoring defense and total defense, allowing just 302.7 yards per game. It was an improvement of more than 100 yards per game from the year before (407.2 ypg). In turn, the team improved from 5-6 in 1996 to 8-4, earning an invitation to play in the Alamo Bowl. It was Oklahoma State's first bowl appearance since 1988.

He began his coaching career as an assistant at Western Kentucky in 1987. He moved on to Ohio State in 1988, where he coached outside linebackers. Ryan then spent five seasons at Tennessee State, where he coached running backs (1989-91), linebackers (1992) and the defensive line (1993) before entering the NFL ranks with Arizona in 1994. In 1996, he accepted a position as the defensive coordinator at Hutchinson Community College. That year, they led the nation in total defense (228 yards per game) and in quarterback sacks (56). His defense also set a national record by forcing 49 turnovers, which generated eight touchdowns in 10 games. They also led the Jayhawk conference in total defense, run defense and pass defense.

Playing

Ryan played three seasons as a defensive end and outside linebacker at Southwestern Oklahoma State.

Personal

Rob Ryan was born the son of defensive coaching great Buddy Ryan on Dec. 13, 1962 in Ardmore, Okla. Rob's twin brother, Rex, is a defensive line coach with the Baltimore Ravens. He earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Southwestern Oklahoma State and a master's in sports management from Ohio State. He has three sons, Joseph, Matthew and Tyler, and one daughter, Dimitra. Rob and his wife, Kristin, reside with their family in Franklin, Mass.

Dante Scarnecchia

ASST. HEAD COACH / OFFENSIVE LINE

33rd COACHING SEASON
21st NFL SEASON
19th PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching

Dante Scarnecchia is now enjoying his 33rd coaching season, his 21st as an NFL assistant. He originally joined the Patriots in 1982. Since then, he has spent all but two seasons (1989-90) on the Patriots sidelines. Those 19 seasons of service are more than any coach in franchise history and earns him the distinction of being the only coach in franchise history to be a member of all three Super Bowl appearances, beginning with Super Bowl XX in 1985, Super Bowl XXXI in 1996 and Super Bowl XXXVI in 2001.

Bill Belichick named Scarnecchia the Patriots assistant head coach/offensive line coach on Feb. 1, 2000. In 2001, he worked with a unit that featured three new starters, including two young offensive tackles, but still produced a powerful rushing attack and a balanced passing attack. Running back Antowain Smith rushed for 1,157 yards, the most by a Patriots back in four years, and powered the Patriots to a franchise record 14 wins, including the region's first Super Bowl victory.

As assistant head coach, Scarnecchia draws additional responsibilities assisting head coach Bill Belichick. He gained his first head coaching experience handling those responsibilities for Dick MacPherson after the coach fell ill and was hospitalized during the 1992 season. For the fourth consecutive season, Scarnecchia's primary responsibility will be the offensive line, a position he has coached for 17 of his 33 seasons in the profession. He made the transition to offensive line from special teams coach in 1999 and assisted in the development of first-round pick Damien Woody, who started all 16 games. Woody was only the third Patriot offensive lineman (Pat Harlow, 1991; Bruce Armstrong, 1987) to start every game as a rookie since John Hannah in 1973.

Prior to coaching the offensive line, Scarnecchia handled the Patriots special team units for two seasons (1997-98). In 1998, Adam Vinatieri scored a career-high 127 points, sixth in franchise history and the most by a Patriot since Tony Franklin's 140 points in 1986. Derrick Cullors returned 45 kicks (second in franchise history) and Troy Brown averaged 13.2 yards per punt return, the fifth-best single season average in team history. Punter Tom Tupa averaged 44.5 yards per punt, which ranked third among the Patriots all-time leaders.

In 1997, Scarnecchia's special teams units produced the league's second-best punter (Tupa), fifth-best kick returner (David Meggett) and the AFC's special teams Pro Bowl representative (Larry Whigham). Tupa set a franchise record and led the AFC with a 45.8-yard average (gross) per punt. It was the first time in franchise history that a Patriots punter led the conference in punting. Meggett averaged 24.7 yards per return, tied for fifth in the league and third in the AFC, and Whigham, who consistently drew double coverage, was recognized as the AFC's best among special teams performers.

Scarnecchia originally joined the Patriots and made his NFL coaching debut in 1982 as a member of Ron Meyer's staff. He coached the tight ends and special teams for the Patriots for seven seasons (1982-88) before moving on to Indianapolis with Meyer in 1989. He rejoined the Patriots in 1991 after spending two seasons (1989-90) as the Colts offensive line coach. From 1991 to 1992, he coached the tight ends and special teams on MacPherson's staff. On Nov. 4, 1992, MacPherson fell ill and appointed Scarnecchia to serve as the team's spokesman in his absence. Scarnecchia fulfilled the obligation for seven of the Patriots' final eight games and held the responsibilities of the head coach for both of the Patriots victories that season.

In 1993, he was the only Patriots assistant retained from the previous staff. He was assigned special assistant from 1993-94, which was re-defined as defensive assistant from 1995-96. During that time, he assisted defensive coordinator Al Groh with the development of the team's linebacking corps.

His coaching career began in 1970 as the offensive line coach at California Western University. He moved to Iowa State in 1973, where he served as the assistant offensive line and defensive backfield coach. He spent the 1975 and 1976 campaigns at Southern Methodist University, before becoming the University of Pacific's offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator from 1977 through 1978. In 1979, Scarnecchia coached at Northern Arizona and then accepted an opportunity to return to Meyer's staff at SMU as the offensive line coach in 1980 and 1981. In 1982, Meyer was hired as the head coach of the New England Patriots and Scarnecchia was among a number of the SMU assistants who joined Meyer's staff in New England.

Playing

Scarnecchia played offensive guard and center at California Western University from 1968-70. He began his collegiate career at Taft Junior College in 1966 before transferring to California Western.

Personal

Dante Scarnecchia was born Feb. 15, 1948, in Los Angeles, Calif. He holds a master's degree in physical education from U.S. International. Dante and his wife, Susan, have a daughter, Lisa, and a son, Steve.

Brad Seely

SPECIAL TEAMS

25th COACHING SEASON
14th NFL SEASON
4th PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching

Brad Seely is a 25th-year coaching veteran who is enjoying his 14th season in the NFL, including his fourth with the Patriots. He joined the Patriots as the special teams coach on Jan. 27, 1999 and celebrated his first Super Bowl Championship as a member of Coach Bill Belichick's staff last season.

He earned Special Teams Coach of the Year honors in 1996 as an assistant with the Carolina Panthers, but may have had his most complete season in 2001, based on the rankings and performances of each of his special teams units. The Patriots coverage units ranked first in punt returns (allowing just 4.8 yards per return), first in gross punt average (allowing just 39.5 yards per punt) and first in net punt average (limiting opponents to 31.6 net yards per punt). Troy Brown led the league with a 14.2-yard average per punt return (second in franchise history) and was the only player to return two punts for touchdowns in 2001. He scored a third touchdown at Pittsburgh in the AFC Championship Game to give the Patriots a 7-0 lead and helped secure the victory when he scooped up a blocked field goal attempt, lateraled it to Antwan Harris who returned it for another touchdown in a 24-17 victory. In addition to being ranked second in the league in net punt return average, the Patriots were also second in net punting with Ken Walter averaging 38.1 net yards per punt.

Five Patriots games were decided by three points or less during the 2001 season and the Patriots were undefeated in those games. The five game-winning kicks included two playoff performances (Oakland and St. Louis), thanks to the kicking accuracy of Adam Vinatieri and the consistent play of the field goal units.

In 2000, Brown finished fifth in the AFC with an average of 12.9 yards per punt return and returned a punt for a touchdown, the first of his career and the first by a Patriot since 1996. Brown's 12.9-yard average per return was the highest average since Irving Fryar's 14.1-yard average for a season in 1985. In addition, Vinatieri recorded a three-year high converting 81.8 percent of his field goal attempts (27 of 33). It was the second-highest conversion rate of his career, pushing his career field goal percentage over 80 percent, a franchise record.

In 1999, the team's return units ranked among the league leaders. Only St. Louis had a better kickoff return average (25.1 yards per return) than the Patriots (24.2), while their punt return average ranked ninth in the league (10.3). Brown led the team and finished fifth in the AFC with a 10.7-yard punt return average.

Prior to joining the Patriots, Seely spent four seasons with the Carolina Panthers, where he helped groom an expansion team into a team that competed for the NFC Championship. In 1996 and 1997, Panthers kickoff returner Michael Bates became the first player in 35 years to lead the league in kick return average in consecutive seasons. He also earned two consecutive trips to the Pro Bowl for his efforts.

In 1996, not only did Seely help produce the NFL's best kick return specialist, but he also had the league's best kicker, as John Kasay set an NFL single-season record with 37 field goals. His 145 total points were the third highest total in the history of the league. In addition to the success of Bates and Kasay, Carolina also boasted one of the league's top coverage units, ranking first or second in nearly every statistical category. Special teams played a big part in the team's overall success, as Carolina claimed their first division title in just their second season with a 12-4 overall record. That year, Panther punter Rohn Stark, who spent the majority of his career with Seely in Indianapolis, became the NFL's all-time leading punter with 48,658 career punting yards.

Seely began his coaching career in 1978 at South Dakota State, the alma mater of Patriots placekicker Adam Vinatieri. The following year, he accepted a graduate assistant position at Colorado State, where he was elevated to offensive line coach in 1980. In 1981, he was named the assistant offensive line coach (assisting Dante Scarnecchia) on Ron Meyer's staff at Southern Methodist. He helped coach a line that opened holes for SMU's "Pony Express" backfield of Eric Dickerson and Craig James. The next year, he coached at North Carolina State before coaching at Pacific in 1983. In 1984, he started a five-year stint as the offensive line coach at Oklahoma State, which helped produce the likes of Thurman Thomas and 1988 Heisman Trophy winner Barry Sanders.

He made the transition to the professional ranks in 1989 when he was named the special teams and tight ends coach of the Indianapolis Colts. During that five-year tenure, he assisted in the development of Stark and return specialist Clarence Verdin. Both players became Pro Bowl performers for the Colts. In addition, his special teams units were annually ranked among the top coverage units in football. In 1993, they led the league by allowing just 14.9 yards per kick return. In 1994, he accepted the special teams assignment with the Jets. He left the Jets in 1995 when he was named the special teams coach of the expansion Carolina Panthers.

Playing

Seely earned a degree in economics and physical education while earning all-conference honors as an offensive guard at South Dakota State.

Personal

Brad Seely was born Sept. 6, 1956 in Vinton, Iowa. Brad and his wife, Patti, have three daughters, Sarah, Hannah and Brynn.

Coaching

Charlie Weis, a 24th-year coaching veteran, including 13 seasons in the NFL, enjoys his seventh season with the New England Patriots and his third as the team's offensive coordinator. In 13 NFL seasons, his coaching contributions have led to two Super Bowl Championships, three conference titles and four division titles. For the past four seasons (1998-01), he has gained tremendous respect for designing some of the league's most creative and balanced offensive arsenals as the offensive coordinator for the New York Jets (1998-99) and the Patriots (2000-01).

Yet, for all his coaching successes over the years, his performance in 2001 stands alone. Prior to the start of the 2001 season, Weis suffered the personal loss of one of his closest friends and coaching confidants with the tragic passing of quarterbacks coach Dick Rehbein. Weis quickly assumed Rehbein's coaching responsibilities, working with the team's quarterbacks in addition to his duties as offensive coordinator and running backs coach.

When Drew Bledsoe was sidelined due to an injury in just the second game of the season, little-known reserve Tom Brady accepted the starting responsibilities. Under Weis' tutelage, the former sixth-round draft choice blossomed into a Pro Bowl performer and eventual Super Bowl MVP in his first year as an NFL starter. Brady's success should have come as no surprise to Patriots fans. In Weis' previous four-year stint (1993-96) with the Patriots, he earned a reputation for developing individual offensive star performances. He coached three different positions in three consecutive years and helped develop some of the franchise's best individual single-season performances.

The Patriots scored 371 total points, sixth in the NFL in 2001 and the highest point production by the Patriots since 1996. His offense also produced the franchise's first 100-reception individual performance, earning Troy Brown a trip to the Pro Bowl. The team also adopted a power rushing attack, as Antowain Smith rushed for 1,157 yards, the most since 1997, and 12 rushing touchdowns, the most since 1996.

He returned to the Patriots on Feb. 1, 2000 after three seasons of calling the offensive plays for the New York Jets from 1997-99.

In his first season with the Jets, New York improved from 1-15 in 1996 to 9-7 in 1997. The eight-game improvement was the best in franchise history and one of the greatest turnarounds in NFL history. In addition to his own play-calling, Weis employed a triumvirate of receivers who were largely responsible for the success of the Jets offense. Keyshawn Johnson, Wayne Chrebet and Jeff Graham combined for 170 receptions for 2,304 yards and 10 touchdowns.

In 1998, the Jets improved to 12-4 to claim their first division title in franchise history. That year, Weis was named the offensive coordinator/wide receivers coach after a year of handling the dual responsibilities. By season's end, his offense ranked among the greatest in franchise history and led the team to their first 12-win season. The team scored 416 points, the second highest total in franchise history (419 points in 1968) and averaged 357.2 yards per game. It was the second-best season average in Jets history (368.5 ypg in 1985). In addition, they also controlled the ball for an average of 32:17 per game, second in the AFC and third in the NFL.

Both of Weis' starting receivers, Johnson (1,131) and Chrebet (1,083), eclipsed the 1,000-yard receiving plateau for the first time in their respective careers. It also marked the first time since 1986 that two Jets receivers reached that milestone in one season. At the conclusion of the 1998 season, three of his offensive stars — Johnson, Curtis Martin and Vinny Testaverde — were voted to represent the AFC in the Pro Bowl.

In 1999, Weis' offense produced the league's second-leading rusher and the AFC's fourth ranked receiver. Martin rushed for 1,464 yards, falling just 90 yards shy of the rushing title. Keyshawn Johnson led the team and established career-highs with 89 receptions for 1,170 yards. He was elected to his second consecutive Pro Bowl at the end of the season.

Weis began his professional coaching career with the New York Giants in 1990. After working in the Giants pro personnel department in 1989, Weis accepted the position of defensive assistant and assistant special teams coach. In his first season on the Giants coaching staff, the Giants claimed the Super Bowl title with a 16-3 overall record. In 1991, Ray Handley took over as coach of the Giants and named Weis his running backs coach.

In 1993, Weis began a very successful four-year stint with the Patriots (1993-96). He coached three different positions - tight ends, running backs and wide receivers - and played a major role in the development of Ben Coates, Curtis Martin and Terry Glenn. In 1993 and 1994, he served as the team's tight ends coach. In 1993, Coates led the team in receptions. In 1994, Coates set an NFL record for receptions by a tight end with 96 and earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl as a first-team All-Pro.

In 1995, Weis was re-assigned to coach the Patriots' running backs and was credited with developing Martin, a third-round '95 draft pick, into one of the premier running backs in the NFL. That year, Martin won Rookie of the Year honors and set franchise rushing records with 1,487 yards and 14 touchdowns. He was the only rookie representative in the 1996 Pro Bowl. Martin's 1,487 yards rushing was the fourth-best rookie performance in NFL history. His 14 rushing touchdowns ranked third all-time among rookie rushers.

In 1996, Weis was again assigned a new position, drawing the duty of coaching the team's receivers. Under his tutelage, Glenn led the team and set an NFL rookie reception record with 90 catches for 1,132 yards and six touchdowns. Glenn finished second to fellow Ohio State alum Eddie George in the Associated Press balloting for Offensive Rookie of the Year.

He joined the collegiate ranks in 1985 as an assistant at South Carolina (1985-88). In 1989, he returned to New Jersey to accept the position as head coach at Franklin Township High. That year, he directed them to the New Jersey State Championship.

Personal

Charlie Weis was born March 30, 1956, in Trenton, N.J. He excelled both athletically and academically at Middlesex (N.J.) High. He then attended the University of Notre Dame, where he earned his bachelor's degree in communications and education. While coaching in South Carolina, Weis earned his master's degree in education. Charlie and his wife, Maura, have two children, Charles Joseph and Hannah Margaret.

Coaching

Mike Woicik was named the Patriots strength and conditioning coach on Bill Belichick's staff on Feb. 16, 2000. The 25th-year coaching veteran is now in his 13th season in the NFL and has initiated strength and conditioning programs that have contributed to the success of four Super Bowl Championship teams, three with the Dallas Cowboys and one with the Patriots last season. Woicik's year-round conditioning program proved to be a significant factor in the Patriots success in 2001, as the team closed out the season with a nine-game win streak, the longest in franchise history.

He entered the NFL coaching ranks with the Dallas Cowboys in 1990 and was voted the NFL's "Strength Coach of the Year" in 1992. During his seven seasons (1990-96) with the Cowboys, the team totaled an 89-38 record, including 12 playoff victories and three Super Bowl championships. Conditioning played a big part in the Cowboys' overall success. In his final six seasons with Dallas, they had a cumulative 35-11 (.761) record from Thanksgiving until the end of the playoffs.

In 1997, he accepted the strength and conditioning responsibilities of the New Orleans Saints. He spent three seasons with the Saints (1997-99).

Woicik began his strength and conditioning training at Springfield College in 1978. He served as the track coach and weight room coordinator from 1978-80. In 1980, he was hired by Syracuse University, where he developed the strength and conditioning programs for the university for the next decade (1980-89).

Personal

Mike Woicik was born Sept. 26, 1956 in Baltimore, Md. and raised in Westwood, Mass. He graduated from Westwood (Mass.) High and starred on the track and football teams. He earned a bachelor's degree in history from Boston College and a master's degree in physical education from Springfield College. Woicik was an outstanding discus thrower at Boston College, setting a school record of 180 feet, 5 inches. He also earned All-East honors and qualified for the NCAA Championships while competing in the discus at BC. In addition to the discus, he also competed in the shot put and hammer throw.

Coaching Assistants

Nick Caserio joined the Patriots in June of 2001 as a personnel assistant in the scouting department. He became a coaching assistant on Bill Belichick's staff in February of 2002. His primary responsibilities will be as an offensive staff assistant and will include film breakdown and scouting chart preparations. The Westlake, Ohio native attended John Carroll University. Caserio began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Saginaw Valley State University in 1999. The Cardinals finished the 2000 season 9-2 and qualified for the Division II playoffs. Following a brief stint with Central Michigan, he joined the Patriots scouting department.

Josh McDaniels joined the Patriots on March 1, 2001 as a personnel assistant in the scouting department. He became the defensive assistant on Bill Belichick's coaching staff in February of 2002. His coaching responsibilities will be primarily as a defensive staff assistant and will include film breakdown and scouting chart preparations for the staff. McDaniels attended John Carroll University and played wide receiver for the Blue Streaks. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Michigan State. The Canton, Ohio native and his wife, Laura, were married this past spring.

Jason Licht

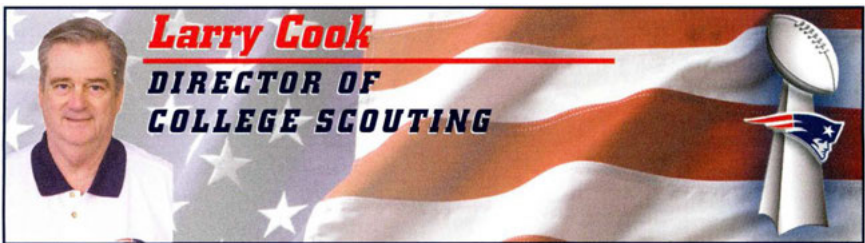

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Jason Licht is enjoying his eighth season in player personnel, including his fourth with the Patriots and celebrated his first Super Bowl championship with the team last year. He originally joined the Patriots personnel department on June 1, 1999 as a college scout. In just three years, his ascent has included a season as the team's national scout prior to his promotion to assistant director of player personnel.

He began his scouting career with the Miami Dolphins as an assistant in the college and pro personnel scouting departments in 1995. The following year, he assisted with quality control and was responsible for advance scouting as an offensive assistant. In 1997, he scouted for National, a college football scouting service. Prior to joining the Patriots, he spent one season in the scouting department for the Carolina Panthers.

Licht was a two-time all-conference defensive tackle at Nebraska-Wesleyan (1993-94). He was originally recruited to the University of Nebraska as a linebacker in 1989. He played as a freshman, but red-shirted in 1990. He was asked to play offensive line, which he did in 1991, before transferring to Nebraska-Wesleyan to finish his college career. Jason was born Feb. 13, 1971. He resides in Cumberland, R.I.

Larry Cook

DIRECTOR OF COLLEGE SCOUTING

Larry Cook is enjoying his 40th year in football, including his 22nd as a member of the Patriots personnel department. He was named the director of college scouting on May 1, 1997. His responsibilities include overseeing a staff of personnel scouts who are responsible for scouting all the nation's eligible college prospects. He is one of seven current Patriots employees to have celebrated all three Super Bowl appearances in franchise history and was an important contributor to each of those teams' drafts.

Cook originally joined the Patriots scouting department as a personnel scout on Dick Steinberg's staff on Feb. 1, 1985, after a 22-year coaching career.

He began his coaching career in 1963 at Fountain Valley High School in California. In 1975, he joined the collegiate ranks when he accepted an assistant coaching position at Cal State Fullerton. After three seasons at Fullerton, he accepted his first professional assignment as an assistant with the Los Angeles Rams scouting department. He spent six seasons (1979-84) with the Rams before joining the Patriots scouting department in 1985.

Cook was born Feb. 12, 1939 in Irvine, Calif. He and his wife, Nadine, have a daughter, Jacquelyn, and two sons, Michael and Steven.

Lionel Vital is now in his 13th season as a personnel evaluator, including his third with the Patriots. He joined the Patriots personnel department on May 18, 2000 when he was named the team's national college scout. A year later, he was promoted to assistant director of college scouting. In that position, he assists Larry Cook in overseeing all college scouting and will share in the responsibilities for the evaluations of the nation's top college prospects. His contributions since joining the Patriots have been important to rebuilding them into a championship-caliber team.

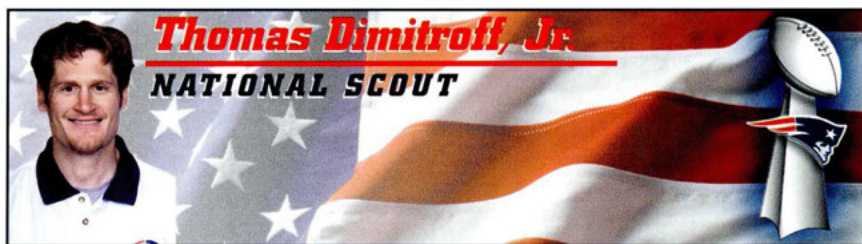

In joining the Patriots, Vital was reunited with head coach Bill Belichick and director of player personnel Scott Pioli, a working relationship that began in Cleveland in 1992. Prior to joining the Patriots, Vital spent three seasons with the New York Jets as a talent scout in the college scouting department. In New York, his responsibilities included the highly coveted Southeast region.

Belichick first hired Vital as a talent scout for the Cleveland Browns in 1991, after two seasons as the director of player personnel for the Montreal Machine of the World League of American Football (1990-91). Vital remained with the team through the 1995 season and accompanied the franchise's move to Baltimore in 1996. In 1997, he rejoined Belichick with the Jets in New York.

Vital exhausted his professional playing career options in football and baseball before pursuing a career in scouting. After establishing a school rushing record at Nichols State, Vital was drafted by the Washington Redskins in the seventh round of the 1985 NFL draft. He missed his rookie season due to an injury and was waived in 1986. In 1987, he re-signed with Washington and appeared in three games, rushing for 346 yards and two touchdowns on just 80 carries (4.3 avg.). Following the season, he signed a contract with the Chicago White Sox as an outfielder, but soon returned to the NFL to pursue his football career. He enjoyed short stints at Buffalo and Detroit before completing his playing career with the Saskatchewan Rough Riders of the CFL from 1989-90.

Lionel Vital was born July 15, 1963 in New Iberia, La. He attended Loreauville (La.) High and earned all-district honors in football and all-state honors in baseball. He attended Nichols State, where he majored in criminal justice.

Thomas Dimitroff Jr., who is now in his 13th season in player personnel, joined the Patriots in 2002 as the team's national scout. He is responsible for collecting reports on all of the nation's top college prospects as well as tracking the development and availability of recently drafted players.

He joins the Patriots after serving the past nine seasons as an area scout, including the last four as a member of the Cleveland Browns scouting department. Prior to that, he worked as an area scout for the Detroit Lions from 1994-97 and for the Kansas City Chiefs in 1993. Before joining the NFL ranks, Dimitroff spent three years scouting two other pro football leagues, beginning with the Canadian Football League in 1990-91, followed by a season in the World League in 1992. His season in the World

League was spent scouting all NFL, CFL and World League rosters and tracking player transactions. His two seasons in the CFL prior to that were served as the Canadian scouting coordinator for the Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Thomas Dimitroff Jr. was born in Barberton, Ohio. He played football throughout college and captained his University of Guelph (Canada) football team from 1987-89. His father, Tom, was a long-time personnel scout for the Cleveland Browns.

Francis "Bucko" Kilroy is celebrating his 60th season in the NFL and has been a member of each of the Patriots' three Super Bowl teams. During his career, he has held nearly every position imaginable. He has been a player, coach, personnel director, general manager, vice president and now serves as a consultant in the Patriots scouting department.

Kilroy was originally hired by the Patriots in 1971 as their player personnel director and was responsible for selecting the team's first two Pro Football Hall of Fame inductees, guard John Hannah (1973) and cornerback Mike Haynes (1976). He is credited with building some of the best teams in franchise history with the drafting of such players as Julius Adams, Hannah, Sam Cunningham, Steve Nelson, Russ Francis and Steve Grogan during his first five years as personnel director (1971-75). During the next three years, the Patriots compiled a 31-13 record (.705), including two playoff appearances.

Following the team's success, Kilroy was promoted to general manager in 1979 and was responsible for directing the Patriots day-to-day business operations, as well as handling all contract negotiations. On Feb. 16, 1983, he was promoted to vice president, a position he held until he retired following the 1993 season. Since then, he has offered his assistance as a scouting consultant to the personnel department.

Kilroy is revered in scouting circles, having started many of the scouting services that are now used by the entire league. He was one of the originators of the National Scouting Combine, now in its 21st year. He also has developed and trained numerous personnel people who later became NFL scouting directors.

He began his playing career with the war-time "Steagles" in 1943 (the union of the Steelers and the Eagles during World War II). He played 13 seasons with the Philadelphia Eagles, serving as a two-way guard and tackle. He played in 134 games during his playing career and showed his versatility by being selected as an All-Pro as both an offensive guard (1947-49) and a defensive middle guard (1952-54). He was also named to the NFL's all-decade team for the 1940's and is listed as one of the league's 300 greatest players. In 1948 and 1949, his Eagles team became the only team to ever post back-to-back shutouts in championship games.

Following his playing career with the Eagles, he moved from the field to the sidelines as a coach and scout for the Eagles (1956-61). He was named director of player personnel for the Washington Redskins in 1962 and then moved to the Dallas Cowboys in 1966. While with the Cowboys (1966-70) he worked with Gil Brandt and Tom Landry. Together they helped the Cowboys win five divisional championships.

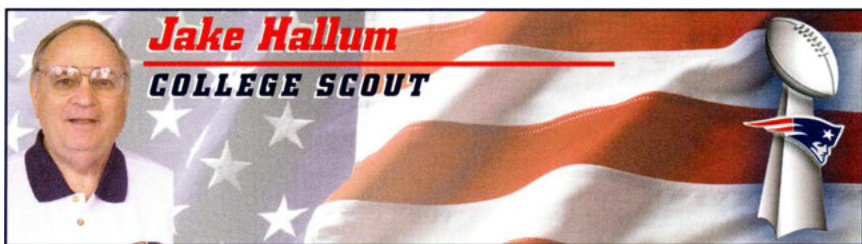

Kilroy was born May 30, 1921 in Philadelphia and resides in Foxborough, Mass.

Marvin Allen is enjoying his 10th season with the New England Patriots, including his sixth season in the player personnel department. He returned to the Patriots organization on June 19, 1997 when he was hired as a regional college scout. Allen was originally drafted by the Patriots in the 11th round (294th overall) of the 1988 NFL draft after averaging 5.1

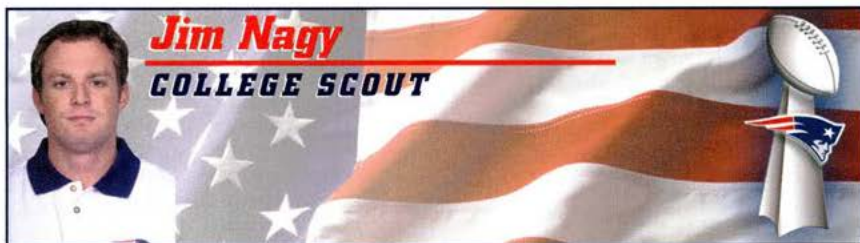

yards per carry (73 rushes) as a senior at Tulane. In four seasons with the Patriots (1988-91), he rushed for 378 yards and two touchdowns on 94 carries (4.0 avg.). He also returned 43 kicks for 844 yards (19.6 avg.). Allen was born Nov. 23, 1965 in Wichita Falls, Texas.

Jake Hallum joined the Patriots scouting department as a college scout on May 31, 2000. For more than three decades, Hallum has been evaluating college talent. Prior to joining the Patriots, he provided five seasons of expertise as a college scout for the Philadelphia Eagles. His experience at the college level began as the head coach at Morehead State in 1968. After four seasons (1968-71), Hallum moved on to the University of Maryland, where he coached the offensive line from 1972 to 1981. In 1982, he began an eight-year assignment as an assistant at Kentucky. In 1990, he accepted the position as offensive line and tight ends coach at Arizona State. Following the 1991 season, he left the coaching ranks, completing a 24-year coaching career. In 1992, he began his scouting career as a regional scout for National Football Scouting, a position he held for three seasons prior to joining the Eagles. During his three-year tenure, he scouted Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Mississippi. Hallum was born Nov. 2, 1938 in Liberty, S.C. He played line-backer and guard at Newberry College (1957-60) and later earned his master's degree from Murray State in 1965. He coached high school football at his alma mater, Pickens (S.C.) High (1960-62), before making stops at Hopkinsville (Ky.) High (1962-66) and Paul Blazer High in Ashland, Ky. (1966-67). Jack and his wife, Mable, have two sons, Todd and Bart.

Jim Nagy joined the Patriots in 2002 as a college scout. He joins the Patriots scouting department after a season as a regional scout for the Washington Redskins. Prior to that, Nagy spent three years (1998-2001) as the director of NFL scouting for War Room Scouting, Inc. He also worked with SFX Sports Group as a recruiting coordinator and draft consultant from 1997-2000. He launched his NFL career as an intern with the Green Bay Packers during their Super Bowl Championship season in 1996. In addition to personnel evaluations, he has also served as an on-set consultant for "NFL Today" from 1998-2000 and wrote a weekly NFL column for The Sporting News from 2000-01. Jim holds a business degree from Michigan.

Jonathan Robinson joined the Patriots in 2002 after four seasons of coaching at the collegiate level, including his last three seasons at Nichols State. In 2001, he instructed the team's linebackers and held regional recruiting responsibilities for the Colonels. The Union City, Tenn. native attended high school at Union City and lettered as an offensive and defensive lineman. He attended Southeast Missouri State, and played three seasons as a defensive lineman. Following his playing career, he received his first coaching assignment with his alma mater in 1998, prior to joining the Nichols State staff in 1999. Jon and his wife, Jaimie, were married in 2002.

Jay Muraco is enjoying his seventh season in the NFL, including his third season with the New England Patriots. He joined the Patriots personnel department in 2000 as the college scouting coordinator after four seasons in the scouting department of the Philadelphia Eagles. While attending Kent State, he interned with the San Diego Chargers personnel department during their 1992 training camp and then volunteered to work for the Cleveland Browns personnel department while finishing school from 1992-95.

Andre Tippett is enjoying his 21st season as a member of the New England Patriots, including his ninth in the Patriots' front office. He is one of just seven current staff members who celebrated each of the team's three Super Bowl appearances and enjoyed his first Super Bowl title last year. He was named the assistant director of pro scouting on March 5, 1998. In his current role, he assists Scott Pioli in scouting all pro personnel. In addition, he handles the team's advance scouting responsibilities for upcoming opponents.

Tippett moved into the Patriots front office after a stellar 12-year playing career as an outside linebacker, retiring after the 1993 season as arguably the most dominant defender in Patriots history. In 1999, he was inducted into the team's Hall of Fame.

He was originally drafted by the Patriots in the second round of the 1982 NFL draft. In 1984, he set a franchise record with 18.5 sacks to earn his first of five consecutive trips to the Pro Bowl. A ruptured muscle in his right shoulder in the 1989 preseason finale sidelined him for the year and snapped his streak of Pro Bowl appearances. Pro Football Hall of Famer Mike Haynes is the only other Patriots defender to appear in five consecutive Pro Bowls.

In 1985, Tippett led the conference with 16.5 sacks and helped power the Patriots to their first AFC Championship and Super Bowl appearance. He was a consensus first-team All-Pro selection and earned Defensive Player of the Year honors from UPI and the New York Daily News. He was also voted the Tums Neutralizer of the Year (selected by NFL Films for the hardest hits of the season). In 1987, he led the conference in sacks again, with 12.5, and the honors continued to roll in. He was voted the Linebacker of the Year by the NFL Alumni Association and the NFL Players Association and was again voted first-team All-Pro by numerous news outlets, including AP and PFWA. In the 1993 season finale, he recorded 1.5 sacks against the Miami Dolphins giving him 100 for his career. At the time, he was just the seventh player in NFL history to reach that plateau.

Tippett was born on Dec. 27, 1959 in Birmingham, Ala. He was a three-sport star in football, track and wrestling at Barringer High in Newark, N.J. He was recruited to the University of Iowa, where he earned All-American honors, capping his collegiate career as the Big Ten Champions, earning Iowa their first Rose Bowl appearance since 1959. He was named to Iowa's all-decade team for the '80s and is a member of Newark's Sports Hall of Fame. He has studied martial arts for the past three decades and is a fourth-degree black belt. He began teaching karate at his own school in 1991. His wife, Rhonda, owns a second-degree black belt. Andre has four children; three daughters, Janea, Asia and Madison, and one son, Coby.

Keith Kidd is enjoying his 16th season in football, including his 12th season in player personnel. He joined the Patriots in 2002 as the assistant director of pro personnel after three seasons as the Cleveland Browns' director of pro personnel. With the Browns, he was responsible for managing the pro personnel department and oversaw all the scouting of NFL players as well as the advance scouting of each upcoming opponent. He also played a role in the signing of free agents, including assistance in the negotiations of player contracts. Prior to joining the Browns, he spent eight seasons with the Arizona

Cardinals (1991-98), including the final five seasons in their pro personnel department.

He began a coaching career as the tight ends coach at Eastern Kentucky University in 1987-88. From 1989-90, he coached the defensive backs at Arizona State.

Kidd was born in Richmond, Ky. He holds a bachelor's degree in business administration and a master's degree in sports administration from Eastern Kentucky. His father, Roy, enters the 2002 season at Eastern Kentucky with a 307-119-8 head coaching record over the last 38 seasons. Last year, he became just the third coach in NCAA history to record 300 wins with the same school, joining Eddie Robinson and Joe Paterno. His 307 victories make him the third winningest coach among active Division I or I-AA coaches, trailing only Paterno (327) and Bobby Bowden (323). His brother, Marc, is an executive vice president for Host Communications. Keith and his wife, Laura, have one son, Kody.

Ernie Adams

FOOTBALL RESEARCH DIRECTOR

Ernie Adams returned to the Patriots staff when he was appointed football research director by Bill Belichick on April 25, 2000. His responsibilities include researching special assignments for both the coaching staff and the personnel department. After coaching for four seasons at Northwestern (1972-75), Adams entered the NFL coaching ranks with the New England Patriots as the administrative assistant and assistant offensive coach on Chuck Fairbanks' staff in 1975. In addition to his on-field responsibilities, his duties included all aspects of football operations, including computer analysis, statistical evaluations and film coordination. After four seasons with the Patriots, he accepted a position with the New York Giants in 1979. In 1982, he was promoted to director of pro personnel, a position he held for four seasons. In 1991, he joined Belichick's staff in Cleveland as an offensive assistant, a position he held for five seasons. Adams attended Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass.

Berj Najarian

EXECUTIVE ADMINISTRATOR TO THE HEAD COACH

Berj Najarian was named Executive Administrator to the Head Coach on Feb. 4, 2000. He manages several elements of Head Coach Bill Belichick's off-field agenda, including various football operations, player and staff communication, scheduling, personal requests, and seasonal hirings. He also serves as Internal Liaison between Coach and various club departments and External Liaison to other organizations, including the NFL office. He joined the Patriots after five seasons as a member of the public relations department of the New York Jets. A 1991 Boston University graduate, Najarian returned to New York after college to intern with the New York Knicks. After his internship, he landed a job with a public relations firm in New York City. He is a native of Manhasset, N.Y. Berj is married (Regina).

Jack Mula

DIRECTOR OF LEGAL AND BUSINESS AFFAIRS

Jack Mula is now in his fourth season with the Patriots as the Director of Legal and Business Affairs. In his current position, he serves as the primary negotiator on all draft choice player contracts, and works with Andy Wasynczuk and Scott Pioli on veteran and free agent signings and acts as in-house legal counsel for all departments in the organization. Mula also serves as the club's liaison with the NFL Management Council and negotiates business contract matters for the Patriots and CMGI Field.

For the past three seasons, he has also been involved with the development and construction of CMGI field and its associated infrastructure. Mula was part of the team that worked successfully with local residents, neighbors and businesses in planning for site access and game day operations.

Prior to joining the Kraft's organization, Mula was a successful player agent whose clients included many marquee players in the National Football League. He was the agent who brought Doug Flutie back to the NFL, where Flutie flourished, earning Pro Bowl honors in his first year with the Buffalo Bills. Mula also directed the resurgence in the careers of Raghib "Rocket" Ismail and his brother, Qadry

"Missile" Ismail. Another Mula client was Priest Holmes, who became the NFL's leading rusher with the Kansas City Chiefs last year. Mula also negotiated the player contracts of two Pro Bowler who now hold front office positions in the NFL; Detroit Lions President Matt Millen and the New Orleans Saints Head Coach Jim Haslett.

Mula grew up in Waltham, Mass., where he played football with local sports celebrity Fred Smerlas, the former Buffalo Bills All-Pro and Patriots nose tackle. He also played football and graduated from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst in 1980, where he received his bachelor's degree in business administration and co-founded the university's chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He later earned his Juris doctorate from the New England School of Law. Mula is a member of the Sports Lawyers Association and a former co-chair of the Boston Bar Association's Sports and Entertainment Law Committee. He is also a former city attorney in Waltham, where he still resides and remains active in the sports community. He and his wife, Pam, have three sons, Ryan, Christian and Evan.

Chris Caminiti

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS

Chris Caminiti was hired by the Patriots in 2002 as the director of operations. In his new role, he will be responsible for all logistical coordination of the team's football operations, including all team travel and training camp operations, as well as the various day-to-day player and football staff needs. He joins the Patriots after serving as the head football coach at Granite Hill High School in El Cajon, Calif. From 1992-2001, Caminiti fulfilled coaching assignments and handled travel logistics as a graduate assistant at UNLV (2000-01), as the head coach of the Hildeshiem Invaders of the German Football League (2000), as the offensive coordinator (1999) and defensive coordinator (1997-98) at Occidental College, as the linebackers coach at San Diego (1996) and as an assistant at Cheshire High School in Connecticut from 1992-96. Chris is a native of Enfield, Conn. and graduated from Southern Connecticut State with a master's degree in 1994.

Jim Whalen
HEAD TRAINER

Jim Whalen returns to the New England Patriots as Head Trainer in 2002 after spending the last two seasons as the director of rehabilitation for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Whalen launched his sports training career with the Patriots as an assistant trainer in 1992 and 1993. In 1994, he accepted a position as the assistant athletic trainer at the University of Miami, a position he held for three years. In 1997, he was named the director of sports medicine at Kansas State University, a position he held until returning to the NFL with the Bucs in 2000. Whalen graduated from Bridgewater State College in 1992 with a degree in physical education and earned his master's degree in medicine from Miami in 1996. Jim and his wife, Rene, have two children, Courtney and Ryan.

Joe Van Allen
ASSISTANT TRAINER

Joe Van Allen joined the New England Patriots training staff in the spring of 2001. Prior to joining the Patriots, he served as the team physical therapist at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University in Blacksburg, Va. He also held the title of director of physical therapy at University Physical Therapy, an outpatient therapy practice in Blacksburg. He received his bachelor's degree at Millikin University before earning a master's of science in physical therapy at the University of Miami. Joe and his wife, Jody, were wed in 2000.

Don Brocher
EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Don Brocher was named the Patriots equipment manager for the team in February of 1994. He originally began working for the Patriots on a part-time basis in 1972 as a ball boy on George Luongo's staff. Now in his 31st season, Brocher is the longest tenured employee currently on staff for the Patriots and is one of seven current employees who have contributed to each of the franchise's three Super Bowl appearances. During his tenure, he has handled the equipment needs for 11 of the Patriots 14 head coaches. He was born Nov. 23, 1952 in Boston, Mass. He and his wife, Laurie, reside in Norton, Mass.

John Hillebrand
ASSISTANT EQUIPMENT
MANAGER

John Hillebrand joined the Patriots staff as the assistant equipment manager on May 23, 1994. There, his responsibilities included handling the equipment needs for men's hockey, men's and women's soccer, field hockey, women's basketball, baseball, softball and men's and women's lacrosse, in addition to assisting in the needs of all of BC's 36 varsity sports. He graduated from Edinboro University in Pennsylvania in 1989 and accepted his first job in the Edinboro athletic department as the head equipment manager in 1990. He was born July 31, 1967. The Pennsylvania native is single and currently resides in Wellesley, Mass.

Jimmy Dee
VIDEO DIRECTOR

Jimmy Dee was appointed the video director of the Patriots on April 28, 1997. He oversees all video operations for the Patriots, which includes filming, dubbing and editing of all game and practice footage. He originally joined the Patriots on March 31, 1994 as the assistant video director. Prior to joining the Patriots, Dee was the production director for United Video Cable in Westport, Mass. He was born June 23, 1957 in New Bedford, Mass. Jimmy and his wife, Karen, reside in New Bedford and celebrated the birth of their first son in 2001.

Fernando Neto
ASSISTANT VIDEO DIRECTOR

Fernando Neto joined the Patriots video department as an intern on July 23, 1997. Following the 1997 season, he was offered a full-time position as a video assistant. Prior to joining the Patriots, he worked as a freelance videographer. He attended Franklin Pierce College in New Hampshire, where he earned his degree in communications. In addition to his work behind the lens, he has also spent countless hours producing and editing programs for New Bedford's cable access station in New Bedford, Mass. Fernando is an avid film fan and aspires to one day produce a film.

He became just the third Patriot to have two punt returns for touchdowns in a single season (Irving Fryar and Mike Haynes).

★ Brown increased his career total to three punt returns for touchdowns and joined Irving Fryar as the only Patriots to have three career punt returns for scores.

★ Brown recorded a 55-yard punt return for a score against Pittsburgh in the AFC Championship game (1/27/02). It was the first Patriots special teams return for a score in the playoffs in franchise history.

★ It was just the 14th punt return for a score in NFL postseason history and the first in AFC Championship game history.

- ★ Brown's 14.2 punt return average in 2001 was the second-highest in franchise history, behind Mack Herron's 14.8 average in 1974.
- ★ Brown is the Patriots second-leading all-time return specialist with 3,835 combined return yards, trailing David Meggett's franchise record of 3,999 yards.
- ★ He enters the 2002 season ranked second among the franchise's all-time leading punt returners (1,973 yards) and sixth among the Patriots all-time leading kick returners (1,862 yards).
- ★ Brown has played in 124 games during his 10-year Patriots career, the most of any active Patriot. He enters the 2002 season tied for 26th on the Patriots all-time games played list.
- ★ Brown caught 83 passes and accumulated 944 receiving yards during the 2000 season. His 83 receptions were the sixth-highest single-season total in franchise history.
- ★ Brown earned the Patriots Miller Lite Player of the Year honor after being voted the Player of the Game five times during the 2000 season.

BROWN'S SPOTLIGHTS

- ★ Troy will serve as the Patriots United Way spokesman during the 2002 season.
- ★ Troy is the only Patriots player who is ranked within the top 10 on the franchise's all-time receiving, kickoff return and punt return lists.
- ★ Troy would like to pursue a career in coaching after his playing career.

- ★ Brown tied the Patriots second-highest single-game reception total with 12 catches versus Kansas City (12/4/00).
- ★ Led the team with four 100-yard receiving games during the 2000 season.
- ★ Established career-highs with 39 punt returns and 504 punt return yards in 2000.
- ★ Brown returned a punt 66 yards for a touchdown versus Tampa Bay (9/3/00). It was his first punt return for a touchdown in his career and the first punt return for a touchdown by the Patriots since Dec. 21, 1996 when David Meggett ran 60 yards for a score against the Giants. Brown's punt return for a touchdown was the first by a Patriot in Foxboro Stadium since Irving Fryar returned one 59 yards for a touchdown vs. Atlanta (11/2/86).
- ★ Selected as Miller Lite Player of the Game for his performance against the Eagles (12/19/99) when he led all receivers with five receptions for 105 yards. It was the first of two such awards in 1999.
- ★ In the 1996 season finale against the Giants (12/21), he made one of the most acrobatic receptions of the season when he snared a 13-yard pass from Drew Bledsoe on third-and-13, extending a drive which led to the game-winning touchdown in a 23-22 come-from-behind victory.
- ★ Had his regular season consecutive game streak snapped at 63 after sustaining a sprained ankle, which sidelined him for six weeks in 1998.
- ★ In 1997, Brown started six games at wide receiver for an injured Terry Glenn and finished the year ranked third on the team with 41 receptions for 607 yards. His six touchdown receptions ranked second on the team.
- ★ Earned Staples Star of the Game and Miller Lite Player of the Game honors at the N.Y. Jets (10/19/97) when he recorded a career-high 125 yards and a touchdown on just five receptions (112 of those yards came on three third quarter receptions). On a career-long 67-yard reception, he shook off three would-be tacklers and was highlighted on ESPN for the "Hardest Working Play of the Week."
- ★ Earned Staples Star of the Game and Miller Lite Player of the Game honors vs. Chicago (9/21/97) when he led the team with six receptions for 124 yards, including a 52-yard touchdown.
- ★ Led the team with two 100-yard receiving games in 1997.
- ★ Scored his first career touchdown on one of the most unusual plays of the 1995 season when he picked up a David Meggett fumble on a kick return vs. the New York Jets (12/10) and raced down the sideline for a 75-yard touchdown.
- ★ He became the first Marshall University product to ever play for the Patriots.

Seasonal Reviews

2001 (16/16, 3/3): Started all 16 regular season games on the offensive line ... One of three Patriots offensive linemen to start all 19 games (Joe Andruzzi and Greg Robinson-Randall) ... Helped pave the way for running back Antowain Smith's four 100-yard games during the 2001 season. It was the highest single-season total since Robert Edwards recorded four in 1998 ... Compton rotated to center and Damien Woody moved to guard in shotgun formations during the season. Indianapolis (9/30): Blocked for a rushing attack that gained 177 yards on 39 carries (4.5 avg.) and scored three touchdowns in the Patriots 44-13 victory. San Diego (10/14):

Started at center as the team opened in a shotgun formation and played his normal guard position for most of the game ... Helped power the offense to a season-high 30 first downs and 374 yards of total offense in their 29-26 overtime victory. Indianapolis (10/21): Part of offensive line that led the way for 123 yards rushing and did not allow a sack. Atlanta (11/4): Cleared the way for a rushing attack that accumulated 135 yards rushing on 34 carries (4.0 avg.), including the team's first 100-yard rusher of the year (Smith - 117 yards) ... Threw the key block on a Tom Brady to Smith screen pass that gained 18 yards in the first quarter. Buffalo (11/11): Blocked for a Patriots offense that gained 134 yards rushing on 31 carries (4.3 avg.), including Smith's second consecutive 100-yard rushing performance ... It was the first time a Patriots running back recorded consecutive 100-yard games since Robert Edwards in 1998 (12/13/98 - 12/20/98). New Orleans (11/25): Powered the Patriots offense to a season-high 432 yards of total offense, including 191 yards rushing on 38 carries (5.0 avg.) and their third 100-yard rusher in four games (Smith's 111 yards) ... Led the way down the field along with center Damien Woody on Smith's 44-yard screen pass for a touchdown.

Miami (12/22): Helped lead the offense to a season-high 196 yards rushing on 44 carries (4.5 avg.) and their fourth 100-yard rusher of the season (Smith's 156 yards). Oakland (1/19): Started in his sixth career postseason game as the Patriots accumulated 365 total yards of offense in their 16-13 overtime victory ... The offensive line yielded only two sacks on 52 pass attempts against the Raiders.

St. Louis (2/3): Started at guard and was part of an offensive line that led the way for a game-high 133 yards rushing on 25 attempts (5.3 avg.) in the Patriots 20-17 victory in Super Bowl XXXVI.

★ In high school, he was an Athletic Director's Academic Honor Roll student, earning a 4.0 GPA.

2000 (16/16-Detroit): Started every game for the Detroit Lions, opening the season at center before switching to guard for the fourth through the 10th game ... Returned to start at center for the final five games of the regular season when the Lions re-instituted their shotgun formation into the passing game ... Served as the chief signal caller on the line ... Moved to left guard to stabilize a position that had lost three players due to injuries and started Weeks 4-10 ... Helped pave the way for Stewart's first two 100-yard games, vs. Minnesota (10/1) and at Tampa Bay (10/19) ... Centered a line that did not give up a sack at Green Bay (12/10) ... Played in his 100th career game vs. New England (11/23) ... Helped the Lions to a season-high 210 yards rushing against the New York Jets (12/17), including a career-high 164-yard rushing effort by James Stewart, in a 10-7 win.

1999 (15/15; 1/1 - Detroit): Started 15 regular season games and one playoff game for the Lions ... Started 15 of the 16 games, including the playoffs, at center after starting the previous three seasons at left guard ... His one other start came at left tackle in place of Ray Roberts in the season finale at Minnesota (1/2/00) ... Made all of the calls along the offensive line ... Missed season opener at Seattle (9/12) with a left knee injury, but returned to starting lineup for the remainder of the season ... His start at left tackle in the season finale was the fifth of his career at that position, having started two games each at that spot midway through 1997 and in the first two games of 1995.

1998 (16/16-Detroit): Started every game at left guard ... Played at a high level throughout the season, both in pass protection and in paving the way for Barry Sanders' 10th 1,000-yard rushing season in a row ... He was on the field for every offensive play for the Lions during the season ... Spent considerable time playing center vs. Tampa Bay (9/28) after Jim Pyne left the game with a pulled groin ... Accepted the role as team's long-snapper in PAT and field goal placements for fourth straight season.

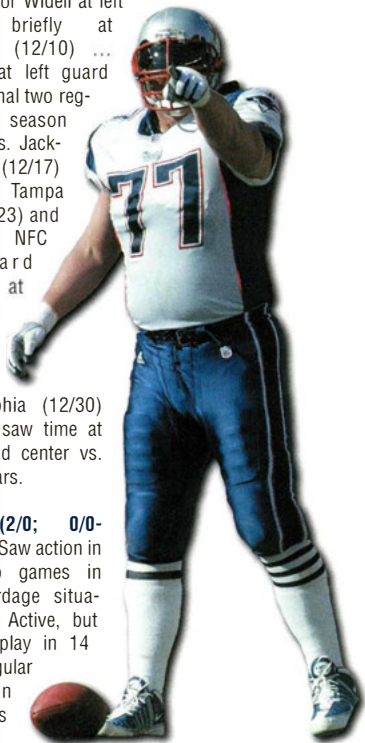

1997 (16/16; 1/1-Detroit): Enjoyed a solid season, starting all 16 games, plus the team's NFC wild-card playoff game at Tampa Bay (12/28)... Played with a broken bone in his hand for the final four games of the season, including the playoffs, but did not miss any playing time ... Started 14 games at left guard, shifting to left tackle at Tampa Bay (10/12) and vs. N.Y. Giants (10/19) with Ray Roberts out due to a knee injury ... Career Highlights

- ★ Career GP/GS: 34/6 (4/0)
- ★ Huard was listed as the Patriots second quarterback for seven of 16 regular season games in 2001.
- ★ Became just the second quarterback in Dolphins history to win his first three games as a starter, joining Earl Morrall, who accomplished the feat during the Dolphins undefeated season in 1972
- ★ In his first action of the 1999 season, Huard replaced Dan Marino and completed 24 of 42 passes for 240 yards with two touchdowns and an interception to lead the Dolphins to a 31-30 victory over the Patriots (10/17/99), despite being sacked nine times. He added 54 yards on six carries, including a long run of 25 yards and earned Miller Lite NFL Player of the Week honors.
- ★ Damon saw action in every game for the Dolphins 1999 and in 2000 (as a placeholder on kicks), but started just six games at quarterback. In those six games, the Dolphins were 5-1.

Seasonal Reviews

2001 (0/0; 0/0): Utilized as the Patriots back-up quarterback for seven weeks (Week 3-Week 9) in 2001 ... Listed as the third quarterback for nine weeks during the regular season and all three post-season games.

HUARD'S SPOTLIGHTS

- ★ When Brock Huard started at quarterback for Seattle vs. Denver and Damon started vs. Indianapolis (11/21/99) it marked the first time in NFL history that two brothers had started at quarterback on the same weekend.
- ★ Led the Frankfurt Galaxy to a 7-3 record and World Bowl appearance, but missed the championship game due to a shoulder sprain suffered in the final game of the 1998 NFL Europe regular season.
- ★ Named ABC Sports Player of the Game in Washington's victory over Miami (Fla.) to end the Hurricanes NCAA-record 58-game home winning streak.

2000 (16/1; 1/0 - Miami):

Started just one game for the Dolphins and improved to 5-1 as a starter with a win over the Colts at Indianapolis (11/26) ... Saw action in every game as a holder on field goal and PAT units, but only saw action in three games at quarterback, including two in a reserve role ... For the season, he completed 61.9 percent of his pass attempts (39-of-63) for 319 yards and one touchdown ... He was also intercepted three times. vs. N.Y. Jets (11/19): Saw his first action of the season at quarterback when he replaced Jay Fiedler, who suffered a pinched nerve during the first offensive series of the game ... Huard completed 16 of 29 attempts for 128 yards, but threw three interceptions in the loss. Indianapolis (11/26): Started for the injured Fiedler and completed 22-of-33 attempts for 183 yards, including a touchdown ... His touchdown came on a 17-yard completion to Oronde Gadsden with 1:10 left in the game, capping a 17-14 come-from-behind victory over the Colts ... Huard connected on 6-of-7 attempts for 76 yards and a touchdown on the game's final drive ... It was Huard's second career fourth quarter comeback ... When Brock Huard, Damon's brother, started at quarterback that same day for Seattle vs. Denver, it marked the first time in NFL history that two brothers had started at quarterback on the same weekend. New England

(12/24): Replaced Fiedler briefly against the Patriots and completed his only pass attempt for a 7-yard gain. Indianapolis (12/30): Participated as the placement holder on PATs and field goal units in a 23-17 victory over the Colts in the Wild Card playoff game.

1999 (16/5, 2/0 - Miami): Saw action in every game as a holder on special teams units and made his NFL starting debut at quarterback vs. Philadelphia (10/24/99), one week after replacing Dan Marino and leading the Dolphins to a come-from-behind victory over the New England Patriots (10/17) ... Started five games and was 4-1 in those games ... Completed 125-of-216 attempts (57.9%) for 1,288 yards, eight touchdowns, four interceptions and 28 sacks for a quarterback rating of 79.8 ... Finished fourth on the team with 124 yards rushing on 28 attempts with a long run of 25 yards ... Took snaps at quarterback in nine contests overall, including four games in a reserve role ... Became just the second quarterback in franchise history to win his first three games as a starter, joining Earl Morrall, who accomplished the feat during the Dolphins undefeated season in 1972 ... Became the first Dolphins quarterback other than Dan Marino to lead the team to three straight victories since David Woodley won the last three games of the 1982 season (Marino was drafted the following season) ... His eight touchdown passes also marked the most by a Dolphins quarterback other than Marino since 1993 when Scott Mitchell tossed 12 touchdown passes when Marino missed the final 11 games of that year with a torn right Achilles' tendon. New England (10/17): Took his first snaps of the season when he replaced Dan Marino, who was suffering from right trapezius spasms, following the second series of the game ... He completed 24 of 42 passes for 240 yards with two touchdowns and one interception to lead the Dolphins to a 31-30 victory over the Patriots, despite being sacked nine times ... He added 54 yards on six carries, including a long run of 25 yards ... For his performance, Huard was named the Miller Lite NFL Player of the Week ... Of his six rush attempts, three were good for first downs on Dolphins scoring drives ... His rushing total was the most by a Dolphins quarterback in a game since David Woodley scampered for 58 yards on seven attempts (9/12/82) at the N.Y. Jets ... His 25-yard run was the longest by a Dolphins quarterback since Scott Mitchell had a 32-yard run on (11/14/93) at Philadelphia ... Dolphins trailed 7-0 when he came into the game, and his first pass was intercepted by Ty Law and returned 27 yards for a touchdown ... Following that, he led the Dolphins to scores on five of their final six possessions of the first half, including four Olindo Mare field goals ... Lone touchdown of the half came on 69-yard strike to Tony Martin with 7:48 to play in the half and was the first touchdown pass of his career, as well as, the longest completion by a Dolphin since Dan Marino hooked up with Stanley Pritchett for a 74-yard scoring pass on

(9/15/96) against the N.Y. Jets ... With the Dolphins trailing 30-22 with 5:46 remaining, he led the Dolphins on two consecutive scoring drives to close out the game, including a 5-yard touchdown pass to Stanley Pritchett on third-and-goal with 23 seconds to play, giving the Dolphins a 31-30 win ... Including the touchdown pass, Huard converted four third-down completions on the game-winning drive. Philadelphia (10/24): Made his NFL starting debut, replacing an injured Marino (right trapezius spasms) and completed 15 of 21 passes for 142 yards with no touchdowns and one interception in Miami's 16-13 victory ... Added 12 yards on 6 rushes ... His 1 interception was returned 67 yards for a touchdown by Eagles safety Brian Dawkins ... Long pass of 26 yards to went to tight end Troy Drayton. Oakland (10/31): Made his second consecutive start and connected on 16 of 32 passes for 221 yards with no touchdowns and no interceptions in a 16-9 win ... Also ran for six yards on six attempts and had one reception for no gain when he caught his own deflected pass ... It was the first reception by a Dolphins quarterback since Dan Marino had one for minus-6 yards at New England (11/2/95) ... Long completion of 36 yards went to wide receiver Oronde Gadsden. Tennessee (11/7): Completed 15 of 25 attempts for 210 yards with two touchdowns and no interceptions in the Dolphins 17-0 victory ... Touchdown passes came on completions of 6 yards to Stanley Pritchett and 43 yards to Tony Martin. Buffalo (11/14): Completed nine of 25 passes for 65 yards with no touchdowns and one interception in a 23-3 loss, Miami's only loss with Huard as a starter. New England (11/21): In his final game as a starter (replacing Marino) he connected on 18 of 30 passes for 129 yards with two touchdowns and no interceptions ... His touchdown passes both went to Oronde Gadsden ... Left the game permanently in the third quarter with a broken nose sustained after being sacked by Willie McGinest ... Also rushed for 13 yards on three attempts. Dallas (11/25): Saw action in a reserve role and completed four-of-five passes for 44 yards with a long of 27 ... Also rushed once for six yards. N.Y. Jets (12/12): Saw reserve action late in the game and connected on six-of-seven passes for 75 yards, including a touchdown and a long of 18 yards ... His touchdown pass was an 8-yard toss to Gadsden. Washington (1/2/00): Played the entire second half and connected on 18 of 29 passes for

THE RING – BY THE NUMBERS

143 – The total number of diamonds displayed in each ring.

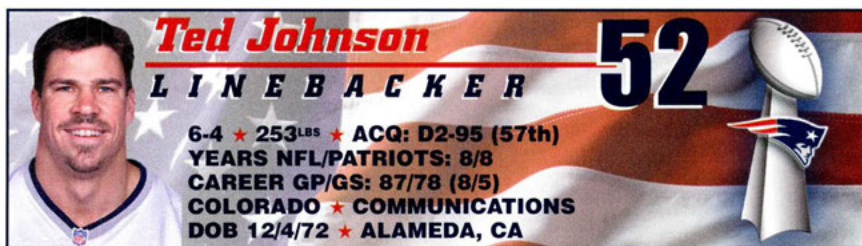

42 – The number of diamonds circling the top of the ring, celebrating the Patriots first Super Bowl championship in its 42nd season.

36 – A Super Bowl XXXVI logo adorns one side of the ring. Of the 36 Super Bowls played, Jostens has produced 24 of the championship rings.

14 – The ring is a 14-karat white gold, uniquely different from the many other Super Bowl rings that are “gold” colored rings. The Patriots’ 14th win was over the St. Louis Rams in Super Bowl XXXVI. It was the first time in franchise history that the team had ever won 14 games in a season.

3 – The ring weighs nearly 3 ounces (48 pennyweight) - believed to be the heaviest in its class - one ounce for each Patriots Super Bowl appearance.

PRO BOWLS

Career Transactions

Ty Law was drafted by the Patriots in the first round (23rd overall) of the 1995 NFL draft ... Signed by the Patriots on July 20, 1995 ... Signed a seven-year contract extension on (8/20/99) ... Placed on injured reserve on (12/29/99) with a broken hand ... Placed on reserved/suspended list (12/20/00).

Career Highlights

★ Career GP/GS: 103/95 (9/9)

★ Law enters the 2002 season ranked seventh on the Patriots all-time interception list with 25 career picks.

★ Law has played in 103 games during his eight-year career with the Patriots and is one of only three current players who have eclipsed the 100-game mark with New England (Troy Brown, 124 and Willie McGinest, 109).

★ Law earned his second trip to the Pro Bowl following the 2001 season.

★ Law intercepted three passes during the 2001 season and returned two for scores (23 yards vs. Indianapolis, 9/30 and 46 yards at Carolina, 1/6/02). He is just one of six players in franchise history to return two interceptions for scores in one season.

★ Law leads all Patriot defenders with five career interception returns for scores. Numerous defenders are tied for second with two.

★ Law led the Patriots with 27 tackles during the 2001 postseason, including a postseason career-high 12 vs. Oakland (1/19/02).

★ Law recorded a 47-yard interception return for a touchdown in Super Bowl XXXVI, the sixth in Super Bowl history. It was the longest interception return in Patriots postseason history.

★ Law finished the 2000 season ranked second among defensive backs and sixth on the Patriots defense with 74 tackles.

★ Intercepted a Damon Huard pass (10/17/99) and returned it 27 yards for a touchdown. It was his third of five interception returns for touchdowns in the regular season during his career.

★ Law enjoyed a breakthrough season in 1998, earning a start in his first Pro Bowl after leading the league in interceptions with nine. It was the first time a Patriot had ever led the league in interceptions.

★ At the 1999 Pro Bowl, Law intercepted a pass and returned it 67 yards for a touchdown and became the first defensive back to be voted co-MVP of the game in nine years.

★ Returned a Peyton Manning interception 59 yards for a touchdown (9/13/98). It was his second career interception returned for touchdown.

★ Set a career-high with 77 tackles (69 solos) in 1997.

★ Returned an interception 38 yards for a touchdown against the Jets (12/8/96). It was his first career touchdown and earned him his first Miller Lite Player of the Game honors.

★ Repeated as Miller Lite Player of the Game the following week at Dallas (12/15/96) when he posted seven solo hits and intercepted a pair of Troy Aikman passes in a 12-6 loss. He prevented two touchdowns in that game, by deflecting a pass out of the arms of Michael Irvin in the end zone and intercepting a pass in the end zone.

★ Recorded a career-high 12 tackles, including 10 solos and batted down two passes at Indianapolis (10/20/96).

★ Made his NFL starting debut as a nickel back to defend against Atlanta's "Red Gun" offense (10/1/95) and was credited with four defensive stops.

LAW'S SPOTLIGHTS

★ Ty donated $75,000 to the Minority Faculty Development program at Brigham and Women's Hospital in June of 2001. His donation was used to support the work of Dr. Michelle Asha Albert, a physician on BWH's Division of Cardiovascular Medicine.

★ Ty's childhood idol was his cousin, former University of Pittsburgh and Dallas Cowboy star Tony Dorsett. He grew up as teammates with Anthony Dorsett (Oakland Raiders).

Also had a season-high four passes defended. Arizona (10/31): Named defensive co-captain for the game ... Led the team with seven solo tackles ... Intercepted a pass, tipped by Ferric Collons at the line of scrimmage ... It was his second interception of the season, the 20th of his career ... Limited the Cardinals to a defensive best 90 net yards passing and just 166 total net yards in a 27-3 pounding of the Cardinals. Miami (11/21): Forced a Rob Konrad fumble late in the second quarter to end a Dolphin scoring threat ... It was his second forced fumble of the season. Dallas (12/5): Broke a bone in his hand late in the fourth quarter in a 13-6 victory over the Cowboys ... It was the first victory in the series in Patriots franchise history ... Still had six tackles in the game. Indianapolis (12/12): Started despite the fractured bone in his hand, opting to play with a soft cast providing the protection ... Played the entire game and was credited with five solo tackles ... Had surgery to set pins in his hand and was listed among the Patriots inactives the next two games before being placed on injured reserve for the season.

1998 (16/16, 1/1): Law had a breakthrough season and was arguably the best cornerback in the league in 1998 ... One of just seven players to start every game for the Patriots in 1998, drawing the assignment of covering the opponent's best receiver on most plays ... He led the league with nine interceptions and was voted to his first Pro Bowl as an AFC starter ... Became the first Patriot to ever lead the league in interceptions and was the first Patriots cornerback voted to the Pro Bowl since Raymond Clayborn in 1986 ... At the Pro Bowl, he intercepted a pass and returned it for a touchdown and was voted co-MVP of the game ... It was the first time a defensive back had won the award in nine years ... Earned Associated Press first-team All-Pro honors, along with Deion Sanders ... Named to Sports Illustrated's, USA Today's, The Sporting News's, Football Digest's and College and Pro Football Weekly's All-Pro Teams and was selected to the All-NFL Team by Pro Football Weekly ... Football News named him to their All-AFC team along with teammate Lawyer Milloy ... He was named the NFL Alumni Defensive Back of the Year, as voted on by NFL alumni who played that position ... His nine interceptions ranked second among the Patriots all-time single-season interception leaders (Ron Hall, 11, 1964) and gave him 18 for his career, moving Law into the Patriots top 10 among all-time interception leaders ... The only player in the 1990s to record more interceptions than Law was Chicago's Mark Carrier, who had 10 interceptions in 1990 ... In addition to his nine picks, Law was also credited with a team-high 33 passes defended ... His 33 passes defended were three times his previous high of 11 (1997) and three more than his career total (30) entering the 1998 season ... In the home opener vs. Indianapolis (9/13), Law caught just as many Peyton Manning passes as Colts receiver Marvin Harrison - two ... Law finished the game with five tackles and two interceptions, one that he returned 59 yards for a touchdown ... He was selected the Patriots Miller Lite Player of the Game ... It was just the second interception returned for a touchdown in his four-year career ... The following week, he made seven tackles and stopped an Oilers scoring threat when he intercepted a pass in the end zone, his third interception of the season, and returned it 18 yards, securing a 27-16 victory over Tennessee (9/20) ... Limited Yancey Thigpen to just three receptions for 21 yards in the game ... Intercepted his fourth pass in three games when he picked off a Danny Wuerffel attempt at New Orleans (10/4) ... His four interceptions for the season marked a new personal best, in just the fourth week of the season ... Registered eight solo tackles and added a Dan Marino ball to his collection, which led to a Patriots field goal at Miami (10/25) ... Picked off another pair of passes, which were converted into a field goal and a touchdown, and was credited with six passes defended in a loss to Atlanta (11/8) to earn his second Patriots Miller Lite Player of the Game honors of the season ... Recorded a team-high and a personal season-high nine tackles and grabbed his eighth interception of the season in a 23-9 victory over his hometown Pittsburgh Steelers ... He recovered a Jerry Rice fumble and intercepted a Steve Young pass, his ninth and final interception of the season, which he returned 30 yards to help the Patriots pull off a late-season 24-21 upset victory over the 49ers (12/20) ... Earned his third Patriots Miller Lite Player of the Game honors in the season finale at New York (12/27) when he recorded five tackles and four passes defended vs. the Jets.

1997 (16/16, 2/2): Law started every game at left cornerback for the Patriots, including both playoff games, and totaled 77 tackles (69 solos) - seventh on the team ... His 77 tackles and 69 solo stops represented career-highs for the third-year corner ... Intercepted three passes, which he returned for 70 yards, knocked down 11 passes and recovered one fumble ... Led the team with nine tackles, including eight solo stops, at Indianapolis (9/7) ... Recovered his first career fumble vs. the Jets (9/14) and was credited with four solo stops ... Made seven tackles and intercepted his first pass of the season vs. Chicago (9/21) - the seventh of his career ... He returned the interception 30 yards ... Batted down three passes and totaled three tackles at Denver (10/6) ... Intercepted his second pass of the season vs. Buffalo (10/12) and returned it 40 yards - a career-long ... Posted five tackles in each of the next three games, including five solo stops after being named the defensive captain vs. Green Bay (10/27) ... Shared in a sack with Todd Collins at Minnesota (11/2), his only sack of the year ... Intercepted his third and final pass of the season at Buffalo (11/9), ninth of his career ... Made seven solo tackles vs. Indianapolis (11/30), followed with nine solo stops at Jacksonville (12/7) and eight tackles vs. Pittsburgh (12/13) ... Added six tackles during the postseason, including four solo stops and a pass defended at Pittsburgh (1/3/98).

1996 (13/12, 3/3): Started the first nine games of the season at left cornerback ... Missed three games; at N.Y. Jets (11/10), vs. Denver (11/17) and vs. Indianapolis (11/24) due to a knee sprain ... Returned to the starting lineup at left corner for the final six games, including the three playoff games ... Compiled a career-high and ranked seventh on the team with 62 tackles, despite missing four starts due to a knee injury ... (10/20) ... Sprained his knee vs. Miami (11/3) and was sidelined for the next three games ... Returned to action as a reserve at San Diego (12/1) and made one defensive stop ... Returned to the starting lineup at left corner vs. the Jets (12/8) and grabbed his first interception of the season, which he returned 38 yards for a touchdown ... It was the first touchdown of his professional career and earned him his first Miller Lite Player of the Game honors ... Repeated as Miller Lite Player of the Game the following week at Dallas (12/15) when he posted seven solo hits and intercepted a pair of Aikman passes in a 12-6 loss ... Prevented two touchdowns in the game by deflecting a pass out of the arms of Cowboy WR Michael Irvin and intercepting another pass in the end zone ... Closed out the regular season with seven solo stops at the Giants (12/21) ... Provided 10 tackles in three postseason games, including three hits in Super Bowl XXXI vs. Green Bay (1/26/97).

1995 (14/7): Started seven of 14 games as a rookie, missing just two games vs. Buffalo (10/23) and Carolina (10/30) due to a hip flexor injury ... He finished the year ranked 10th in total tackles with 47 (40 solos), including his first career sack ... He was credited with nine passes defended, including three interceptions for 47 yards ... He saw action on special teams early in the season and contributed one solo tackle for the Patriots coverage units ... Played in each of the first three games, seeing action in nickel and dime pass coverages ... Recorded five solo tackles at San Francisco (9/17) ... Made his NFL starting debut as a nickel back to defend against Atlanta's "Red Gun" offense (10/1) and was credited with four defensive stops ... Replaced Maurice Hurst (calf injury) to make his NFL starting debut at right cornerback at Kansas City (10/15) ... He missed the next two games due to a hip flexor injury and was listed among the Patriots inactives ... He earned the starting position at right corner late in the season ... Made his first of five consecutive starts in a 35-25 victory at Buffalo (11/26) and recorded his first NFL interception on a Jim Kelly pass ... Picked off his second pass of the season the following week vs. New Orleans (12/3) and returned it 38 yards, the second-longest interception return of the season for the Patriots ... Extended his interception streak to three games the following week and provided eight defensive stops in a 31-28 victory over the New York Jets (12/10) ... Closed out his rookie campaign with a season-high eight solo stops, including his first career sack at Indianapolis (12/23) when he hit Jim Harbaugh on a corner-blitz late in the first quarter.

College

Law declared himself eligible for the 1995 NFL draft after lettering three years at Michigan (1992-94) ... He earned first-team All-American honors from Walter Camp as a senior and was a two-time unanimous All-Big Ten Conference selection ... Finished his collegiate career with 154 total tackles (120 solos) and 17 passes defensed, including six interceptions ... Totaled 58 tackles (45 solos) and batted away eight passes, including two interceptions in his final season at Michigan ... He earned first-team Sophomore All-American honors in 1993 after leading the team with six interceptions and finishing fourth on the team with 57 tackles (47 solos) and a tackle for loss ... His top game was a two interception effort, including one in the end zone and the other at the five-yard line, to kill a pair of touchdown drives in a 28-0 shutout of Ohio State, earning National Player of the Week honors from The Sporting News and Sports Illustrated and Big Ten Conference Defensive Player of the Week accolades ... Played in every game as a true freshman, starting the team's final six contests at weakside cornerback and finished the year with 49 tackles.

Career Transactions

Lawyer Milloy was drafted by the Patriots in the second round (36th player selected) of the 1996 NFL draft ... Signed by Patriots (6/5/96) ... Signed a seven-year contract extension on Feb. 10, 2000.

Career Highlights

- ★ Career GP/GS: 96/90 (9/9)
- ★ Voted defensive co-captain for the 2001 season by his teammates and led the team with 113 tackles. It was the fifth consecutive season he eclipsed the 100-tackle mark.
- ★ Led a defensive unit that limited opponents to just 272 points in 2001 (17.0 per game). It ranked third in franchise history and was the lowest since 1977.
- ★ For the past four seasons, Milloy has led the Patriots in tackles with 151 in 1998, 173 in 1999, 121 in 2000 and 113 in 2001. In 1999, he also led the team with four interceptions.
- ★ Earned his third trip to the Pro Bowl following the 2001 season. He trails only Hall of Fame cornerback Mike Haynes (six) for most Pro Bowl appearances by a Patriots defensive back.
- ★ He amassed a career-high three sacks during the 2001 season.
- ★ He snared two interceptions in 2001 and moved into 11th place on the Patriots all-time list with 19. He trails Don Webb, who ranks 10th with 21.
- ★ He has played in all 96 games during his six-year career, including 90 consecutive starts. It is the longest active streak on the team.
- ★ He delivered a devastating block which allowed punt returner Troy Brown to run untouched for an 85-yard punt return for a touchdown vs. Cleveland (12/9/01).

MILLOY'S SPOTLIGHTS

- ★ Lawyer was a two-sport collegiate athlete, lettering in football and baseball at Washington. He played centerfield.
- ★ In 1995, Lawyer played on a Washington team that played Georgia Tech in the College World Series regional finals. That team featured current Red Sox Jason Varitek and Nomar Garciaparra. In one game, Lawyer stole third on Varitek.
- ★ On Mother's Day 1996, Lawyer bought his mom a new house.

- ★ Intercepted a Kordell Stewart pass late in the fourth quarter of the 2001 AFC Championship game to help seal the Patriots 24-17 victory.
- ★ He has totaled 755 tackles during his six-year career, at an average of 126 per season.
- ★ Led the team with six double-digit tackle performances during the 2000 season.
- ★ Also led the team with four forced fumbles in 2000, the highest single-season total since Willie McGinest recorded four in 1995.
- ★ Voted to his first Pro Bowl following the 1998 season. He was the first Patriot safety voted to the Pro Bowl since Fred Marion in 1985.
- ★ Closed out a memorable '98 season with 27 tackles in the final two games, including a career-high 16 vs. San Francisco (12/20/98).
- ★ In 1997, Milloy totaled 112 tackles, second on the team behind Ted Johnson. He became the first Patriots defensive back to amass over 100 tackles in a season since Fred Marion led the team with 119 tackles in 1990.
- ★ Intercepted passes in each of the last two regular season games in 1997. His interception vs. Pittsburgh (12/13/97) set up a Patriots touchdown. His interception in the season finale at Miami (12/22/97) was his first off future Hall of Fame QB Dan Marino.
- ★ Milloy led the team with 12 tackles vs. Denver (11/17/96). He also intercepted his first career pass, which he returned for 14 yards and was selected as the Miller Lite Player of the Game for his performance.
- ★ Made his NFL starting debut two weeks later at Indianapolis (10/20/96). Posted eight tackles (5 solos) and forced his first career fumble.
- ★ Earned all-rookie honors by College & Pro Football Newsweekly, Football News and Pro Football Weekly.

On Smith's first interception, he raced down the sideline for a 45-yard score and then just five minutes later he sprinted untouched 51-yards for his second score ... His two touchdowns on interception returns in the same game was the 20th time in NFL history that the feat had been accomplished.

1996 (2/0 - N.Y. Jets; 11/6, 3/3 - New England): Waived by the Jets (9/24) and signed with the Patriots (10/9) ... Played in 11 games with the Patriots and recorded 31 tackles, two interceptions and eight passes defended ... Recorded an interception which resulted in a Patriots touchdown in their 45-7 victory over San Diego (12/1) ... Credited with a season-high six tackles (5 solos), including one sack, and added an interception in 23-22 victory over the N.Y. Giants (12/21) ... Made significant contributions on defense during the playoffs, including one of the biggest plays of Patriots playoff history, recovering a fumble and returning it 47 yards for a touchdown versus Jacksonville in the AFC Championship game ... At the time, New England was clinging to a 13-6 lead and the score sealed a 20-6 victory and a Super Bowl berth.

1995 (11/10 - N.Y. Jets): Led the Jets and tied for second in the AFC with a career-high six interceptions ... Played in 11 games, started 10 ... Recorded 47 tackles and finished second on the team with 13 passes defended ... Registered an interception that set up a Jets touchdown at Miami (9/3) ... Returned an interception 49 yards for a touchdown vs. Indianapolis (9/10) ... It was his second career interception return for a touchdown (vs. Wash., 12/22/91) ... Added seven tackles and two passes defended at Atlanta (9/24) ... Recorded an interception in each of the first four games ... Listed inactive for games five through nine with a high ankle sprain ... Returned to the starting lineup vs. Buffalo (11/19) and had three tackles and a passes defended ... Nabbed two interceptions vs. St. Louis (12/3).

1994 (Philadelphia - 16/2): Played in all 16 games and started two, as a fifth defensive back ... Utilized as Philadelphia's nickel back and finished third on the team with 21 tackles (16 solos), including one sack ... Also recorded a career-high 20 special teams tackles ... Made fourth-down, goal-line tackle of Edgar Bennett with 1:46 remaining in 13-7 win vs. Green Bay (9/18) ... Recorded his first career sack at Atlanta (11/27).

1993 (Philadelphia - 15/0): Voted special teams MVP by his teammates for the second time in three years ... Led team with 14 special teams tackles and downed several punts deep in opponent territory ... Credited with five defensive tackles and one interception ... Missed season-opener with a thigh injury but played in the final 15 games of the season as the nickel back and on special teams ... Participated at left cornerback for the injured Mark McMillian in the second half vs. Giants (11/21) ... Intercepted a pass by Brian Mitchell on a fake punt, setting up a Philadelphia touchdown, and broke up a sure touchdown pass from Rich Gannon to Ricky Sanders at Washington (11/28)

1992 (16/1 - Philadelphia): Played in all 16 games and started one game at cornerback ... Lone start came vs. Washington (12/20) ... Finished second on the team in

- ★ Career GP/GS: 96/0 (9/0)
- ★ Has totaled 688 points in his first six seasons in the NFL after going undrafted and signing as a free agent in 1996. It is the second most proficient start to an NFL career in the history of the game.
- ★ Scored 113 points during the 2001 season and became just the second player in NFL history to record at least 100 points in the first six seasons of his career, joining Jason Elam (1993-98).
- ★ Became just the third Patriot to amass 650 points during his career when he connected on a 28-yard game-winning field goal at N.Y. Jets (12/2/01), joining Gino Cappelletti (1,130 points) and John Smith (692).
- ★ Vinatieri is the most reliable field goal kicker in franchise history, connecting on 80% of his kicks (160-199). Tony Franklin made 74.4% of his kicks (93-125) and ranks second in Patriots history.
- ★ Kicked five game-winning field goals during the 2001 season, including three in overtime, increasing his career total to 13. Three of his kicks were during the 2001 regular season and two came during the postseason. He kicked a 23-yard field goal in overtime to defeat the Raiders in the AFC Divisional game and a 48-yard field goal at the end of regulation to give the Patriots a 20-17 victory over the Rams in Super Bowl XXXVI.
- ★ Vinatieri scored 24 points during the 2001 postseason and is now the top Patriots scorer in post-season annals with 54 points (Tony Franklin, 39).

- ★ Vinatieri ranks second in Patriots history with 160 field goals and 199 field goal attempts behind Gino Cappelletti (176 of 333).
- ★ Set a franchise rookie record with 120 points in 1996.
- ★ Set a franchise record by kicking 25 consecutive field goals without a miss over a span of two years to finish just six kicks shy of the NFL record.
- ★ Scored a career-high 127 points, converting 31 of 39 field goals and all 32 extra point attempts in 1998. His 31 field goals were the second-most in franchise history (Tony Franklin, 32).

★ Earned Miller Lite Player of the Game and Staples Star of the Game honors after converting all four field goals, including a long of 52 yards, and three PATs for 15 points in the Patriots 33-6 victory over Buffalo (10/12/97).

★ While in the World League, Vinatieri showed that he had a strong leg and could double as a punter. He was signed to add depth and consistency to the Patriots kickoff team in 1996, but ultimately displayed enough poise and promise to warrant the release of veteran placekicker Matt Bahr.

★ Caught Dallas Herschel Walker from behind and made a touchdown-saving tackle as a rookie at Dallas (12/15/96).

VINATIERI'S SPOTLIGHTS

- ★ Adam kicked a 48-yard field goal as time expired to give the Patriots a 20-17 victory over the St. Louis Rams in Super Bowl XXXVI. It was the first time a Super Bowl had been decided on the final play of the game.
- ★ Adam has two unique family ties. He is a cousin of Daredevil Evel Knievel and great, great grandson of Felix Vinatieri - who was General Custer's bandmaster.

of the Week for his efforts vs. Buffalo ... Named special teams captain at the Jets (10/19) and extended his field goal streak to a league-best 21 consecutive successful field goals ... Remained perfect for the season, converting his first 17 field goal attempts and every PAT attempt until the 10th game of the season at Buffalo (11/9) when he missed a 42-yard attempt wide right ... His streak of successful kicks ended just six short of the NFL record of 31 consecutive field goals held by Fuad Reveiz ... Followed with a 45-yard attempt, which caromed off the right upright and was no good ... It was just the second time in his career that he had missed two attempts in a game ... His first was also at Buffalo (9/8/96) where he missed two field goals and had a third attempt blocked in a 17-10 loss ... Eclipsed the 100-point plateau for the season at Jacksonville (12/7) and scored 14 points, converting 4-of-5 field goal attempts and a pair of PATs ... Converted just 1-of-3 field goals in the first-round playoff victory over Miami (12/28) ... Scored all six points with a pair of field goals at Pittsburgh (1/3/98) in a 7-6 loss.

1996 (16/0, 3/0): Vinatieri played in every game as a rookie, including all three playoff games ... Led the team in scoring with 120 points, which ranked third in the AFC and fifth overall ... His 120 points by a rookie ranked eighth in NFL history and was the most since Kevin Butler set a new record in 1985 with 144 total points ... It also set a new Patriots rookie scoring record, which Curtis Martin had set in 1995 when he scored 92 points ... The team record for points scored in a season by a rookie kicker was 90, set by John Smith in 1974 ... Vinatieri combined with Curtis Martin to establish another franchise first, as both players scored over 100 points to give the Patriots their first scoring tandem to eclipse the century mark ... Made his NFL debut in the Patriots season-opener at Miami (9/1) and connected on a 25-yard field goal, his only attempt of the day ... Converted a 42-yard field goal at Buffalo (9/8), but missed on kicks from 45, 25 and 47 yards away, as two kicks bounced off the crossbar ... Missed an extra point attempt and a 47-yard attempt vs. Arizona (9/15), before he overcame his kicking slump at Jacksonville (9/22) ... Earned AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors and Miller Lite Player of the Game for his 5-for-6 performance against Jacksonville, including the game-winning 40-yard kick in overtime ... Scored a season-high 16 points in the game ... It was the first game-winning situation he had been in professionally and he converted the kick with the poise of a polished veteran ... His six field goal attempts in a game tied Cappelletti for fourth in team history ... His five field goals made ranks second in franchise history ... Converted his next six field goal attempts ... Scored 12 points and went three-for-three, including a season-long 50-yard kick the following week in a 46-38 victory at Baltimore (10/6) ... Scored 10 points, converting his first three kicks vs. Washington (10/13) before a 43-yard attempt sailed wide right, snapping his consecutive field goal streak at eight (fourth longest streak in franchise history) ... Connected on his next four attempts before attempting a season-long kick from 54 yards out, which fell short vs. Buffalo (10/27) ...

Did not attempt a field goal in a 42-23 victory over Miami (11/3), which snapped a streak of eight consecutive games with a field goal, but he did convert all six PAT attempts ... Converted all six extra point attempts and connected on his only field goal attempt to score nine points in a 45-7 victory over San Diego (12/1) ... Scored 10 points the following week vs. the Jets (12/8) ... Scored the only points of the game with two field goals at Dallas (12/15), but made the play of the game on a Herschel Walker kick return when he caught the track star from behind and made a touchdown saving tackle after a 70-yard return down the sideline ... The defense held and the Cowboys had to settle for a field goal ... Closed out the season with five points in a 23-22 come-from-behind victory over the N.Y. Giants (12/21) ... He scored 13 points in three playoff games ... Concluded his rookie season with three PATs in the Super Bowl (1/26/97), completing a rookie year which included 33 professional games in just over 10 months (combining the World League and NFL games played during the 1996-97 campaign).

College

Vinatieri was a four-year letterman at South Dakota State as a placekicker ... He also handled the team's punting chores from 1992 through 1994, earning first-team all-conference honors in each of those three seasons ... He finished his collegiate career as the school's all-time scoring leader with 185 career points scored ... He converted 104-of-114 PATs (.912) and 27-of-53 field goals (.509) ... In 1992, he kicked a career-long 51-yard field goal, which he tied as a senior in 1994 ... He totaled 144 career punts with a career-long punt of 77 yards as a senior. 1994 (Senior): Converted 35-of-40 PATs and four-of-12 field goals for 47 points as a senior ... College

Davey was the only quarterback in LSU history to throw for over 3,000 yards in a season (3,347; 2001) ... He is also the only passer in LSU annals to throw for over 300 yards in three consecutive games ... He ranks fifth in school history with 29 touchdown passes and sixth with 4,415 yards passing despite starting in only 12 games ... Completed 286 of 478 passes (59.8%), both ranking seventh on LSU's all-time record list.

2001 (Senior): All-Southeastern Conference second-team selection by the league's coaches and the Associated Press ... Started every game and guided Louisiana State to its first outright conference title since 1986 ... Completed a school single season record 217 of 367 passes (59.1%) for 3,347 yards and 18 touchdowns ... Broke the previous marks of 209 of 346 attempts by Jeff Wickersham (1985) and 2,655 yards by Tommy Hodson (1989) ... Only Hodson (19 in 1986 and 22 in 1989) had more touchdown tosses in a season at LSU ... Gained 3,351 yards in total offense on 405 plays, topping the previous LSU season-record of 2,604 yards by Hodson (1989) ... Only Wickersham (414 in 1985) participated in more plays in a season for the Tigers ... Ranked second in the SEC with an average of 278.9 yards passing and 279.2 yards in total offense per game ... Recorded six 300-yard games during the season ... Opened the season by hitting on 19 of 29 attempts for 253 yards and a pair of scores in the Tigers 48-17 victory over Tulane ... Note: Each rating point represents one percent of the area's 2.1 million homes. Cable channel ratings are based on the full number of homes, although only 76 percent of area homes have cable service.

MUST SEE TV

Super Bowl XXXVI attracted 131.7 million Americans (almost one in every two citizens) for all or parts of the game to make it the fifth most-watched program in television history. The first four programs are Super Bowls (XXX, XXVIII, XXXII and XXVII). In fact, the 10 most-watched shows in TV history are Super Bowls. Super Bowl XXXVI earned a 40.4 national rating with a 61 share. That rating was the highest of the TV season and the 12th consecutive year that Super Bowl earned a 40.0-plus rating.

During the regular season, 10 of the Patriots broadcasts were the highest rated program in the Boston market, including each of the final seven regular season games. They drew their highest regular season rating, 31.0, against Carolina in the regular season finale.

GAME SUMMARIES - GAME #4

New England Patriots (1-2) at Miami Dolphins (2-1)

Sunday, 10/7/01 ★ at Pro Player Stadium, Miami (Grass) ★ 1:03 PM EDT (3:05)

Att: 72,713 Game Weather: Mostly Sunny Temp: 88° F, Humidity: 69%, Wind: NW 7 mph

GAME NOTES

The Patriots fell to 1-3 after surrendering three fumbles and 209 yards rushing to the Dolphins. ★ Mike Vrabel recorded his first interception of his career and returned it 15 yards to set up a Patriots touchdown early in the first quarter to take a 7-0 lead and earned Miller Lite Player of the Game honors for his efforts. ★ Antowain Smith converted the turnover into a touchdown with a 9-yard run. It was his second consecutive game with a rushing touchdown. The last Patriot to rush for touchdowns in consecutive games was Drew Bledsoe, who scored in consecutive games last October (10/15/00 and 10/22/00). ★ One of the Patriots three fumbles was picked up by Jason Taylor and returned 1-yard for a touchdown. It was the first fumble returned for a touchdown against the Patriots in three years (Atlanta's Chuck Smith in 1998). ★ The Patriots netted just 69 yards passing, but held Miami to just 87 yards passing. It was the first time that two teams netted fewer than 100 yards passing in a game since the Giants (83) and the Buccaneers (85) on 10/4/98.

GAME SUMMARIES - GAME #5

San Diego Chargers (3-1) at New England Patriots (1-3)

Sunday, 10/14/01 ★ at Foxboro Stadium (Grass) ★ 1:02 PM EDT (3:27)

Att: 60,292 Game Weather: Cloudy and fog Temp: 59° F, Humidity: 100%, Wind: NE 15 mph

GAME NOTES

Tom Brady improved to 2-1 as a starter and earned Miller Lite Player of the Game honors after completing 33 of 54 attempts for 364 yards and 2 scores. His 364 yards led the league for Week 4 and was the second highest passing performance in the NFL this season. It was the highest passing performance by a Patriot quarterback since Drew Bledsoe passed for 379 yards (12/12/99). ★ Terry Glenn returned from a 4-game NFL suspension to record his 13th career 100-yard game with 110 yards on 7 receptions. ★ Troy Brown led all receivers with 11 receptions for 117 yards. His 11 receptions in a game ties him for fourth in franchise history. ★ Antowain Smith rushed for a touchdown for the third consecutive week for the first time of his career. The last Patriot to rush for TDs in three consecutive games was Robert Edwards, who rushed for touchdowns in his first six games.

Sunday, 10/21/01 ★ at RCA Dome, Indianapolis (Turf) ★ 12:00 PM CDT (2:58)

Att: 56,022 Game Weather: Indoor Outdoor Weather: Sunny

GAME NOTES

The Patriots won their second consecutive game and their third in four weeks ★ WR David Patten scored a TD trifecta, scoring on a 29-yard run, a 91 and 6-yard reception and throwing a 60-yard TD pass to earn NFL Miller Lite Player of the Week honors and AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors. He became the first player in the NFL to record the feat since Walter Payton on 10/21/79. ★ The 91-yard TD reception was the longest play from scrimmage in franchise history. ★ Tom Brady had his highest rated passing performance by completing 16 of 20 attempts for 202 yards and three touchdowns for a rating of 148.3. He set an NFL record, extending his streak of consecutive passes without an interception to start his career. He finished the game with 134 career pass attempts. Warren Moon held the previous record (130).

GAME SUMMARIES - GAME #8

New England Patriots (3-4) at Atlanta Falcons (3-3)

Sunday, 11/4/01 ★ at The Georgia Dome, Atlanta (Artificial Turf) ★ 1:02 PM EST (3:03)

Att: 44,229 Game Weather: Indoors Temp: 68° F

GAME NOTES

The Patriots defense collected 9 sacks by eight different players, the second most in franchise history and the most since they recorded 9 vs. Miami (10/17/99). ★ Willie McGinest recorded a pair of sacks and earned Patriots Miller Lite Player of the Game honors for the second consecutive week. ★ Antowain Smith rushed for 117 yards. He is the first Patriot to rush for over 100 yards since Terry Allen rushed for 126 yards vs. Buffalo on 12/26/99. ★ For the first time this season, the Patriots did not score first in the game. ★ The Patriots are now 4-0 when they score 21 points or more, 0-4 when they don't. ★ Adam Vinatieri extended his streak of perfection indoors. He has converted every PAT (23) and field goal (23) attempt of his career. ★ The victory marked the first over an NFC foe since 12/5/99 vs. Dallas.

GAME SUMMARIES - GAME #9

Buffalo Bills (1-6) at New England Patriots (4-4)

Sunday, 11/11/01 ★ at Foxboro Stadium (Grass) ★ 1:02 PM EST (3:03)

Att: 60,292 Game Weather: Sunny and Windy Temp: 47° F Wind: NW 25 mph (24° WC)

GAME NOTES

Antowain Smith iced the game with a 42-yard touchdown run on his final carry with 1:52 remaining in the game. At the time it was the longest run by a Patriot in 2001 and the longest since Kevin Faulk gained 43 yards on a run at Miami (11/21/99). Smith also rushed for two touchdowns for the second time this season. He became the first Patriot to do so since Curtis Martin (3 times) in 1996 and earned Miller Lite Player of the Game honors. ★ The Patriots were credited with five sacks but surrendered seven. ★ The Patriots scored first for the 8th time in 9 games and have now outscored their opponents 121-62. ★ The Patriots moved to 5-0 when they score 21 points or more, 0-4 when they don't. ★ With the victory, Tom Brady improved to 5-2 as a starter and the Patriots improved to 2-0 in November for the first time since 1996.

Sunday, 12/9/01 ★ at Foxboro Stadium (Grass) ★ 1:02 PM EST (3:15)

Att: 60,292 Game Weather: Clearing after snow Temp: 37° F Wind: N 15 mph

GAME NOTES

The Patriots scored 17 unanswered points in the second quarter, which proved to be enough to win the game. ★ Troy Brown returned a punt 85 yards for a touchdown, the second of his career and the second-longest in franchise history (tying Irving Fryar). ★ Brown also caught 7 passes for 89 yards and became just the sixth player in franchise history to record 1,000 yards receiving. He also eclipsed his single-season career high with his 84th reception (83 in 2000). ★ Brown earned Miller Lite Player of the Game honors for the fifth time this season. ★ Terrell Buckley intercepted his third pass of the season, his 41st of his career. It was the 18th interception by the Patriots this season, the most since 1998. ★ Vinatieri converted a 54-yard FG, the second longest of his career and the longest field goal by a Patriot in Foxboro Stadium.

Att: 45,527 Game Weather: Partly Sunny Temp: 34° F Wind: E 13 mph

GAME NOTES

Adam Vinatieri, who was 5-of-12 in Buffalo prior to the game converted all four field goal attempts, including the game-winning 23-yard field goal in overtime to give the Patriots a 12-9 victory. It was his 11th game-winning kick of his career and the third this season. He was selected as the Miller Lite Player of the Game for his efforts. ★ The Patriots scored first for the 11th time in 14 games. ★ The Patriots extended their win streak to four games, their longest since opening the 1999 season 4-0. The Patriots also improved to 3-0 in December, their best since going 4-0 in December in 1994. ★ The game was the fourth in the last five meetings with the Bills to be decided in overtime. Former Bills RB Antowain Smith led all runners with 95 yards. It was his fifth 90-plus yard game of the season.

NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS

FRANCHISE HISTORY

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

Eleven players have been inducted into the Patriots Hall of Fame, including seven who have had their uniform numbers retired by the team – Gino Cappelletti (20), Mike Haynes (40), Steve Nelson (57), John Hannah (73), Bruce Armstrong (78), Jim Lee Hunt (79) and Bob Dee (89). Only three Patriots have received Pro Football's highest honor with their induction into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. John Hannah remains the only career Patriot to earn the honor, while Nick Buoniconti and Mike Haynes both earned induction after spending the first half of their careers with the Patriots. Buoniconti was the most recent Patriots inductee, entering the Pro Football Hall of Fame with the Class of 2001.

#73 John Hannah ★ G ★ Alabama ★ Inducted to Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1991 ★ Inducted to Patriots Hall of Fame in 1991

Hannah played his entire career with the Patriots, from 1973 through the Super Bowl season of 1985 ... Regarded by many as the greatest guard to ever play the game and was the first Patriot player inducted into the Professional Football Hall of Fame ... One of two Patriots voted to the NFL's 75th Anniversary Team ... Played in 183 games, which ranks fifth in franchise history ... He only missed five games due to injuries during his 13-year career ... Selected to nine Pro Bowls (1976, 1978-85), a Patriots team record ... Called "The Greatest Offensive Lineman of All Time" by Sports Illustrated in their Aug. 3, 1981 cover story ... Elected by his peers as the Offensive Lineman of the Year for four straight seasons (1978-81) ... Powered an offensive line that helped set an NFL record with 3,165 rushing yards in 1978 – a record that has not been challenged in 22 seasons ... Hannah was the first rookie offensive lineman in franchise history to start in his NFL debut ... The Alabama product played for the legendary Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant and was drafted fourth overall by the Patriots in the 1973 NFL draft.

#40 Mike Haynes ★ CB ★ Arizona State ★ Inducted to Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1997 ★ Inducted to Patriots Hall of Fame in 1994

Played for the Patriots from 1976-82 ... Selected to the NFL's 75th Anniversary Team and All-NFL Team of the 1980s ... Voted to two All-Pro teams, six All-AFC teams and the All-Rookie team during his Patriots career ... Known for his tenacious man-to-man coverage ... Currently ranks second among the team's all-time leading punt returners with 111 returns for 1,159 yards (10.4 avg.) and fourth with 28 career interceptions ... Named to six Pro Bowls (1976-80 and 1982) in seven seasons ... Haynes was the first player in Patriots history to return a punt for a touchdown – 89 yards vs. Buffalo (11/7/76) ... Ranks third in NFL record book with 608 punt return yards by a rookie and established seven new punt return records for the Patriots during his rookie season ... Voted The Sporting News AFC Rookie of the Year in 1976 ... The Arizona State product was drafted fifth overall in the 1976 NFL draft.

PATRIOTS HALL OF FAME

The team's 11 Hall of Famers include the three Pro Football Hall of Famers listed above (Buoniconti, Hannah and Haynes) plus the eight players to follow listed in alphabetical order.

#78 Bruce Armstrong ★ T ★ Louisville ★ Inducted in 2001

Armstrong is the franchise's all-time leader with 212 career starts ... Armstrong appeared in six Pro Bowls during his 14-year career ... Only Hall of Fame offensive guard John Hannah made more appearances as a Patriot (9) ... Armstrong started 212 of 220 possible non-strike games (he did not participate in three "strike" games during his rookie year). The only non-strike games missed by the six-time Pro Bowler were in 1992 after suffering what was feared to be a career-threatening knee injury in the eighth game of the season at Buffalo (11/1/92) ... Started the first 44 games of his career at right tackle before making the transition to left tackle in his fourth season, where he started 168 of 176 regular season games ... Voted team captain for the 1996 and 1998 seasons. There were no season captains in 1997, but he was elected team captain at season's end for the 1997 playoffs ... One of only 10 players to play three decades (1980s, 1990s and 2000s) with the same NFL team.

#20 Gino Cappelletti ★ WR/K ★ Minnesota ★ Inducted in 1992

Cappelletti was an original Patriot who played for the Patriots from 1960-70 ... Cappelletti is the Patriots all-time leading scorer with 1,130 points (42 TDs, 176 FGs and 342 PATs), which ranks 21st among the NFL's all-time leading scorers ... One of only three men to play every game in the 10-year history of the AFL ... Led the AFL in scoring five times and holds two of the top five scoring seasons in NFL history – 155 points in 1964 and 147 points in 1961 ... Currently ranks fourth among the Patriots all-time leading receivers with 292 catches for 4,589 yards ... Holds the Patriots record for extra points attempted (353), made (342), field goals attempted (333) and field goals made (176) ... He was a five-time AFL All-Star and is currently the Patriots color analyst on WBCN's Patriots Rock Radio Network.

Finished his career as the only Patriots player to record 100 career sacks (at the time, he was just the seventh player in NFL history to reach that mark) ... Set the Patriots franchise single-season sack record with 18.5 in 1984 ... Also holds the second and third highest totals with 16.5 in 1985 and 12.5 in 1987 ... Finished his career with 14 forced fumbles and 17 fumble recoveries (tied for first in team history) ... Played on three playoff teams, including the 1985 AFC Championship team ... Tippett was originally drafted by the Patriots in the second round of the 1982 draft (41st overall) ... Missed the 1989 season due to a pre-season injury ... He is currently the assistant director of pro scouting for the Patriots.

NOTE: The number shown in parentheses indicates the number of Pro Bowl appearances. From 1960-70, Patriots players played in the AFL All-Star Game. All dates listed following 1970 represent NFL Pro Bowl games. The year indicates the season in which the player was selected for Pro Bowl participation, but the game itself is played the following January or February. For example, players selected in the 1995 season played in the 1996 Pro Bowl, but are listed under 1995.

HISTORICAL DATES

On December 12, 1982 the Patriots defeated the Miami Dolphins 3-0 in the infamous "Snow Plow Game." Mark Henderson used his snow plow and cleared a kicking surface on the Schaefer Stadium turf for John Smith. Smith then connected on a 33-yard field goal which would be the only scoring of the game.

- June 1 The Patriots organize a fan advisory board, a group of season ticket holders who will help advise the Patriots on how to make Sullivan Stadium a more exciting and more pleasant place to bring a family to watch an NFL game.
- June 5 In the first-ever NFL Supplemental Draft, the Patriots select slotback Ricky Sanders of the Houston Gamblers, running back Eric Jordan of the Oakland Invaders and quarterback Walter Lewis of the Memphis Showboats.
- Aug. 10 The Patriots install a new SuperTurf surface at Sullivan Stadium. The original SuperTurf was installed in 1977.
- Oct. 25 Hall of Fame receiver Raymond Berry is named the head coach of the Patriots, replacing Ron Meyer. Berry, a former Patriots assistant coach, becomes the team's ninth head coach.

1985

- July 26 Patrick J. Sullivan, William H. Sullivan III and Mrs. Nancie Chamberlain are elected to the Patriots Board of Directors.
- Oct. 13 Raymond Clayborn establishes a new team record for consecutive starts by starting his 111th straight game. Ray Hamilton had the old mark of 110 (set Sept. 16, 1973 to Oct. 26, 1980). Clayborn celebrated the record-setting day by scoring his first professional touchdown on a 27-yard interception return.
- Dec. 28 The Patriots defeated the New York Jets, 26-14, at The Meadowlands (East Rutherford, N.J.) in the AFC wild-card game. With the victory, the Patriots won their first NFL playoff game (the Patriots had an 0-3 NFL playoff record prior to the game).

- Jan. 12 The Patriots defeated the Miami Dolphins, 31-14, to claim their first AFC Championship in team history. In doing so, the Patriots ended an 18-game losing streak at the Orange Bowl that began in 1967. Raymond Berry became the first Patriots head coach to lead his team to the Super Bowl.
- Jan. 26 Super Bowl XX versus the Chicago Bears in the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans. The Bears won the game, 46-10. The game, shown on NBC-TV, was the third-highest rated Super Bowl in history with a 48.3 rating and a 70 share (one rating point represents 859,000 TV households; a share is the percentage of sets in use). Only the 1982 and 1983 Super Bowls had higher ratings. It was the most widely watched TV show ever with 127 million viewers (topping the previous high of 121,600,000 who watched the final MASH episode on February 28, 1983). The previous high in terms of viewers was Super Bowl XIX between the 49ers and the Dolphins (115,880,000). An additional, 300 million people in China watched the game on tape delay.
- Jan. 27 Defensive end Julius Adams retires after 15 years (all with the Patriots). Adams, a second-round draft choice in 1971 out of Texas Southern, was the oldest active defensive lineman in the league at age 37 when he retired. He held the team record until 2000 with 210 games played.
- June 12 Coach Raymond Berry, who led the Patriots to the AFC Championship and Super Bowl XX in his first full season as the team's head coach, signs new five-year contract.
- June 30 John Hannah, who was selected to the Pro Bowl a team record nine times, announces his retirement from the NFL. He retires after starting 183 games, a team record until 1999.
- Sept. 7 1985 AFC Championship banner is raised at Sullivan Stadium in pregame ceremony prior to the season opener vs. Indianapolis. The banner is 10 feet wide and 15 feet long. Mr. William H. "Billy" Sullivan, Jr. is joined by the governors from each of the New England states.
- Sept. 21 QB Tony Eason throws for a then team-record 414 yards. The Patriots lose to Seattle, 38-31, in the game played in Foxboro. Eason was 26-of-45 with three touchdowns and no interceptions.
- Dec. 7 WR Stanley Morgan establishes a new team record for catches in one season with his 67th catch (had five catches on the day). Morgan, who finished the season with 84 catches, broke Derrick Ramsey's previous mark of 66 catches, set in 1984.
- Dec. 31 NEP Partners purchase a three-year option to buy the Patriots.

1987

- Sept. 13 Patriots become first NFL team to have its games on a French-speaking radio network on a regular basis. CKLM—a 50,000-watt station out of Laval, Quebec, Canada—was the flagship station (others were CJSA in Ste. Agathe, Que.; CKSL in St. Jovite, Que., and CJER in St. Jerome, Que.). Pierre Donais provides play-by-play detail.
- Sept. 13 Patriots begin four-year, $5 million contract with WHDH-Radio in Boston.
- Nov. 29 Cornerback Raymond Clayborn ends his consecutive games played streak at 161 when he couldn't play vs. Philadelphia at Sullivan Stadium due to a knee injury suffered the week before vs. Indianapolis on Nov. 22. Clayborn, who went on IR on Nov. 24 (spent rest of season on IR), broke Gino Cappelletti's record of 152 consecutive games-played and Ray Hamilton's 110 consecutive starts.

- July 11 The Patriots retire the number 57 worn by 14-year linebacker Steve Nelson, who retired following the 1987 season. Nelson played in three Pro Bowls and led the team in tackles for eight years.
- July 28 Victor K. Kiam II, the owner and chief executive officer of Remington Products, Inc. of Bridgeport, Conn., agrees to purchase the team from William H. "Billy" Sullivan, Jr.
- Oct. 28 Victor K. Kiam II becomes majority owner of the Patriots. He will be chairman of the team. Francis W. Murray, the minority owner, is the vice chairman. William H. "Billy" Sullivan, Jr., the founder and previous owner, remains as the team's president. The Kiam, Murray and Sullivan team is known as KMS Limited.
- Nov. 23 K-Korp, a company co-owned by Robert Kraft, purchases Sullivan Stadium.
- Dec. 4 Veteran wide receiver Stanley Morgan catches his 500th career reception vs. Seattle.

Professional football arrived in New England on Nov. 16, 1959, when a group of local businessmen, led by former public relations executive William H. "Billy" Sullivan Jr. was awarded the eighth and final franchise in the new American Football League. One week later, Northwestern University running back Ron Burton was selected as the franchise's first draft choice and Syracuse running back Gerhardt Schwedes was selected as the team's first territorial choice.

Three key personnel decisions were made in the winter of 1960. First, former Boston College head coach Mike Holovak was named director of player personnel. Ed McKeever was hired as the team's first general manager and he selected Lou Saban as the team's first head coach.

One of the first orders of business of the management group was giving the franchise a name and that was accomplished through a public contest. Thousands of entries were submitted to name the team and 74 fans suggested the winning name, the Boston Patriots. Shortly after the franchise name was chosen, Boston Globe artist Phil Bissell drew a cartoon of a Minuteman preparing to snap a football and owner Sullivan liked the drawing so much that he selected "Pat Patriot" as the team logo. On April 1, 1960, Boston University Field - the former home of the Boston Braves - was selected as the first home of the Boston Patriots.

The organization's first training camp opened on July 4, 1960 at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. Approximately 350 players reported to the opening of camp, including a large contingent from Boston College. This group would be trimmed to 35 for the start of the regular season. The team's first preseason game was held on July 30 and the Patriots defeated the Buffalo Bills 28-7 at War Memorial Stadium in Buffalo. Patriots defensive end Bob Dee recovered a fumble during the game and scored the AFL's first touchdown. The first "home" game was held two weeks later before 11,000 fans at Harvard Stadium and the Pats lost 24-14 to the Dallas Texans. The team's regular season home opener came on Sept. 9 and 21,597 fans at Boston University field watched the team lose to the Denver Broncos 13-10.

The 1963 season saw the Patriots move to Fenway Park for home games, where they claimed their first division crown with a 7-6-1 record. The team lost the AFL title game, 51-10, to the San Diego Chargers. A number of Patriots players emerged as stars in the AFL during the 1960s, including wide receiver and kicker Gino Cappelletti, running back Jim Nance, quarterback Babe Parilli, linebacker Nick Buoniconti, defensive linemen Houston Antwine, Bob Dee, Larry Eisenhauer and Jim Lee Hunt and center Jon Morris.

In 1970, after a decade of playing at four different sites, including Boston University Field, Harvard Stadium, Fenway Park and Boston College Alumni Stadium, the Patriots selected Foxboro as the new home of the team. In March 1971, the team was renamed the New England Patriots. On Aug. 15, 1971, the Patriots played their first game at Schaefer Stadium in Foxboro, defeating the New York Giants 20-14 before a crowd of 60,423 in a preseason contest.

In 1976, the Patriots earned a wild-card playoff berth, but lost to the eventual Super Bowl Champion Oakland Raiders, 24-21. In 1978, the Patriots won their first outright division title in franchise history, but lost to the Houston Oilers on Dec. 31, 31-14, in the first playoff game at Foxboro Stadium. During the 1970s, several Patriots were regarded to be among the most outstanding players in the league at their positions, including offensive tackle John Hannah, cornerback Mike Haynes and tight end Russ Francis.

In 1982, Schaefer Stadium was renamed Sullivan Stadium. In 1985, the Patriots gained a wild-card berth in the playoffs and went on to defeat the New York Jets, Los Angeles Raiders and the Miami Dolphins to win their first AFC Championship and a trip to Super Bowl XX. Unfortunately, the Patriots faced one of the dominant teams of the '80s as the Chicago Bears shuffled to a 46-10 Super Bowl victory. Following that season, Patriot greats John Hannah and Julius Adams retired.

On July 28, 1988, Remington Products, Inc. CEO Victor Kiam purchased the Patriots from the Sullivan family and retained the team for four years.

In 1990, Sullivan Stadium was renamed Foxboro Stadium and the following season natural grass was installed in the stadium for the first time by the stadium's new owner, Boston businessman Robert K. Kraft. On July 27 1991, Hannah became the first Patriot to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio.

In 1992, St. Louis businessman James B. Orthwein purchased controlling interest of the Patriots and made some dramatic changes, both on and off the field. In 1993, he hired former New York Giants head coach Bill Parcells and a new coaching staff. In addition, he also made some cosmetic changes that spring with the unveiling of a new Patriots logo and the change of primary color from red to blue.

On Jan. 21, 1994, Robert K. Kraft became the franchise's fourth owner when he purchased the team from Orthwein, saving the team from a possible move outside of New England. On May 12, 1994, linebacker Andre Tippett moved from the field to the front office when he announced his retirement. That season, the Patriots closed out the season with a seven-game winning streak to qualify for their first playoff berth since 1985. The Patriots lost to the Cleveland Browns 20-13 in the wild-card playoff game. In 1995, the Patriots produced three Pro Bowl players, including Rookie of the Year running back Curtis Martin. Off the field, the Patriots became the first professional sports team to launch their own web site - www.patriots.com.

The Patriots continued their rise during a memorable 1996 season, winning the AFC Championship and returning to the Super Bowl for the second time in team history. The Patriots finished 11-5 and scored two home playoff wins, 28-3 vs. Pittsburgh and 20-6 vs. Jacksonville, winning the AFC Championship in front of a sold out Foxboro Stadium crowd. The Patriots were defeated by the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl XXXI, 35-21. The game was the fourth most-watched program in television history, attracting some 128,900,000 viewers.

In 1997, the Patriots defended their AFC East division title with a 7-1 record in the division and a 10-6 overall record. It was the Patriots first back-to-back division titles in franchise history. The Patriots hosted and defeated the Miami Dolphins 17-3 in the playoffs, extending their playoff home winning streak to three games.

On Sept. 7, 1998, the Patriots became the first professional sports team to produce their own live postgame show to be broadcast on the Internet. "Patriots Live!" debuted following their season-opening Monday Night Football game at Denver.

The Patriots finished 9-7 in 1998 and qualified for the playoffs, marking the third consecutive season they qualified for the postseason - a team record.

A new era began in Patriots history in 2000 when the team unveiled designs for their new stadium. The new 68,000-seat facility was unveiled to the public on April 18, 2000. On Aug. 23, 2000, the Patriots announced the naming rights of their new stadium, CMGI Field.

The Patriots also began a new era on the playing field when they hired Bill Belichick as the 14th head coach in team history. Belichick was hired by the Patriots on Jan. 27, 2000.

When Kraft purchased the Patriots, he promised the fans of New England that he would bring home a championship. And following the 2001 season, Belichick and the Patriots made good on that promise.

In one of the most dramatic turnarounds in NFL history, the Patriots capped off an 11-5 regular season with three playoff wins for the ages. In the divisional round of the playoffs, the Patriots defeated the Oakland Raiders 16-13 in overtime. The game was a thrilling, snowy sendoff for Foxboro Stadium. Adam Vinatieri kicked a 45-yard field goal to tie the game late in the fourth quarter and then added a 23-yard kick in overtime to win the game, 16-13. The following week in Pittsburgh, the Patriots improved their record to 3-0 in AFC Championship games, defeating the favored Steelers 24-17 to advance to their third Super Bowl.

In Super Bowl XXXVI at the Superdome in New Orleans on Feb. 3, 2002, the Patriots defeated the St. Louis Rams, 20-17, in one of the most dramatic Super Bowl finishes in history. After the Patriots took a 17-3 lead into the fourth quarter, St. Louis rallied to tie the game at 17. But quarterback Tom Brady marched the Patriots into Vinatieri's field goal range and his 48-yard kick sailed through the uprights just before the final whistle to give New England its first NFL Championship. The Patriots were welcomed home with a rally in Boston attended by over one million people and took the Lombardi Trophy to rallies in all of the New England states.

Coming off of their Super Bowl win, the Patriots prepared for the opening of CMGI Field in the fall. Their new home, CMGI Field, is the most fan-friendly state-of-the-art football facility of its kind and one that Patriots fans are glad to call home.

PATRIOTS OVERTIME GAMES

The Patriots are 12-18 all-time in regular-season overtime games during their 42-year history, including a 2-0 record during 2001. The Patriots are 8-15 when the game is decided by a field goal and 4-3 when a touchdown is the deciding factor. Below is a brief description of each overtime game involving the Patriots.

9/26/77 at Cleveland 30, Patriots 27 L

John Smith sent the game into overtime with a 28-yard field goal with no time remaining in regulation. Cleveland's Don Cockroft capped a 10-play, 53-yard drive with a 35-yard game winning field goal after 4:45 of overtime.

9/03/79 Pittsburgh 16, at Patriots 13 L

Pittsburgh's Matt Bahr drilled a 41-yard field goal to give the Steelers the victory at the 5:10 mark in overtime. The clutch field goal came on Bahr's first professional attempt of his career.

11/25/79 ..Buffalo 16, at Patriots 13 L

Buffalo's Nick Mike-Mayer kicked a 29-yard field goal 4:45 into overtime to give the Bills the victory.

Uwe von Schamann kicked his third field goal of the day, a 23-yard game-winner, which gave Miami the three point victory, 3:20 into overtime.

9/27/81 at Pittsburgh 27, Patriots 21 L

The Patriots scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to recover from a 21-7 deficit. Unfortunately, Terry Bradshaw hit Lynn Swann with a 24-yard touchdown pass 3:19 into overtime to thwart the Patriots hopes for victory.

11/08/81 ..Miami 30, at Patriots 27 L

New England's John Smith nailed a 34-yard field goal with 10 seconds remaining in regulation that sent the game into overtime. The Dolphins' Uwe von Schamann kicked a 30-yard field goal, 7:09 into the extra quarter, that gave Miami the victory.

09/04/83 ..Baltimore 29, at Patriots 23 L

The Colts' Raul Allegre kicked a 33-yard field goal as time expired in the fourth quarter to send the game into overtime. On the first play of overtime, Baltimore's LB Johnnie Cooks picked up a Tony Collins fumble and rumbled 52 yards for the game winning score.

11/24/85 ..at N.Y. Jets 16, Patriots 13 L

New England's Tony Franklin sent the game into overtime with a 28-yard field goal with 16 seconds remaining in regulation. In the extra session, the Jets' Pat Leahy kicked a 32-yard field goal to give the Jets a 16-13 win.

11/15/87 ..Dallas 23, at Patriots 17 L

The Cowboys' Roger Ruzik's 20-yard field goal with 28 seconds remaining in regulation tied the game at 17. In overtime, Dallas running back Herschal Walker trotted 60 yards for the game winning touchdown.

11/29/87 ..Philadelphia 34, at Patriots 31 L

The Patriots scored the final 21 points of regulation to send the game into overtime tied at 31. After 12:16 elapsed in overtime, the Eagles' Paul McFadden connected from 38 yards, on his second field goal attempt in overtime.

12/11/88 ..at Patriots 10, Tampa Bay 7 W

The Patriots were victorious in overtime for the first time in franchise history, snapping their 10-game overtime losing streak. Jason Staurovsky kicked a 27-yard field goal, 3:08 into overtime, for the win.

10/29/89 ..Patriots 23, at Indianapolis 20 W

New England's Greg Davis kicked a 51-yard field goal, 9:57 into overtime, for the 23-20 victory. The Colts' Dean Biasucci sent the game into overtime when he kicked a 39-yard field goal with :51 seconds remaining in regulation.

10/20/91 ..at Patriots 26, Minnesota 23 W

With no time remaining in overtime, New England's Jason Staurovsky nailed a 42-yard field goal that gave the Patriots a 26-23 victory. The field goal attempt was Staurovsky's second of overtime.

12/08/91 ..at Patriots 23, Indianapolis 17 W

The Patriots scored the games' final 20 points and won their fourth consecutive overtime game. Hugh Millen connected with Ben Coates for a 2-yard touchdown with :07 seconds remaining in regulation and then repeated the feat in overtime when he hit Michael Timpson for the 45-yard game-winning touchdown.

11/15/92 ..Patriots 37, at Indianapolis 34 W

The Patriots' Charlie Baumann scored the final six points, including the game-winning 18-yard field goal, 11:35 into the extra session. The win snapped the Patriots' nine-game losing streak during the 1992 season. Baumann's 44-yard field goal with two seconds remaining in regulation sent the game into overtime.

12/27/92 ..Miami 16, at Patriots 13 L

The Dolphins were able to clinch the AFC East crown and a bye in the first round of the playoffs, after they scored the games' final 13 points to win 16-13. Pete Stoyanovich's 35-yard field goal, 6:43 into overtime, propelled the Dolphins to victory.

9/12/93 Detroit 19, at Patriots 16 L

Detroit's Jason Hanson kicked a 38-yard field goal, his fourth of the day, 11:04 into overtime to lift the Lions to victory. Drew Bledsoe threw a 2-yard touchdown pass to Vincent Brisby with two seconds remaining in regulation which sent the game into overtime.

PATRIOTS OVERTIME GAMES

11/07/93 ..Buffalo 13, at Patriots 10 L

Buffalo's Steve Christie kicked a 27-yard field goal with 14 seconds remaining in regulation to send the contest into overtime. Each team had two opportunities to score in the extra session, and Christie kicked the game winning 32-yard field goal on Buffalo's second chance.

1/02/94 at Patriots 33, Miami 27 W

Drew Bledsoe connected with Michael Timpson for the 36-yard game winning touchdown to cap one of the greatest endings in Patriots history. The lead change four times in the fourth quarter at the two teams combined for 27 points. Miami's Pete Stoyanovich sent the game into overtime with a 24-yard field goal with four second remaining in regulation.

11/13/94 ..at Patriots 26, Minnesota 20 W

The Patriots completed one of the greatest comebacks in team history, recovering from a 20-0 deficit to defeat the Vikings. New England's Matt Bahr sent the game into overtime when he kicked a 23-yard field goal with 14 seconds remaining. Drew Bledsoe completed a 14-yard touchdown pass to Kevin Turner, 4:10 into overtime, to give the Patriots the victory.

10/29/95 ..Carolina 20, at Patriots 17 L

The Patriots scored 14 points in the fourth quarter on two Curtis Martin touchdown runs and tied the score at 17. However, the expansion Panthers were victorious when John Kasay booted a 29-yard field goal with 7:52 remaining in the extra period.

9/22/96 at Patriots 28, Jacksonville 25 W

The Patriots jumped out to a 22-0 first half lead but the Jaguars clawed their way back. Jaguars quarterback Mark Brunell's touchdown passes of 51, 41 and 61 yards gave them life in the second half and Mike Hollis' 27-yard field goal in the fourth quarter tied the game at 25. However, Patriots' rookie kicker Adam Vinatieri converted five of six field goal attempts, including a 40-yarder in overtime to give the Patriots the victory.

9/14/97 at Patriots 27, NY Jets 24 W

The Patriots won their third consecutive game to open the 1997 season, 27-24, in dramatic fashion when placekicker Adam Vinatieri kicked a 34-yard field goal 6:57 in overtime. The Jets had a chance to win the game at the end of regulation, but defensive end Mike Jones blocked a 29-yard field goal attempt by John Hall with 16 seconds remaining in the game.

12/13/97 ..Pittsburgh 24, at Patriots 21 L

The Steelers sent the game into overtime on a touchdown pass from Kordell Stewart to Mark Bruener and a two-point conversion. They capitalized on a Drew Bledsoe interception with just over two minutes remaining in the game. In the overtime period, the Steelers won the toss and took their only possession 61 yards downfield to set up the game-winning Norm Johnson field goal.

10/25/98 ..at Miami 12, Patriots 9 L

The Dolphins scored the game's final six points, including Olindo Mare's game-winning 43-yard kick. New England's Adam Vinatieri accounted for all of the Patriots' nine points, connecting on three of four field goal attempts.

12/26/99 ..Buffalo 13, Patriots 10 L

The Patriots missed two field goals, one at the end of regulation and one in overtime, and lost to Buffalo. The Bills scored a touchdown to tie the game at 10 with 4:34 remaining and Steve Christie kicked a 23-yard field goal with 1:51 remaining in overtime for the victory.

11/05/00 ..Buffalo 16, Patriots 13 L

Bills Steve Christie booted a 32-yard field goal, the third of his career in overtime against the Patriots. He also tied the game with a 48-yard kick with four seconds remaining in regulation. The Patriots, playing without Drew Bledsoe, took the lead, 13-10 on a 43-yard field goal by Adam Vinatieri.

12/17/00 ..Patriots 13, Buffalo 10 W

Amid a snowstorm in Buffalo, Patriots kicker Adam Vinatieri nailed a 24-yard field goal in overtime for the victory. The game time temperature was 35 degrees, with a wind chill of six, and 40 mile-per-hour winds blew snow across the field making traction difficult for both sides. The Patriots and Bills tied the 1984 and 1985 Denver Broncos and Oakland Raiders for an NFL record as they entered overtime for the third consecutive meeting.

10/14/01 ..Patriots 29, San Diego 26 W

The Patriots scored 10 points with 8:48 remaining in regulation to tie the game at 26. Adam Vinatieri kicked a 23-yard field goal with 3:31 remaining and Tom Brady connected with Jermaine Wiggins for a 3-yard touchdown to tie the game with just 36 seconds remaining. In overtime, Vinatieri nailed a 44-yard field goal for the victory.

12/16/01 ..Patriots 12, Buffalo 9 W

The Patriots and Bills needed overtime to decide the outcome of their game for the fourth time in five meetings. Adam Vinatieri converted all four of his field goal attempts, including the game-winning 23-yard field goal in overtime. Former Bill Antowain Smith led the Patriots with 95 yards rushing, including a 38-yard run in overtime to get New England in field goal position.

1/19/02 Patriots 16, Raiders 13* W

Adam Vinatieri boomed a 45-yard field goal with 27 seconds remaining in regulation to tie the game up at 13 and send it into overtime. The game time temperature dipped to 25 degrees and the field was covered by five inches of snow that didn't let up until the game was over. In overtime the Patriots drove 61 yards on 15 plays and Vinatieri nailed a 23-yard field goal for the 16-13 victory. The Patriots became just the second team in postseason overtime history (16 games) to win the contest on the opening drive of the extra stanza.

PATRIOTS IN NATIONALLY TELEVIEWED GAMES IN 2002

The Patriots will appear in six nationally televised games during the 2002 season, a single-season franchise record. They will open the season, as well as CMGI Field, on Monday Night Football against the Pittsburgh Steelers in a rematch of last season's AFC Championship game.

For the second time in three years and the third time in franchise history, the Patriots will play before a national audience on Thanksgiving Day when they travel to Detroit's Ford Field to face the Lions. The other prime time games include two Sunday Night appearances on ESPN beginning with a Raiders rematch in Oakland (11/17) and when they host the New York Jets (12/23). The Patriots second appearance on Monday Night Football will also be in December when they travel to Tennessee to tackle the Titans. The Patriots nationally televised games during the 2002 season are listed below:

THE SUPER BOWL RING

After winning the Super Bowl in one of the most dramatic games in the history of the sport, it seemed only fitting that the Patriots chose to commemorate the 2001 season with the most striking championship ring in NFL history.

The Patriots Super Bowl ring features 143 diamonds and is crafted of 14-karat white gold. The ring weighs three ounces and bears the inscription "World Champions."

The top of the ring is encircled with 42 diamonds, representing the team's Super Bowl win in its 42nd year as a franchise. Two large football-shaped diamonds are placed on each side of the ring's face, representing the Patriots two previous trips to the Super Bowl. The Patriots logo is on top of the ring, made from red garnet and blue sapphire, adorned by a Lombardi Trophy fashioned from diamonds and platinum.

The sides of the ring represent elements of the Patriots championship season. On the left side of the ring, the recipient's name and number appear along with an American flag, the Patriots record of 14-5 and the word "TEAM." The right side of the ring features the Super Bowl XXXVI logo, the score of the game, Foxboro Stadium and the letters "U.S.A."

The team was presented with the rings at a red carpet ceremony in Boston on June 9, 2002.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME

The Patriots closed out Foxboro Stadium with a consecutive sellout streak of 82 games, including their 16-13 overtime victory over the Raiders in the playoffs. They tallied a 54-28 record in those games. The streak began the year Robert Kraft purchased the team (1994) and includes preseason, regular season and postseason games and will continue this season at CMGI Field. The final game at Foxboro Stadium was also the Patriots 171st consecutive game that was televised locally. The streak, which began with the 1993 season-finale, includes preseason, postseason and regular season games.

PATRIOTS AMONG TOP ON NFLSHOP.COM

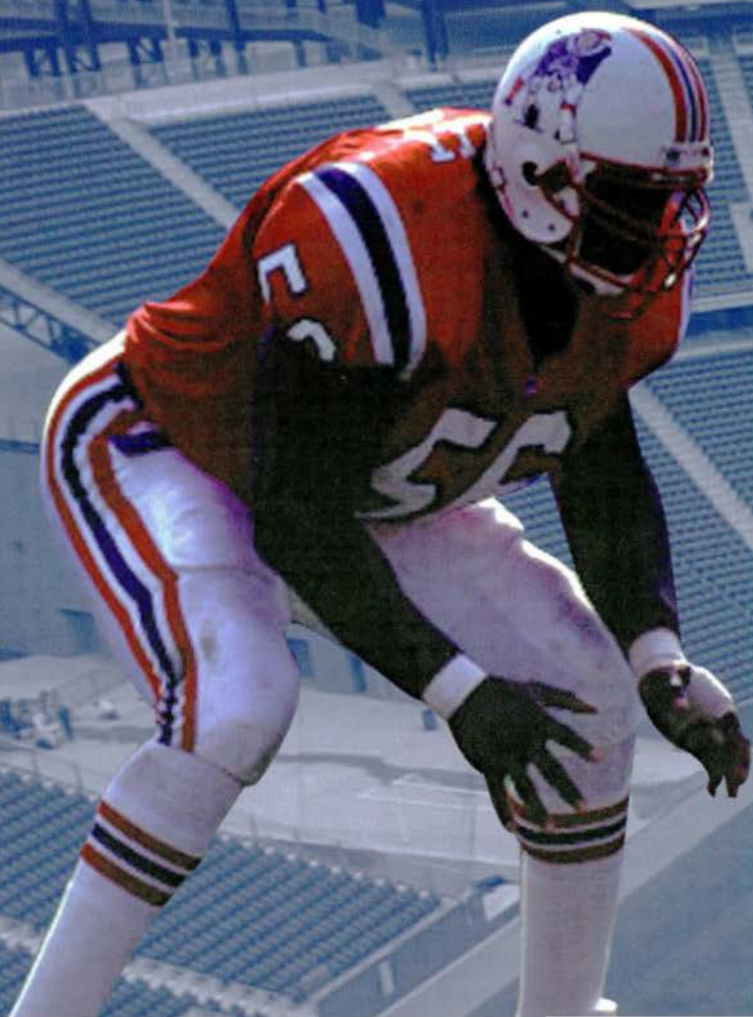

New England Patriots merchandise accounted for the second-most popular selling products among all NFL teams on NFLShop.com from April 2001-March 2002. New England vaulted from the 22nd position in 2000 to the second spot last year. The Patriots helped spur an NFLShop.com record week in sales for the week of Feb. 3-9 as fans purchased $2.2 million of Patriots Super Bowl XXXVI Championship merchandise.

TWO BLOCKED FIELD GOALS

The New England Patriots have blocked two field goals in the same game four times. The first was on Oct. 13, 1968 against Houston when John Charles and Nick Buoniconti blocked two John Wittenborn kicks. The second time was against the NY Jets on Dec. 7, 1975 when Pete Cusick blocked two Pat Leahy field goal attempts. The third time was against the San Francisco 49ers on Oct. 22, 1989 when Darryl Holmes and Kenneth Sims each blocked Mike Cofer field goal attempts. The last time was Dec. 17, 2000 when Chad Eaton blocked two Steve Christie field goal attempts.

LONGEST DRIVES

The Patriots 18-play drive against the Colts on Oct. 22, 2000 tied a Patriots record for plays in a drive. They matched the feat accomplished on Dec. 13, 1981 when they marched 18 plays in 12:55 covering 4 yards with the drive culminating in John Smith's 42-yard field goal. Buffalo won the game at Schaefer Stadium 19-10.

The longest scoring drive by an opponent happened in 2000 against the Indianapolis Colts when they took 22 plays to move 65 yards in 10:19 before Mike Vanderjagt hit a 33-yard field goal. The Patriots won the Oct. 8, 2000 contest by a 24-16 score.

PLAYOFF HISTORY

PATRIOTS PLAYOFF RESULTS

The Patriots have played in 20 playoff games during their 42-year history, including nine over the past six seasons. Their overall record is 10-10. The Patriots made their fourth appearance in a Championship game against St. Louis in Super Bowl XXXVI and defeated the Rams, 20-17, to become Super Bowl Champions for the first time in franchise history. Their other appearances were in 1963 at San Diego (AFL Championship), 1985 vs. Chicago (Super Bowl XX) and 1996 vs. Green Bay (Super Bowl XXXI).

PLAYOFF TIE BREAKERS

The following procedures will be used to break standings ties for postseason playoffs. Note: Tie games count as one-half win and one-half loss for both clubs.

TO BREAK A TIE WITHIN A DIVISION

If, at the end of the regular season, two or more clubs in the same division finish with the best won-lost-tied percentage, the following steps will be taken until a champion is determined:

TWO CLUBS

1. Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games between the clubs.)
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
5. Strength of victory.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
8. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
9. Best net points in common games.
10. Best net points in all games.
11. Best net touchdowns in all games.
12. Coin toss.

THREE OR MORE CLUBS

(Note: If two clubs remain tied after a third club is eliminated during any step, tie-breaker reverts to Step 1 of the two-club format.)

1. Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games among the clubs.)
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
5. Strength of victory.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
8. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
9. Best net points in common games.
10. Best net points in all games.
11. Best net touchdowns in all games.
12. Coin toss.

TO BREAK A TIE FOR THE WILD-CARD TEAM

If it is necessary to break ties to determine the two Wild Card clubs from each conference, the following steps will be taken:

- A. If all the tied clubs are from the same division, apply division tie-breaker.
- B. If the tied clubs are from different divisions, apply the following steps:

TWO CLUBS

1. Head-to-head, if applicable.
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in the games played within the conference.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
4. Strength of victory.

5. Strength of schedule.
6. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
7. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
8. Best net points in conference games.
9. Best net points in all games.
10. Best net touchdowns in all games.
11. Coin toss.

THREE OR MORE CLUBS

1. Apply division tie-breaker to eliminate all but highest ranked club in each division prior to proceeding to Step 2. The original seeding within a division upon application of the division tie-breaker remains the same for all subsequent applications of the procedure that are necessary to identify the Wild Card participants.
2. Head-to-head sweep (apply only if one club has defeated each of the others or one club has lost to each of the others.)
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
5. Strength of victory.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
8. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
9. Best net points in conference games.
10. Best net points in all games.
11. Best net touchdowns in all games.
12. Coin toss.

When the first Wild Card team has been identified, the procedure is repeated to name the second Wild Card (i.e., eliminate all but the highest ranked club in each division prior to proceeding to Step 2.) In situations where three teams from the same division are involved in the procedure, the original seeding of the teams remains the same for subsequent applications of the tie-breaker if the top-ranked team in that division qualifies for a Wild Card berth.

OTHER TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURES

1. Only one club advances to the playoffs in any tie-breaking step. Remaining tied clubs revert to the first step of the applicable division or Wild Card tie-breakers. As an example, if two clubs remain tied in any tie-breaker step after all other clubs have been eliminated, the procedure reverts to Step 1 of the two-club format to determine the winner. When one club wins the tie-breaker, all other clubs revert to Step 1 of the applicable two-club or three-club format.
2. In comparing records against common opponents among tied teams, the best won-lost-tied percentage is the deciding factor since teams may have played an unequal number of games.
3. To determine home-field priority among division titlists, apply Wild Card tie-breakers.
4. To determine home-field priority for Wild Card qualifiers, apply division tie-breakers (if teams are from the same division) or Wild Card tie-breakers (if teams are from different divisions).

GAME NOTES

- The Patriots held Buffalo to only seven yards rushing on 12 attempts (0.6 average). It ranks as the lowest rushing output by a Patriots playoff opponent.
- K Gino Cappelletti converted four of five field goal attempts against the Bills. Each are Patriot single-game playoff records (tied with Tony Franklin).
- The game marked the only time in team playoff history that two receivers gained over 100 yards in one playoff game for the Patriots. Larry Garron caught four passes for 120 yards and Gino Cappelletti caught four passes for 109 yards.

GAME NOTES

- This was the first of four championship games involving the Patriots. (Super Bowls XX following the 1985 season, XXXI following 1996 and XXXVI following 2001.)
- The 610 yards yielded by the Patriots defense still ranks as the highest total ever given up by the Patriots.
- The Patriots committed only one penalty versus the Chargers. It is the lowest single game total in team playoff history (tied with Dec. 28, 1985 at NY Jets).

GAME NOTES

- The game was marred by a controversial roughing the passer call on NT Ray Hamilton. The Patriots had seemingly stopped the Raiders when a Ken Stabler pass on a 3rd and 18 fell incomplete. However, penalty flags were thrown and the Raiders had a first and ten at the Patriot 13. Five plays later Stabler rolled around left end for the winning score.
- The Patriots finished the season 11-3, rebounding from a 3-11 record in 1975.

GAME NOTES

- The Patriots victory marked their third consecutive home playoff win.
- New England held the Dolphins to only three points, the lowest total in Patriots' playoff history (tied with Jan. 5, 1997, vs. Pittsburgh). They also limited Miami's offense to 162 yards, the lowest total in team playoff history.
- New England did not turn the ball over, while forcing Miami into two interceptions and a fumble. One interception was returned 40-yards for a touchdown by LB Todd Collins.

GAME NOTES

- In the final game at Foxboro Stadium, the Patriots rallied from behind for a memorable win on a snow-covered field to advance to the AFC Championship Game.
- Kicker Adam Vinatieri nailed a 45-yard field goal through heavy snow to tie the game and force overtime after the Patriots had trailed 13-3 in the fourth quarter. Vinatieri later kicked a game-winning, 23-yard field goal in the extra period.
- Quarterback Tom Brady set Patriots single-game playoff records for yards passing (312), passing attempts (52) and pass completions (32).

GAME NOTES

- The Patriots claimed their third AFC Championship in their third trip to the championship game (1985, 1996, 2001).
- Wide receiver Troy Brown was involved in the Patriots two special teams touchdowns, scoring the first on a 55-yard punt return and then scooping up a blocked field goal and lateralizing the ball to Antwan Harris, who ran the ball in for another touchdown.
- Quarterback Drew Bledsoe replaced an injured Tom Brady in the second quarter and, in his first game action in five months, threw a touchdown pass to David Patten to put New England firmly in command of the game.

GAME NOTES

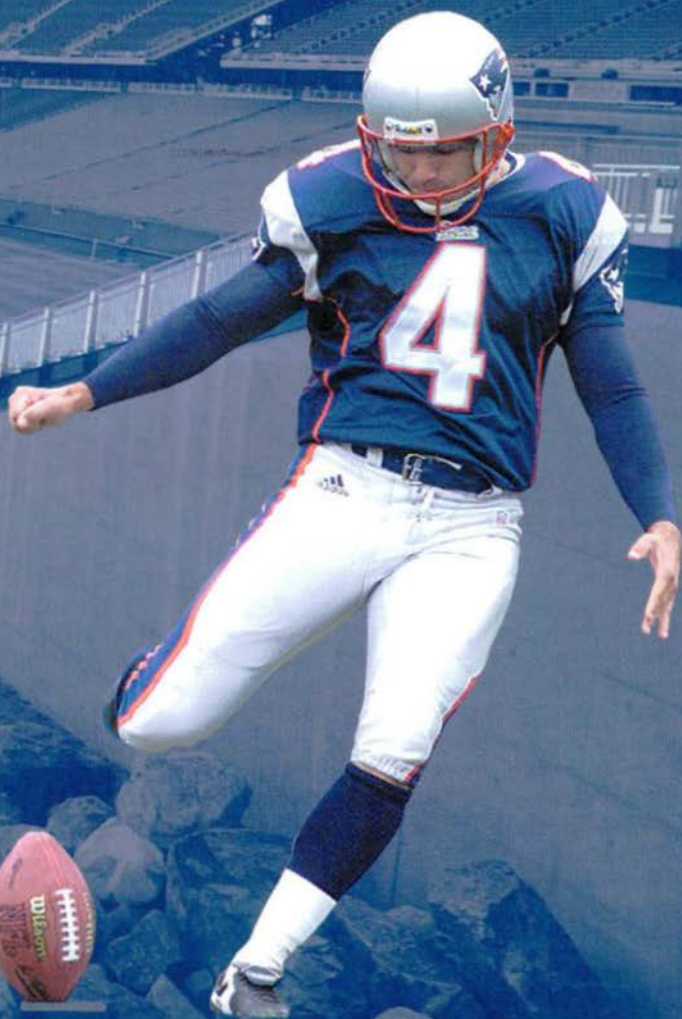

- The Patriots won the first Super Bowl in their 42-year history with their 20-17 win over the Rams.
- Patriots kicker Adam Vinatieri kicked the first last second, game-winning field goal in Super Bowl history as his 48-yard kick sailed through the goalposts as time expired.
- The Patriots defense forced three St. Louis turnovers and converted them into two touchdowns and a field goal.

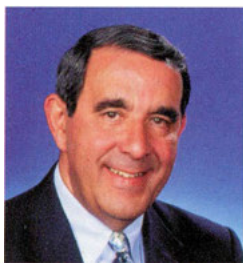

NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS

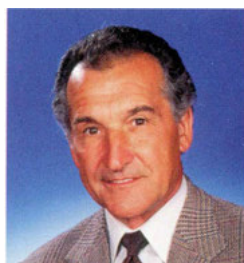

EXTRA POINTS

WBCN's ROCK RADIO NETWORK

Gil Santos

Gino Cappelletti

WBCN 104.1 FM is proud to be the flagship station of two championship teams, both on the field and in the booth. For the eighth consecutive season, Patriots fans throughout New England will enjoy the complete and comprehensive coverage of the Patriots on WBCN's Rock Radio Network, which delivers static-free stereo sound of the NFL's best broadcast team, Gil Santos and Gino Cappelletti.

Santos and Cappelletti provide Patriots fans with in-depth game analysis and complete play-by-play detail of every Patriots game. This year, they will celebrate their 19th season together in the year the Patriots defend their first Super Bowl title in franchise history.

Santos is now in his 26th season as the voice of the Patriots, having covered the team from 1966-79 and again from 1991 to present. The veteran play-by-play broadcaster is also the sports director at WBZ radio.

Cappelletti enters his 22nd season offering his insight and expert analysis of the game. It would be hard to find anyone more knowledgeable on the subject of the Patriots than Cappelletti. He was one of the original members of the Boston Patriots and retired in 1970 after an 11-year all-star career. He is the Patriots all-time leading scorer (1,130 points) and ranks sixth among the Patriots all-time leading receivers (292 career receptions) entering the 2002 season. Following his playing career, he spent three seasons on the Patriots sidelines (1979-81) as an assistant on Ron Erhardt's staff and is in his 22nd year in the broadcast booth, providing game analysis along with Santos (1972-78 and 91-present) and Dale Arnold (1988-90).

Game day coverage on WBCN begins three hours before each game. WBCN sports director Bill Abbate and former Patriots greats Pete Brock and Tim Fox host the pre-game show. The trio also provide a two-hour post-game show that includes exclusive coverage of Coach Bill Belichick's post-game press conference and interviews with Patriots players.

2001 PRESEASON TV NETWORK

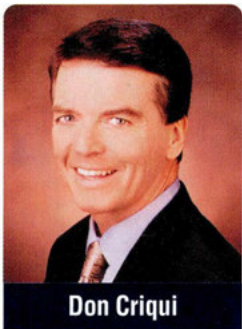

For the eighth straight year, the New England Patriots will team with WCVB-TV, Channel 5 in Boston, to televise each of the Patriots preseason games. The broadcasts will be produced locally by Boston Bureau Productions. The Patriots will once again handle the advertising sales and oversee the production of the telecasts. Veteran CBS broadcaster Don Criqui will provide play-by-play details for the eighth straight preseason. Former NFL head coach and CBS analyst Jerry Glanville will provide color commentary alongside Criqui for the eighth straight preseason. The broadcast tandem will be joined by WCVB sports director Mike Lynch, who will offer his on-field insights and interviews as a sideline reporter.

STAY TUNED

PATRIOTS MONDAY

This season, Sports Radio 850 WEEI will have the exclusive rights to broadcast "Patriots Monday," a program that offers fans unique insight and analysis from Head Coach Bill Belichick and multiple Patriots players, including a weekly exclusive interview with quarterback Tom Brady. WEEI will broadcast "Patriots Monday" live from CMGI Field, kicking off the day with "Dennis & Callahan" at 6:00 a.m., followed by "Dale & Neumy" at 10:00 a.m. and "The Big Show, with Glenn Ordway" wrapping up the day from 2:00 to 6:00 p.m. Tune in from 6:00 to 7:00 p.m. for the best of the day "Instant Replay."

PATRIOTS ALL ACCESS

Saturdays at 11 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. on WCVB in Boston

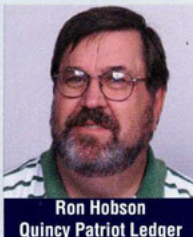

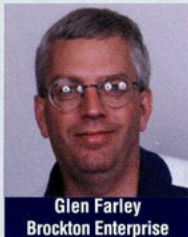

Patriots All Access, an Emmy Award-winning one-hour magazine show, airs weekly throughout the season on WCVB, Channel 5 in Boston. Indicative of its name, Patriots All Access provides viewers exclusive, behind-the-scenes access and in-depth weekly features on Patriots players and personnel. The program is hosted by WCVB sports director Mike Lynch, who features weekly chalk talks with Patriots Head Coach Bill Belichick and an interview with a Patriot "Player of the Week." John Dennis adds a weekly segment with an in-depth player feature. Patriots All Access also offers game previews, reviews and comprehensive analysis of every Patriots game. The program airs on Saturdays at 11:00 a.m. and again at 7:00 p.m. on WCVB in Boston. The program can be seen in its entirety in other markets throughout New England, from Portland to Providence. Check your local listings for times and locations.

PATRIOTS 5TH QUARTER

Immediately after the game, tune in for Patriots Fifth Quarter, the popular post-game show featuring exclusive live coverage of Head Coach Bill Belichick's press conference. Patriots Fifth Quarter also provides in-depth post-game analysis, complete with video highlights and one-on-one player interviews.

PATRIOTS POOL REPORTERS

Veteran beat reporters Glen Farley of the Brockton Enterprise and Ron Hobson of the Quincy Patriot Ledger will serve as the Patriots pool reporters for the upcoming season. In the event that there is the need to get comments from a game official after a game, a pool reporter will be allowed access to ask questions and record comments. The comments will then be distributed by the Pool Reporter to all other media. Farley and Hobson each sit in the first row of the Patriots press box on game days.

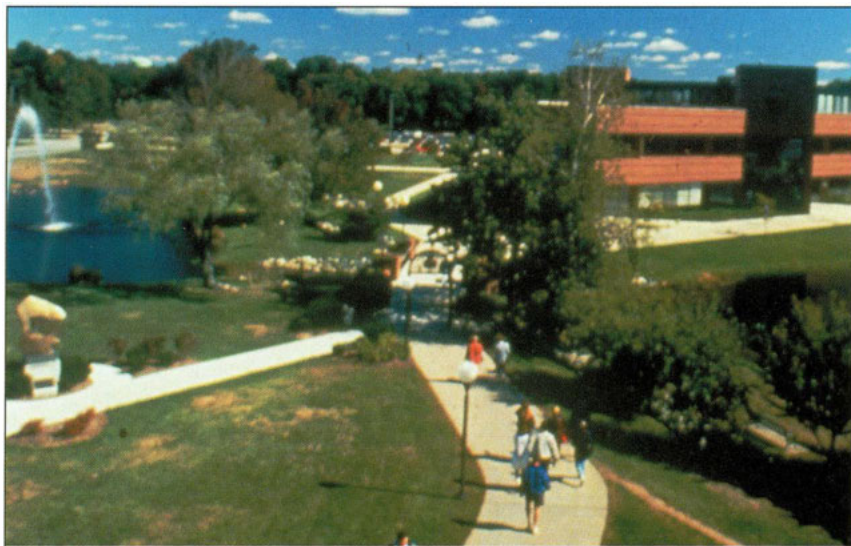

PATRIOTS.COM RADIO

Extending to audiences around the world, www.patriots.com, the official web site of the New England Patriots, also offers weekday programming throughout the season on Patriots.com Radio. From noon until midnight each weekday, Patriots fans can tune in via the Internet to hear candid commentary during Patriots Cafe, a lunch-hour chat with players, coaches, team officials, writers and broadcasters. Patriots.com Radio will also offer press conferences and player interviews throughout the week. "PFW in Progress" is another regular segment, featuring the staff of Patriots Football Weekly, that discusses daily news, notes and anecdotes that they have discovered during their daily coverage of the team.

For the 27th year, the Patriots will use Bryant College as the site of their summer training camp. This prestigious business college, located on a 392-acre campus in close proximity to Providence, Boston, and Worcester, attracts students from 31 states and 43 countries.

Bryant College has a 138-year tradition in higher education offering undergraduate and graduate degrees. State-of-the-art technology, a curriculum that balances business with liberal arts, and an outstanding faculty help students achieve their personal best in life and in business. The college's accreditation by AACSB International—The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business, and the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, demonstrates its commitment to academic excellence. Barron's listed Bryant as one of the "Best Buys" in higher education.

Bryant's academic reputation is enhanced by the resources it provides to support the region's business community. Many businesses utilize the facility for meetings, conferences, and retreats or work with the Executive Development Center for educational and training programs. The John H. Chafee Center for International Business assists organizations with import/export and international trade issues and the college has developed strategic alliances with businesses and government to support small business development and telecommunication advances. New athletic facilities, ample residential accommodations, and prime location have made Bryant College an attractive site for the Patriots to continue their training camp.

For more information about Bryant College, call (401) 232-6000; or visit their web site at www.bryant.edu.

The Patriots Cheerleaders are doing more than ever to support the New England Patriots organization. The 40 women carefully selected from the 325 hopefuls will add life to the sidelines and to the community for the 2002 season. These talented and beautiful women have made a difference in the community through their community service. In addition to supporting charitable organizations throughout New England, members of the squad also traveled overseas as part of the Citizen Patriot Tour, visiting U.S. Military Troops in Germany, Italy, Bosnia, Kosovo and Macedonia.

In addition to their charitable work, the Patriots Cheerleaders also make hundreds of personal appearances annually for local businesses. The ladies have made appearances in all six New England states as well as New York, New Jersey, New Orleans, Florida, Texas, Hawaii, the Grand Bahama Islands, Mexico City and Japan.

For Patriots Cheerleaders and Pat Patriot appearance rates and guidelines, or for information on the Junior Patriots Cheerleaders program, please contact Tracy Sormanti at (508)384-9101.

The Patriots and the Community: A Winning Team

THE NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS CHARITABLE FOUNDATION

The New England Patriots Charitable Foundation is the vehicle through which the Patriots and the Revolution support charitable and philanthropic organizations throughout New England. This support comes in the form of direct grants and in-kind donations of tickets and Patriots memorabilia used as auction/raffle items at charity fundraisers.

The New England Patriots Charitable Foundation, established shortly after Robert Kraft purchased the team in 1994, is a legal 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. The Pro Bowl Cornerback Ty Law visits donors and patients at the Robert K. Kraft Family Blood Donor Center in Boston. Law donated $75,000 to the hospital's minority faculty development program.

Patriots owner Robert Kraft hosted a behind-the-scenes tour of CMGI Field last fall for members of the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston. Each season, the Patriots donate tickets for each home game to the Boys and Girls Clubs.

Foundation underscores the Kraft family's deep commitment to charitable activities in this community. Its primary goal is to support the youth and families of the New England region by assisting programs that foster cultural diversity, education, family and health. The Foundation has taken special interest in youth programs that encourage their growth, creativity, development of character, and education.

Over the past eight years, the Foundation has made donations to thousands of nonprofit organizations in New England. It has also partnered with several community groups, including the Boys and Girls Clubs of Offensive linemen Joe Andruzzi and Damien Woody joined other Patriots and 200 inner-city children for the Salvation Army's Children's Holiday Party. The Patriots helped provide presents to each child in attendance.

Boston; the ROSE (Regaining One's Self-Esteem) Fund; Jane Doe, Inc.; Northeastern University's Center for the Study of Sport in Society; and, most recently, the Massachusetts 9/11 Fund. The Foundation's holiday programs with Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries and the Salvation Army provide Thanksgiving food baskets and toys for hundreds of children and families during the holiday season. Through the Patriots Charitable Ticket Program, the Foundation also donates Patriots tickets to the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Boston so hundreds of youths can attend each game the Patriots play in Foxborough.

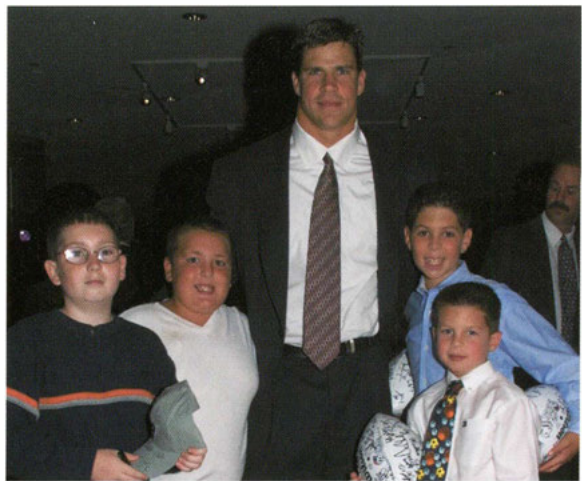

The Foundation also supports numerous health care initiatives including the Robert K. Kraft Family Blood Donor Center at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and the Center For Compassionate Care at Northwestern University as well a variety of educational institutions.

This year, the Foundation has teamed up with the Jordan Boys & Girls Club of Chelsea to support the Club's focus on the educational, emotional, physical and social development of inner-city youth. During the coming seasons, the Foundation plans to expand its support for youth football, and promote programs that encourage good sportsmanship, reduce violence and educate the public about crucial health issues.

Fundraisers for the Foundation include an annual golf tournament with Patriots players, coaches and staff and a Kickoff Gala, which this year will be held at the team's new home at CMGI Field. More information and guidelines for submitting donation requests is available on the team's official website, www.patriots.com.

Linebacker Ted Johnson greets youngsters at the annual Patriots Kickoff Gala, an event that raises funds for the Patriots Charitable Foundation.

READ ALL ABOUT IT!!

Patriots fans can follow their favorite team all year long with a subscription to Patriots Football Weekly - the official newspaper of the New England Patriots. The nation's only full-color football newspaper, Patriots Football Weekly is published weekly throughout the season and monthly during the offseason and provides readers with exclusive insight to the New England Patriots. Each issue of Patriots Football Weekly is loaded with the latest news, game previews and reviews, feature stories, detailed statistics, contests and full-color posters.

Readers will also enjoy weekly interviews with Head Coach Bill Belichick and columns by national football writers Gordon Forbes of USA Today and Paul Domowitch of the Philadelphia Daily News. All that is in addition to the behind-the-scenes information PFW readers have grown accustomed to reading each week. To subscribe to Patriots Football Weekly, call 1-800-494-PATS. All subscribers receive a free copy of the official 2002 Patriots Yearbook.

Additionally, PFW subscribers have exclusive access to the paper's online site, www.pfwonline.com.

PATRIOTS.COM AMONG TOP SITES

The New England Patriots web site, www.patriots.com ranked fifth among 121 professional sport team web sites in a study conducted by Street and Smith's SportsBusiness Journal with the graduate Sports Communication class at the University of Massachusetts. Nine of the top 10 rated team sites were from the National Football League.

The study, rating each team on content; design/technical, commerce and interactivity, was done during a six-week period (April 1-May 8, 2002) when traffic was high for each of the sites.

Rank	Teams	League

PATRIOTS ON THE INTERNET

During the 2002 season, the Patriots will once again offer one of the most advanced and exciting Web sites in all of sports. Now in its eighth season, fans worldwide will enjoy more features than ever on Patriots.com. All the features, like bulletin boards, chat rooms and daily news updates, will remain but there's much more...

Patriots Video News is Patriots fans' digital eyes and ears now in its sixth season. Watch daily video updates with player interviews, in-depth analysis and action-packed video, plus Tuesday Morning Quarterback -- an exclusive game analysis show with Patriots great Steve Grogan. It picks up where the newspapers and the TV reports leave off. Watch a new edition of Patriots Video News every Monday through Friday during the season and get your late-breaking Patriots information direct-to-digital video show.

Patriots.com Radio continues in 2002. Every Monday through Friday beginning in September, six hours of original programming will be broadcast beginning at noon (EST). Fans will be able to interact with hosts and guest via phone and e-mail. Replays of the programming will be played until midnight every weekday.

Live press conferences - During the season, watch live coverage of all Patriots press conferences, including Head Coach Bill Belichick's daily visits with the media, as well as post-game pressers straight from the Patriots locker room. Also available in the Patriots Media Center are nearly 3000 Patriots images and audio and video clips.

Patriots Fantasy Forecast is back for 2002. This weekly game tests fans' knowledge of the Patriots and its upcoming opponent and offers prizes for top scorers. Fantasy Forecast can also be played on any cell phone with Internet access.

The Patriots Cheerleader section has expanded with more video and pictures of the NFL's most talented squad. A site dedicated to Patriots Alumni has been expanded, allowing fans to keep in touch with their favorite past Patriots.

The Patriots Pro Shop has thousands of items and features the latest Patriots merchandise. The Patriots auctions site offers great bargains on Patriots merchandise, including game worn items and autographed memorabilia. The proceeds of signed merchandise go directly to the Patriots Charitable Foundation. Get there either through www.patriots.com or directly at www.proteamauctions.com.

That's only a short list of the features found on Patriots.com. Visit today for constant updates.
